 Mr. W. J. Seabrook had the misfortune to lose a valuable cow last week.
 Trooper McArthur, of Daywood, Sydenham, was a caller on his aunt, Mrs. Jas. Campbell, of this place, on Saturday last.

A most interesting and happy event took place at the residence of Mrs. Jas.
 Delere, of this place, on Tuesday evening, being the marriage of her youngest daughter, Ethel, to Mr.
 Martin Cathrae, a prosperous young farmer of Sydenham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W.
 Reynolds in the presence of the near relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was charmingly attired in a cream costume trimmed with cream chiffon and satin. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Stella Delere, who was becomingly attired in a white organdie, trimmed with lace and mauve ribbon. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Jas.
 Cathrae. As the bridal party entered the room, Miss Althea Barker, niece of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march with exquisite taste. After partaking of a sumptuous repast and spending a few hours in social intercourse the young couple left for their future home. Their many friends join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Mr. Tye and Miss Street, of Oran-Sound, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Olmstead on Sunday last.
 Miss Maud Delere returned on Monday to the City after a three weeks holiday with friends in our burg.

 the Methodist church here last Sunday morning and evening.
 It was Missionary day and the creditable because of the organ. The pastor, Rev. Wm.

 Railroad employees were somewhat started by a rumour that is going its usual rounds, that a new order would be issued regarding how men should conduct themselves on and off duty. Over on the Chicago Great Western a notice has been posted up prohibiting the use of intoxicating liquors in any form or at any time by their employes.
 This notice prohibits them from entering saloons, or using liquors and the penalty is instant dismissal. The order applies to all employes alike. It is said the rule will be adopted by the Grand Trunk. It is, however, understood that the Grand Trunk have the rule in force, or at least it is understood that they will not tolerate the use of liquor among their employes.

 The snowplow proceeded it pushed by three engines and it came to grief at day late. It is expected the trains will

CHANGE IN BUSINESS
NEW FIRM
McFARLAND, STAFFORD & CO.
MARKDALE.

F. M. Stafford having been admitted as a partner, and W. J. McFarland withdrawing from active business life in Markdale, the old and long established firm of McFarland & Co. will in the future be styled and known as McFarland, Stafford & Co.

The new firm solicits a continuance of the patronage and good will extended to Messrs. McFarland & Co. for upwards of forty years.

In making our bow to the Public as a new firm we hope by square dealing, energy, ample capital and a thorough knowledge of business, to not only retain but increase and expand the volume of business that has been enjoyed by the old firm. That our efforts will be seconded by the buying public we will endeavor to conduct our business on the lines of the best value for the least money, and with every purchase made in our establishment will go a guarantee that your money will be refunded if you are not satisfied. All goods marked in plain figures and one price to all will be our motto.

Commencing with a new, clean stock bought for spot cash in the best markets in the world we feel sure we are in a position to sell all lines of merchandise at prices that cannot be beat by any firm doing business in Canada.

This week we will put in stock some 30 odd cases of British and Foreign goods imported direct from Messrs. Rylands & Sons, Manchester, England. This firm is the largest wholesale manufacturing dry goods firm in the world.

Last week we marked off and put in stock over 40 cases consisting of Canadian Staples, Clothing, Gents' Felt Hats, Boots and Shoes, and Millinery, and have now ready for your inspection the largest and best assorted stock of dependable merchandise ever opened out in Markdale.

We extend a courteous invitation to the citizens of Markdale and surrounding country to visit our store and prove our claims to your patronage by an unprejudiced and critical inspection of our stock.
 We expect no one to give us a dollar's worth of trade unless they see that their interests are advanced by so doing. Asking for your patronage on the promise that you will certainly be benefitted thereby, we remain,
 YOURS TRULY,
McFARLAND, STAFFORD & CO.

N.B.—In retiring from active business in Markdale where I have been upwards of forty years I return to my very numerous patrons and those friends who have stood by me this time my warmest thanks and good wishes for their continued prosperity, and I cordially invite them to extend their patronage and good wishes to my successors, McFarland, Stafford & Co., who feel certain will do their utmost to retain the confidence I have so long enjoyed. I will take another opportunity at an early date to send you my farewell greetings. Yours faithfully, W. J. McFARLAND.

A Nurse's Nobility.
 She imparts priceless information to her fellow mortals.

Miss L. Slean, a widely known professional nurse, publishes the following letter, which will be read by the undersigned, on the 10-day contending against difficulties such as she has overcome. Miss Slean says:
 "I desire to volunteer the following information: My duty as a nurse is very exacting and some time ago I became very greatly run down. I would get dizzy spells with palpitation of the heart, on the least exertion. My blood became thin and watery, and I was utterly unable to perform my duties.
 My friends became alarmed and a physician was called in, but, though following all his directions I did not improve. A friend who called on me suggested that I should try Dr. Arnold's Toxin Pills, which I did and I can truthfully assure you that I am thankful I did so, as I am my old self again, and feel better than I have felt for many a long day.
 This is a frank, truthful and candid statement. I never give a testimonial before, but consider I am doing right by sending you this. I can get plenty of them from friends who have used your pills, and I will be glad to answer all questions relative to my case." Yours sincerely,
 Lillie Slean,
 100 Tecumseh St., Toronto.
