find

had thout

eru-

put

throughout the city and suburbs for

"Ah! We are likely to to have Again the butler departed, and

figure in coaching livery. His hat

and coat were gone and his breeches

"Stand him over there opposite ordered, while the man looked more

"Now. Thompson," said Wetherell, looking sternly at him. what

But the man only groaned. Seeing gave it to him he drank it eagerly.

"It wasnit my fault, sir. If I'd

It seemed to sharpen his wits, for he let them do anything to hurt the young lady. But they was too cun-

"Be more explicit, sir!" said Wetherell sternly. "Don't stand there whining, but tell your story straight-forwardly and at once."

The Roor wretch pulled himself, to-

"It was in this way, sir," he began.

"Last week I was introduced by b went on to say that he'd 'eard a lot

take the billet of manager at three undred a year? Anyway, as he said,

'Don't be in a 'urry to decide; take

ed me inside to take a drink.

post, a sixpence, and he 'eld the 'orse,

way into a private room at the end

o' rum.' says I. Then he orders a

'e says, "Ullo! Somebody listenin' at door, but there was nobody there, so

Thompson, and success to the farm.

We both drank it an' went on talkin'

what to do. Then I dropped off, an'

after that I don't remember nothin'

of what 'appened till I woke up in "The whole thing is as plain as daylight," cried . Wetherell bitterly.

spiracy, having me for its victim.

Oh, my girlie! My poor little girlie!

What has my obstinacy brought you

tunate coachman:

I was mistaken.

Seeing the old man in this state

"Pull yourself together, Thompson, and try and tell me as correctly as you can what this friend of yours was

I fully expected to hear him give an exact description of the man who

"I don't know, sir," said Thompson, "as I could rightly tell you, my

he had followed us from Melbourne, but

"It is a thoroughly organized con-fram over eard." With that he leads the ell of the passage and shuts the door.

of was brought we set talkin of the ice. place he'd thought o' takin' an' the

give me your decision.'

that in his present state he could say

have you got to say for yourself?"

with nothing, I went across to the table

she were stained with mud; while a large

the Ins master surveyed him with un-

The policemen did las they mitigated disgust.

dead than alive ...

answered instantly:

nin' for me, sir.'

ght ing to Mr. Wetherell, he said:

CHAPTER II. Gonting If his Excellency though any at the same time more men are out thing be did not give utter to looking for the real Lord Beckenbain, it, and Mr. Wetherell's carry is be. We are also trying to find your ing at the door we went distrib without another word. As green driven Miss Wetherell away from else; Government House, and also the carped into it Mr. Wetherell to riage, which is certain to be found bethe coachman:

"Home, and as fast as you Next moment we were beir ed down the drive at a pace any other time I should have dangerous. Throughout the new door, and they have brought Thompwe sat almost silent, wrapp our son home, sir." anxietles and forebodings, half most against hope that whe rived at Potts Point we shall Phyllis awaiting us, there. It last we turned into the ground. reaching the house I sprang and him up here, instantly!" rang the bell, then I went help my companion to alig butler opened the door and the steps to take the rugs weth- policemen entered the room superell stopped him almost wrily, porting between them a miserable crying;

"Where is your mistress? come home?"

The expression of surpris man's face told me, beford opts time to utter a word, that were not to be realized. "Miss Phyllis, cir?" the

Why, she's at the ball hall fernment .'Ouse." Wetherell turned from hi deep sigh, and taking my went heavily up the steps into

"Come to say study, Mr. It saras." he said, "and let me con you. For God's sake don't light me and mixed him a glass of grog. When in my hour of need!" You need have no fear hat.

Panswered. "If it is bad think what it is for me." we went upstairs together Reaching his study, Mr. led the way in and sai do On a side table I noticed a dec Str. of whisky and some glasses. asking permission I went them and poured out a stiff bobler for him.

"Drink this," I said; "it you together a little; remen will want all your strengt ar the gether and did his best. work that like before us.' Like a child he did as, he will ed, and then sank back into

"In the first place, then, soon . after his arrival in the cob your daughter get to know the Beckenham?"

"Three days," he answere At a dance, dinner party or what?" "At none of these thing young man, it appears, had. daughter in the stree been struck with her beaut one of the aides-de-damp at ment House, with whom well intimate terms, to bring him At the time. Premember, I it a particularly, friendly as "I don't, doubt it," I ar Well that, I think, should te 'And what is that?"

That his instructions were to know your daughter with But what could his reason been, do you think?" Ah, that I cannot, tell y yet. Now you must pardon am going to say; do you think serious in his intentions re Phyllis-I mehn your daughte Perfectly, as far as I coul His desire, he said, was, if she have him, to be allowed to mid on his twenty-first birthday would be next week, and in a permission he showed me a call from his father."

"A forgery, I don't doubt. then, the only construction I upon it is that the arrival of the Beckenham in Sydney must frightened | him, thus compell gang to resort to other med obtaining possession of her a Now our next business must find out how that dastardly d accomplished. May I ring the least the door. I eard a step. Jump up and have up the coachman where two and look. I got up and ran to the your daughter to the ball." "By all means. Please act ir this is is talking. Then he says, takin up his way in this matter as if this is glass, "Ere's to your 'calth, Mr.

I rang the bell, and when the appeared to answer, it Mr. till I felt that sleepy I didn't know exell instructed him to find the an I wanted and send him up. T vant left the room again, a five minutes we awaited his real ance in silence. When he, did back he said, "Thompson ha not me by the shoulder. come home yet, sir." Not come home yet!; Will nearly eleven o'clock! Send i directly he arrives. Hark! bell is that?" Front door, sir "

"Go down and answer it the if it should be the Commission Police show him up here at As it turned out it was new Commissioner of Police, but a line spector.

"Good evening," said Mr. "You have come from G ment House, I presume?" "Exactly so, sir," replied the execution of the exactly so, sir," replied the execution of the exactly set of the exactly so, sir, "replied the exactly so, sir," replied the exactly so, spector. some particulars and then sent to you."

You know the nature of

His Excellency informed us 'And what steps have you to "Well, sir, to begin with, well

given orders for a thorough an'afcet, a sort o' what they WORK death's 'ead complexion; 'is 'air black as soot, an' so was 'is eyes, hey sparkled like, two diamonds

A CORRESPONDENT SAYS WAR IS Do you remember noticing if he had a curious gold ring on his little finger, like a snake?" He had, sir, with two eyes made of some black stone. That's just as true as you're born.'

"Then it was Nikola," I cried in ar cutburst of astonishment, "and he followed us to Australia after all!" Wetherell gave a deep, sigh conchinan, who was supposed to have was more like a groun than anything driven Miss . Wetherell away from else; then he became suddenly a new

"Mr Inspector," he cried to the police officer, "that man, or traces of fore very long.". police officer, "that man, or traces of the had hardly finished speaking him, must be found before daylight. before there was another loud ring I know him, and he is as slippery as at the bell, and presently the butler an cel; if you lose a minute he'll be at entered the room once more. Crossthrough your fingers."

"One moment first," I cried. "Tell me this. Thompson; when you drove up to the Canary Bird Hotel where did you say this man was standing"? "In the verandah, sir."
"Hud he his hat on?" ar- little light thrown upon the matter

now. Let them bring him up here, "Yes, sir." "And then you went towards the "He's not in a very nice state, sir."
"Never mind that. Let them bring bar, but it was crowded, so he took to a private room?" 'Yes, sir."

"And once there he began giving few moments later heavy footsteps you the details of this farm he pro-The ascended the stairs and approached posed starting. Did he work out any nded the study door. Then two stalwart figures on paper?" Yes, sir-

"On what?"

"Oh a letter or envelope; I'm not certain which." Which of course he took from bruise totally obscured his left eye. pocket?" "Yes, sir." 'Very good," I said. Then turning to the police officer, Now. Mr. Inme," said Mr. Wetherell pointing to spector, shall we be off to the Canary ways than one, Time was when althe side of the room furthest from the Bird you wish it, sir. In the thean-I'll send instructions back by these men to the different stations. Before breakfast time we must have the man who held the horse in our

> "You don't know him, I suppose?"
> I asked Thompson.
> "No, sir: but I've seen him bene answered,

"III's a Sydney fellow, then?" "Oh yes, sir." "Then there should be no difficulty n catching him. Now let us be go only ha known what their game was us, but hard though it was to stop him I eventually succeeded in dis-suading him from such a course. "But you will let me know directly you discover anything, won't you. Mr.

house. Hailing a passing cab we business, with its consequent danger, happen. The liens had destroyed one of March, jumped into it and told the driver to one class or portion of their peo- hut, and partly ruined two more, not the White friend of mine to as nice a spoken about me, and thought I was just the til we had pealed the byll twice that we succeeded in producing any sign of life. Then the landlord, half did man for his money. Well, we got tham more and more friendly till the other of life. Then the land a candle in his dressed, carrying a candle in his he'd settled on a farm a bit out in hand, came, downstairs and called out enic, the country, and was going to sign to know who was there and what the agreement, as he called it, for to we wanted. My companion immediately said "Police," and in answer to that magic word the door was unrent it next day. He was goin to start a stud farm and trainin' establishment combined, and would 1 barre

"Good-evening, Mr. Bartrell," said the inspector politely. "May we come in for a moment on business?" your time and think it over. Meet me at the Canary Bird 'Otel on Thurs-"Certainly, Mr. Inspector," said the landler... who evidently knew my day night, that's to-night, sir, and companion. "But isn't this rather a late hour for a call. I hope there is Well, sir, I drove Miss Wetherell to Government nothing the matter?"

Ouse, sir, according to orders, and "No hing much," returned the Inthen, comin ome went round by the spector; "only we want to make a Canary Bird to give 'im my answes. few inquiries about a man who was thinkin no arm could ever come of here to-night, and for whom we are it. When I drove up he was standfooking."

in at the door smoking his cigar, an "If that is so I'm afraid I must call bein' an affable sort of fellow, invitmy barman. I was not in the bar don't like to leave the box, I said go and bring him down. In the mean-'Oh, never mind your herse,' says he. t I Oh, never mind your herse,' says he was "Ere's a man as will stand by it for ling five minutes." He gave a respectime make yourselves comfertable." He left us to kick our heels in the hall while he went upstairs again. In able lookin' chap, alongside the lampabout ten minutes, and just as my all-consuming impatience was wellould so in I went. When, we got inside I nigh getting the better of me, he rewas for goin' to the bar, but 'e says, turned, bringing with him the sleepy No. This is, an important business barman. f of matter, and we don't want to be

"These gentlemen want some information about a man who was here to-night," the landlord said by way of introduction. "Perhaps you can What's yours? siys he. 'Anobbler give i?"

."What was he like, sir?"\ asked the barman of the Inspector ave nobbler of rum for me and a nobbler the of whisky for 'imself.' And when it The latter, however, turned to me "Tall, slim, with a sallow complex-I said, "black hair and very orses he was goin' to buy, an' then dark restless eyes. He came in here with the Hon. Sylvester Wetherell's coachman.' The man seemed to recollect him a

To be Continued.

AN EARLY RISING NATION.

The French are much more early-rising people than the English. At an hour when London is still slumbering, Paris is already begun to stir. At 5 the Domain, without my hat and a.m., the "marchand de vin" takes coat, and found a policeman shakin' down his shutters and lights his gas, to catch the workman on, his way to his work, and supply him with the dram which supplements or takes the place of his morning cafe. The bakers and the milkmen are the next to open. The generality of shops open about 8 a.m. Early omnibuses at special fares for workmen begin to at six. An old French very nearly broke me down, but I proverb the counterpart of our "Earmastered myself with an effort and ly to bed," etc., is, "Se lever a six, se addressed a question to the unfor-coucher a dix." These hours apply mastered myself with an effort and pretty nearly amongst all classes.

VALUE OF LONDON LAND.

As an instance of the great increase in the value of land in London it is mentioned that the ground-rent of the Athenseum Club, on the approaching expiration of the lease will be raised son, "as I could rightly tell you, my from £500 a year to £1,800 a year; mind being still a bit dizzy-like. He was tall, but not by any manner of may have to pay £4,000 a year ground-

GREAT DEMOCRATIZER.

Rand Englishmen Must Be Ready to Fight or Starve-A Motley Force-To Embrace * Every British Subject in the District. A former member of Remington's Scouts in South Africa writes to the London Graphic from Johannesburg

as follows: After eight months of British occupation and military government, we do not appear to be much "for-'rarder" as far as the resumption of our ordinary overyday duties and business is concerned. The streets likeep their bare and descrited appearance; the Reef is still silent; and we still wait and hope. News of any description is a minus quantity; rns and rumours furnish some subjects for conversation, but as the home papers are our only authoritative sources of information, and as we only get them three weeks after publication, the news is somewhat

Were it not for the "Rand Rifles" we should be altogether without something to talk about. The English population of the Rand are armed men at last. In place of the aforetime "Johannesburg Vrywilligers" and "Zarps," we now have this appropriately named corps. It affords food for reflection in more most every one but an Englishman could swagger down Commissioner of trees.

WITH RIFLE AND BANDOLIER, or you are unable to get the wherewithal to keep yourself alive. The ed among the Boers is their carrying lices of the wattles. I give my promise and then, account of this principle. We do not see Each instant I expected the structor them leaving the fighting part of the ture to collapse. Luckily this did not of the Royal Halling a passing cash we have a first to the fighting part of th

> A ROUGH JOURNEY. He must help to guard his own skin, Needless to say, some "tried it on,"

with his rifle. well known bank manager here who and climbed another tree as fast as thought that acting the "Tommy" his legs would ship. was rather infra dig. He made a mistake in his drill one morning and the sergeant pulled him up. Recounting this afterwards to some chum's, in a very disconsolate tone of voice he remarked: "I wouldn't have minded a this evening. If you'll excuse me I'll bit, but there was a cabby hext to me, and he even had his badge on."
Drill starts at Za.m., and at that time you can see I sorts and conditions of men rolling up dressed in time you can see al sorts and conditions of men rolling up dressed in dreadful. Do you wash your face in Alaster John flannels and sweaters. They are not the middle of the day? allowed to wear uniforms unless called out for duty. It has been a problem with many

HOW TO GET INTO THEIR KHAKI. It is alleged that one gallant R. R., whose girth is above the standard of the Ordnance Departments but who has a very buxom cook, handed his little one, do you really never wash in" for him. Another was compelled o cut a V, and to take up the slack ith a small rope. Whether there will ever be any great demand for the services of this force remains to. be seen. Riflemen are not made in a hurry, and before they will be much use considerable practice at the butts and elsewhere will be essential, Johannesburgers must always have their jokes, even at their own ex-The yarn goes that when a squad went to the targets the other day to have their capabilities as marksmen tested the first range of 500 yards was negotiated without any damage being done to the target; at 400 yards, the same; at 200, ditto. At last the n.c.o. in charge gave the order "Fix bayonets and lit the thing somehow."

In case of an alarm, the signal is given by blowing a succession of triple toots on the mine whistles or tooters, when every Rand rifleman is supposed to make straight to his allotted post, and all foreigners and civilians are

ORDERED TO GET INDOORS. wherever they may be, and stop there till permission to leave is given, on the pain of being shot by the troops. This creates a certain problem. If A. B. is a mile from home when the alarm is sounded he must slip into the first convenient house and stop there till he gets leave to get out. may give rise to some very amusing Gillertian situations, which l' needn't enlarge upon. Some face tious youths are already "prospecting" for convenient refuges. Patrols and pickets of the R. R. have already taken up the duties of some of the & Co., Toronto. regulars, thus liberating men for was tall, but not by any manner of may have to pay £4,000 a year ground-more active ervice, and this alone is means big made; he had very small rent instead of £500, as at present. sufficient to justify the creation of the corps. There are three classes or sections: Mounted, bicyclists and Previous to Samuel ti: There Were Pire foot-sloggers, and, as every British subject who gels back to the Rand is compelled, under the before men-tioned disabilities, to join, there is Previous di le monai ha ho reige, as Edward VII England had six Kinge every probability that the R. R. will. some day number many thousand

IN COMPANY WITH LIONS.

Bensts In Africa.

Hunter's Experience With the King of

Some people must hold life cheaply or an adventure like that recounted who would was embire in a crusade by the author of "Sports in East he was in the Hely I ad when he Central Africa;" would hardly be father, Henry II., lied. listed mole risked. The author, ill with fever, was in a little settlement of blacks. Hearin a little settlement of blacks. Hearing that lions were in the neighboring that lions were in the neighboring that lions were in the neighboring that lions were in the neighborhood, he insisted upon having the carcass of a boar placed as bait not far from his hut, and although his legs were too weak to carry him a dozen

Tradition should be insisted the insist of the in yards, he had himself propped against Tradition sales that he the door-jamb, took his double-barrel- Welsh bard blie ed rifle across his knees, and prepared the crueit to watch. It was nearly one o'clock ring he regard and the dease of the when the lions gave notice of their mons was instituted. arrival.

I heard the heavy grunting sighs of subduc. Sed three or four of them as they moved successor diffe about in the scrub two hundred his bones chem in de. yards away. Then followed apperies them before yards away. Then followed a series them before her in the cherical bank of the creek and lapped the sturdy chewater noisily. Next came a terrified it was in the voice, from a neighbouring but. voice, from a neighbouring but, so completely read "White man, we are going!" and the boys rushed pell-mell from their shelter, some passing in front of me and others behind, making for a grove unworth

Scarcely had the first of them got and finally well outside the huts when it seem his nobles in he ed as if aglion were right among them. deposed his He now no one but an Englishman has the chance of doing so. It is nonlinally a force of volunteers. That is, if you don't like to join it you cannot be forced to do so, you are simply provided with a pass to some scaport.

sistance.

After some further noise and conties of Continuous I heard a lion treading over third Edwidth motto which appears to be applied is the dead leaves near by. Then came a years, wall the old one paraphrased: "If an Eng- prolonged and muffled spund, half- man, and lishman won't help to grard his own the back of my hut, and thrusting pet ambit skin, neither shall he chi." The prin-his nose among the thatched grass; —for a tin-ciple is all right, and it is to be hoped that it will be applied on a larger stalks, stirring with his breath, and hardly re-Hatteras? he cried as we were about that it will be applied on a larger hear the rustling when he endeavored day Wyciit to leeve the room. "Think what my scale. One of the things to be admirio insert a paw between the intersto proceed as fast as he could to the ple, and arrogating to the other the to speak of smishing the one next succeeded I went across to the hearth and stood before him. The way from stood before him. The went man as ever I saw. He was from stood before him. The went across to the hearth and stood before him. The went across to the hearth and stood before him. The went are all the was ever I saw. He was from stood here he was ever I saw. He was from hotellin question. Just as we started a clock in the neighbourhood struck sooth, they get out of the risk of their hides by paying the bill. The war is and at a bit of racing in Australia. The hotel was in the place where the coachman had the place where the coachman had the place where the coachman had the proposition, who reckoned him the proposition was not until the place where the coachman wait. The hotel was in complete darkness, and twarf out here at this present moment, would have Risker did one of them show in the firelight in front of me. The excitement did me good. and not run away with the idea that next morning I was ur and about years. he is a superior person, whose life is Not one of the Boys had been in Everyber valuable to capyone but himself. jured, although one had dad a mar-tury of the velous escape: The lions were close and considered themselves hardly upon him as he reached a tree. He treated when it did not work. There is no gainsaying the fact that the body of John Jones, Esq., financier who had clambered up before, him. and capitalist, will stop a bullet quite described less he should fall into the self are as effectively as the body of Bill lion's maw, the other fellow kicked State." Smith, who is employed by T. J. in his leg clear, so that the unfortun-protection his stable. It is also vory probable ate black fell to the ground, ufter prisoned v that Bill is by far the better man, ling, the well I had heard. The boy explained that the nearest lion only Apropos of the foregoing, there is growled as he scrambled to his feet

> IMPORTANT DISCOVERY. Benevolent Old Lady, to little a wonder!a face and hands every morning?

No. mum. Dear me! when do you wash your and rot I never washes. Horrible! It is hocking how tlepraved the lower classes are! I must hady, yourself? No, mum, mamma washes me every

Edward fire biant genets and one Tudor. He is an interesting fact that the title of Princes of Wiles, which the present wis so this bore, was established by the first Linard, who conquered that little kingdom.

Edward I was born in 1230. Design od to be go last English monacet

THE SIX KINGS EDWARD

Plantagenets and One Inder.

The story when who, for a light Lat Day 55. mita baca ENGLEM KT. HANN KELEN

He lavis wea everybody in his tle king w he spent if Duke of U self appu brother, t Edward the son of he reignd fifteen, it that he w than his f:

hundred gir; but nib "Here, M organise a society to see that chil- Brought says.ahoth Pale, Anaemic Young Women.

Anaemia, or thin, watery blood, singular to at darming extent among the school girls and young domen of our land. Pale gums, tongge, and eyeld, muscular weakness, inability for exertion, deficient apporte, impaired diges. tion, short breath, palpitation of the head, attacks of the ing, swooning, hysteria, and irregularities of the organs are among the unmistakable symptoms of ancimia or poor quality of blood.

Anaemic Persons are frequently said to be going into a decline, and as a fact do usually contract consumption of some fatal constitutional disease if they unglect to restore normal vigor. Fresh air, sunlight, moderate exercise, and the regular use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after each meal will restore new vitality to the body and hely color to the cheek of any anaemic person. Gradually and thoroughly it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and wins back perfect health and strength.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or postpaid from Edmanson, Bate

Agents wanted for Dr. Chase's last and complete Receipt

Book and Household Physician.

NEWFOUNDLAND WREEK

NATIVES ARE EQUALLY ZEALOUS SAVING LIFE AND AT LOOTING

Mystery Surrounds Many of the Wice Hundreds of Fine Vessels and La sands of Scamen and Passengers in the Deep Waters of the Pi Const.

The rugged coast of Newfon. seems to possess some how. fluence upon the shipping quents these waters. It a ... castern seaboard is dined vuins of hundreds of fine ve the bones of thousands and passengers lie in the about it:

There is a mystery, too. of the wrecks. One seen sailing safe on her next day, perhaps, fragu ashore to tell of her f manner of her loss in known. The recent my. the steamer Luceine. point.

About the same time and a few miles name schooner or squarecraft, met her doom un mysterious circums has been obtained to i that is known is that in splintered form's of Blackhead, three John's.

Another mystery Bacalieu, where the down, was the loss, or Lion, fifteen years age. John's for Trinity. M On a bright, clear w disappeared and the bal passenger, floating on next day, was dence from then ut taking off. A few years later t chronicled another. appearance, that of meline. She was John's to Twilling of fisher folk. She other vessol, GOING THE CON Leu Tickle, or Stra. the islet from the i. was about 10, p.m. morning some raff washed ashore, that proof that death board.

It, was six your's tish cargo boat Ca pool for Beltin, ar a to ing in the fog again promontory that, no but their belong. spoil by the coas Providence by the ly was the ship. to truck, and it. onveyed li to ... to fragments is ed to the scene to compel restri offenders, the leader waited ur ingenious plete f Oh, Judge. the poor boys: often they get Why did them ashored in a fier. promptly second her to her fate. their lives. Wh the fishermen fr assembled in for Again was the M ed with his mine. swift and sure je to the offender it was the older! the strapping your pleaded for his err an be thinking of mented: "first he fivery and now he Nonwegian, (all of from this view of

of no account. It is a strange Tisher folk have. The too great for them to the unfortunates on best in a fisherman's too good for the cast. very men will then be and loot her with a the gotten of long price same time they will rest kitbag as religiously pe

At another point a bark, buffeted by drifted hear the being without food, land boat and rowed shores. which six of the settlers po boarded her. Overjoyed prize, they drank generously

A JAR OF BRANDY which they found in the cabin succeeded, from which they a find their boat broken mitif themselves confined on a ship had not a grust. Incredible was their portion for six long when they at last succeeded in larg into a harbor.

When the big North Garman