A Philanthropist's Gift—Graves of Soldiers of the Revolution—Daughter of Col. John S. Mosby—To Speak for the American Bar, &c., &c.

Oscar L. Hascy, a philanthropist of Albany, N.Y., is to erect a guild house for All Saints' Cathedral at a cost of $20,000.

William Dean Howells does his writing at a business-like desk which is a miracle of neatness. He cannot work, he says, among any sort of disorder.

Miss Lucy C. Coolidge recently received the largest vote ever cast for one person in Portland, Me. She was on all tickets as a candidate for the School Board, and got 8,413 votes.

Second Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Adee is said to be better versed in the language of diplomacy than any living American. He writes nearly all the State papers intended for foreign reading.

The Rev. Andrew Longacre, of the Madison avenue Methodist Episcopal church, New York, received $5,000 from his parishioners at the celebration of his completion of fifty years in the ministry.

The Cleveland Day Nursery and Free Kindergarten Association has received from the Hanna family of that city $10,000, to be used as an endowment fund in memory of their mother, Mrs. Samantha Hanna.

George F. McCulloch a millionaire, of Muncie, Ind., has offered that city 87 acres of land for a public park and $2,500 in cash for improvement on condition the citizens subscribe for a boulevard to extend for eight miles along the White river.

In locating the graves of soldiers of the revolution, buried in the town of Saugerties, N. Y., the discovery was made that of these soldiers eighteen were sons and grandsons of Christian Myer, a Palatine who settled at West Camp in 1710. There were also several sons of Myer's daughters.

Robert I. Aitken has been chosen as the sculptor for the American navy monument to be erected in San Francisco. It is to cost $45,000, and the larger part of this amount has been subscribed, Claus Spreckels contributing $10,000 and John W. Mackay and Mayor James D. Phelan, of San Francisco, $5,000 each.

Miss Pauline Vincent Mosby, daughter of Col. John S. Mosby, of the Confederate army, received her diploma recently from the Maryland University Hospital, where she graduated as a professional nurse. She will leave for California, where her father now lives, and at once begin her career as a trained nurse.

Dr. John W. Hoffman, professor of agriculture in the Florida State Agriculture College is one of the most noted negro scientists in the world. He has just been elected member of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, and he also belongs to the Royal Agricultural Society of England and many similar organizations.

Hubbard G. McDonald journal clerk of the United States Senate, is credited with being the ablest parliamentarian belonging to that body. He is the third of his family to hold the position; his father and grandfather having preceded him. His business is to sit close to the presiding officer and keep him from falling into parliamentary pitfalls. He reports that of all the vice-presidents he has coached in his 25 years' experience, Mr. Roosevelt is much the hardest to keep in line.

James M. Beck, Assistant-Attorney General of the United States, has been invited to speak for the American bar and to propose the toast of the "Bench and Bar of England" at the dinner which Hardwicke Society of London, the oldest law society of the Inns of Court, will give on June 5 in London, to Maitre Labori, the eminent French advocate, who defended Dreyfus. Mr. Buck, who responded at the dinner given last summer in London by the bar of England to the bar of America, has also been invited to respond to a toast at the dinner of the American society of London on the next fourth of July.

GREAT HARDSHIP AND EXPOSURE ENDURED.

Capt. Adnah Burns, of Dayspring, N. S., Tells an Interesting Story From His Own Experience.

From the Progress, Lunenburg, N.S.

Capt. Adnah Burns, of Dayspring, Lunenburg, Co., N.S., is a prominent representative of a large class of men, in Nova Scotia, who, during much of the year, follow the dangerous occupation of deep sea fishing. When not at sea Capt. Burns' avocation is that of ship-carpenter. He is 43 years of age, and is to-day a healthy, vigorous representative of his class. Capt. Burns, however, has not always enjoyed this vigorous health, and while chatting recently with a representative of the Lunenburg Press, he said he believed that but for the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills he would have been a chronic invalid. "From 1895 to 1898," said Capt. Burns, "I was the victim of a complication of troubles, I suppose they had their origin in the hardship and exposure I so frequently had to undergo. My illness took the form of dyspepsia and kidney trouble. The foods which I ate did not agree with me, and frequently gave me a feeling of nausea and at other times distressful pains in the stomach. Then I was much troubled with pains in the back due to the kidney trouble. Finally I took a severe cold which not only seemed to aggravate these troubles but which seemed to affect my spine as well, and I became partially rigid in the arms and legs. I was forced to quit work, and doctored for a time with little or no benefit. Then I dropped the doctor and began taking other medicines, but with no better result By this time I was run down very much, had no appetite, and was depressed both in mind and body. While in this condition I chanced to read in a newspaper the testimonial of a cure made by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which in some respects presented symptoms like my own. The straightforward manner in which the story was told gave me new hope and I determined to try these pills. I sent for three boxes. Of course I did not expect that this quantity would cure me, but I though it would probably decide whether they were suited to my case. I must say they seemed to act like magic, and before the pills were gone there was a decided improvement in my condition. I then got a half dozen boxes more and before they were gone I was back again at work in the shipyard, and enjoying once more the blessing of vigorous health. This was in the spring of 1898, and since that time up to the present I have not been laid up with illness. Occasionally when suffering from the effects of exposure or over work I take a box or two of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they always put me right. Since my own marvellous rescue from premature uselessness and suffering I have recommended these pills to many persons variously afflicted and have yet to hear of the first instance where they have failed to give good results where they were fairly tried.

It is such endorsations as these that give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills their great popularity throughout the world. Neighbors tell each other of the benefits they have derived from the use of these pills and where a fair trial is given the results are rarely disappointing. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go directly to the root of the trouble; they create new rich red blood, stimulate the nerves to healthy action, thus bringing health and strength to all who use them. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THEY WERE SAFE.

A punctilious lady was married to a happy-go-lucky man with a notorious disregard for all matters of dress. He was going off on business for a week, and his wife packed in his bag six shirts, exacting a promise that he would wear a fresh one every day. He returned home in due course, and the good housewife proceeded to unpack the bag. Lo! not one of the shirts was there.

What's the matter, John? she asked in great perturbation. Where are all the shirts I gave you?

John protested that he had followed orders and put on a clean one every day, but what happened to them he did not know. He retired downstairs to think out the problem. Ten minutes later an excited face was thrust into the room, and a happy voice rang out:

I've found 'em my dear; I've found 'em! The whole six shirts are safe! I've got 'em all on!

Cheap round trip rate between St. Paul, Minn., and the Pacific coast.

On July 6th the Northern Pacific Ry. will place in effect a low first-class round trip rate of $45.00 from eastern terminals to Seattle, Tacoma and Portland. Dates of sale at eastern terminals will be from July 6th to July 13th inclusive, and the final limit for return will be Aug. 31st, 1901. SOON GOT RID OF THE PATIENT.

One of my patients, said the hard-worked doctor, was a fussy old lady who fancied herself afflicted with every disease under the sun. One day I chanced to meet her in the street when she immediately began to run through a long list of complaints from which she believed herself to be suffering. I was in a hurry, as an important case was waiting for my treatment, and I resolved to teach this old fidget a lesson. First I took her hand and felt her pulse. It was in splendid condition, as I expected. Then I told her to close her eyes and put out her tongue. When she had done this I stole off on tip-toe and turned the first corner. How long she remained in this attitude I can't say, but since then she has never troubled me with her imaginary ailment.

It is with deep regret your Directors to record the death, which occurred in January last, of the Hon. Sir Frank Smith, who so ably filled the position of Vice-President of the bank from its organization in 1871 until the death of Mr. James Austin in February, 1897, and President from that time until his death. Mr. E. B. Osler, M. P., was elected President, and Mr. W. D. Matthews Vice-President. Mr. J. J. Foy, K. C., was elected a Director to fill the vacancy on the board.

Arrangements are being made to open offices at Gravenhurst, Ont., and in Toronto on the corners of Queen and Teraulay streets and Bloor and Bathurst streets. At the latter point a suitable building is being erected by the bank.

All branches of the bank have been inspected during the past twelve months.

E. B. OSLER,
President.

Toronto, 29th May, 1901.

Mr. E. B. Osler moved, seconded by Mr. W. D. Matthews, and

Resolved, That the report be adopted.

It was moved by Mr. Wm. Hendrie, seconded by Mr. Wm. Ross, M. P., and

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be given to the President, Directors and Officers of the bank for the efficient performance of their respective duties.

It was moved by Mr. Anson Jones, seconded by Mr. John Long, and

Resolved, That the poll be now opened for the election of seven Directors, and that the same be closed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon or as soon before that hour as five minutes shall elapse without any vote being polled, and that the scrutineers, on the close of the poll, do hand to the chairman a certificate of the result of the poll.

The scrutineers declared the following gentlemen duly elected Directors for the ensuing year—Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. B. Brock, M. P., Toronto, J. J. Foy, K. C., Wm. Ince, Wilmot D. Matthews and E. B. Osler, M. P.,

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. E. B. Osler, M. P., was elected President and Mr. W. D. Matthews Vice-President for the ensuing term.

LIFE IN THE G

Strangers Spend th Stores and in Si

A despatch from Washington says:—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached from the following text: "And Solomon numbered all the strangers that were in the land of Israel."—2 Chron. ii. 17.

If, in the time when people travelled afoot or on camel back, and vacillation from city to city was seldom, it was important that Solomon recognize the presence of strangers, how much more important now, in these days, when by railroad and steamboat the population of the earth is always in motion, and from one year's end to the other, our cities are crowded with visitors. Multitudes of them come into our morning and evening services. I am conscious that I stand in the presence of many of them to-night. I desire more especially to speak to them. May God give me the right word and help me to utter it in the right way.

There have glided into this house those unknown to others, whose history, if told, would be more thrilling than Booth's tragedy, more exciting than Nilsson's song, more bright than a spring morning, more joyful than a wintry midnight. If they could stand up here and tell the story of their escapes and their temptations and their bereavements and their disasters, and their victories, and their defeats, there would be in this house such a commingling of groans and exclamations as would make the place unendurable.

The hotels of this country for luxury and elegance are not surpassed by the hotels in any other land; and those that are most celebrated for brilliancy of tapestry and mirror give to the guest any costly apartment unless he can afford a parlor in addition to his lodging. The stranger, therefore, will generally find assigned to him a room without any pictures, and perhaps any rocking chair! He will find a box of matches on a bureau, and an old newspaper left by the previous occupant, and that will be about

ALL THE ORNAMENTATION

At seven o'clock in the evening after having taken his repast he looks over his memorandum book of the day's work. He will write a letter to his home, and then a day's vacation will seize upon him to get out into the great city thundering under your windows, and you say: "I must see that procession," and in ten minutes you have joined it. Where are you going? "Oh," you say, "I haven't made up my mind yet." Before long up your mind before you start? Perhaps the very way you go now you will always go. Twenty years ago there were young men who came down the Astor House steps and started out in a direction where they have been going ever since, and ten million years from now, if you should meet them on the highway of eternity, you would find them going in the same direction, only faster.

"Well, where are you going?" says one man. "I am going to the Academy to hear some music." Good. I would like to join you at the door. At the tap of the orchestra baton all the gates of harmony and melody will open before your soul. I congratulate you. Where are you going? "Well," you say, "I am going up to see some advertised pictures." Good, so should like to go along with you and look over the entire catalogue, and study with you Kensett and Blackstade and Church and Moran. Nothing more elevating than good pictures. Where are you going? "Well," you say, "I am going to the Young Men's Christian Association rooms," Good. You will find there gymnastics to strengthen the muscles and books to improve the mind, and Christian influence to save the soul. Where are you going? "Well," you say, "I am going to take a long walk up Broadway, and then turn around into the Bowery. I am going to study human life." Good. A walk through Broadway at eight o'clock at night, is interesting, educating, fascinating, appalling, exhilarating to the last degree. Step in front of that theatre and see who goes in. Stop at that saloon and see who comes out. See the great tides of life surging backward and forward, and beating against the marble of the curbstone, and eddying

DOWN INTO THE SALOONS.

What is that blotch on the face of that debauchee? It is the hectic flush of eternal death. What is that woman's laughter? It is the shriek of a lost soul. Who is that Christian man going along with a phial of acondyne to the dying pauper in Elm Street? Who is that belated man in the way to a prayer-meeting? Who is that city missionary going to take a box in which to bury a child? Who are all these clusters of bright and beautiful faces? They are going to some interesting place of amusement. Who is the man who shoots across Broadway from alley to alley? He is the murderer! He has whetted his knife until it will cut a hair, and it jingles in his filthy pocket. Who is that man going into the drug-store? That is the man who yesterday lost all his fortune on Wall street. He is going in for a dose of Belladonna, and before morning it will make no difference to him whether stocks are up or down. Who is that young man hastening along? He is going to rob his employer's till, if the coast be clear, and no Christian young man meet him and take him off in another direction. I tell you that Broadway between seven and twelve o'clock at night between the Battery and the Harlem Square, is an Austerlitz, a Gettysburgh, a Waterloo, where kingdoms are lost or won, and three worlds mingle in the strife.

How many men there are who know any p
