Easter at Christ Church. The services at Christ Church on Caster Day were very attractive and inspiring. A few of the ladies of the last week. congregation had decorated the church in a most becoming manner with white festoons and trailing vines, out and potted flowers being much in evidence. Messrs. McFarland, Stafford & Co. kindly lent the Easter floral bell from their millinery department, which was suspended in the chancel arch and added very much to the beauty of the decorations in the church. The choral portion of the services, under the experienced leadership of Mr. J. H. Dundas, was rendered in a manner at once appropriate to the Festival of Easter and were listened to most attentively. The congregations were unusually large.
