Employees Banquated

An event of a very pleasant nature to those concerned took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McFarland on Thursday evening of last week, 27th December, 1900, when the entire staff of the retiring firm of Messrs. McFarland & Company were tendered a banquet.

Twenty-seven were gathered around the festive board, viz., Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Biggar, Mrs. Morden, Miss Perdue, Miss Gillespie, Miss Mullin, Miss A. Wright, Miss J. Beattie, Miss Smith, Miss Tuck, Miss Burnside, and Messrs. W. L. McFarland, G. F. McFarland, W. A. Tuck. Geo. Richards, Geo. Potts, W. J. Birchall, W. J. Clover, Harry Hale, A. W. Foster, F. C. Milner J. H. Lumb Geo. Bowers, E. Biggar, A. Smith and Geo. Wilson.

The supper was magnificently prepared and the table was beautifully decorated with flowers, and numerous candles added to the lustre and heightened the effect.

The toast list was short, but elicited some interesting remarks. "Host and hostess" was proposed by Mr. Biggar, and responded to by Mr.

McFarland. "The ladies" was proposed by Mr. Biggar, and was responded to by Mr. Tuck and G. F. McFarland.

"The staff" was proposed by Mr McFarland, and was responded to by Mr. Tuck and R. D. Biggar.

Supper being concluded the company adjourned to the parlor where the remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent. Mrs. Morden presided at the piano with her usual grace and also rendered a beautiful vocal solo. Mr. Frank McFarland centributed a number of vocal solos and also several accomplished mandolin selections. The phonograph was requisitioned and added to the excellence of the music.

The evening's events were not conconcluded, however, and a pleasant surprise was sprung on Mr. McFarland. Mr. Biggar, who has been connected with the firm for thirty-five years as book-keeper, read an address from the employees, and Mr. Richards, whose time of service dates back twenty-five years, presented him with a group picture, including a photo of each employee surrounding a large photo of

Mr. McFarland, in replying, spoke at some length in a way that impressed his listeners. He greatly appreciated the beautiful address, and the group picture would remind him of the event as nothing else would, for although he was sure he would not lorget any of them, the picture would assist in preventing hem from doing so. He then spoke of his early experiences. He got his first thition in the mercantile life in Belleville and his experience included parcel boy, salesman, book-keeper dren's hair cutting. A call solicited, and overseer. He had come to Mark-Agent Rolston Steam Laundry. energies to the creating of a business that would be an honor to himself and rich and poor. An incident Mr. Mc- week. Farland described will serve to illustrate his adaptability and the number of departments he had under his control at once. He had sold a lady a hat, one he had trimmed himself, and shortly after another lady came to him and asked him to order another from Torouto of the same design. The same evening he got the necessary materials together and by twelve o'clock had the latest New York styles before him with all its attractiveness. The latter part of his address was tempered with advice to young men, and coming from a man of his experience, all admitted its soundness. He told them to never be above their occupation, no matter how humble, so long as it was honest. The first thing he was set to do on going to work was to wash the counters with soap and water. and he said he would never forget the humiliation he suffered. One of the greatest drawbacks to any young man's success was strong drink, and said ha could not be too strong on that point. He had to thank his assistants for a great deal of the success that had attended him. Clerks were the building up or the tearing down of any business, and he had always tried to have clerks who had his interests at heart.

It was sometimes said that the time for opportunities was passed. wasn't so. Canada, perhaps, more than any other country, presented countless opportunities, and the young man who was honest and faithful in his endeavors was almost certain to suctood. There were no fairer fields than were to be found in our own country, which is just in its infancy, and with its limitless resources in forest, mine and soik was certain to take its place among the strongest and richest na tions of the future,

A Doep Mystery It is a mystery why women endure backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Phebe Cherley of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dross myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cared me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework," It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Closing Exercises

On Friday morning, December the 21st, a very pleasant time was spent at S. S No. 6, Holland, the object of the gathering being to distribute the presents to the number of seventy-five, among the children of the school. After an hour spent in songs and recitations by the pupils and speeches by the trustees, the retiring teacher, Miss K. McCormack, who has taught in the school for the past three years was presented with a handsome dinner-set and the following address: To MINE MCCORMACK.
