A Notable New Year.
The January Delinquent has a rich and inviting table of contents, and attractive features are added to all the existing departments. Ira D. Sankey, the famous evangelist, vividly describes his journey through Egypt and Palestine and the personality of the author gives to these papers an interest that is truly remarkable. They are illustrated by photographs made by I. Allen Sankey, who accompanied his father. Recent mournful events and the intense public sympathy with Mrs. McKinley made very timely an article on Notable Pensioners of the Nation, in which the annuities paid to certain illustrious ladies are made public for perhaps the first time. Dr. S. R. Elliott begins his series of recollections of a group of women noteworthy for personal character and attainments, and Clara E. Laughlin tells with great charm the story of Poe's love and marriage. Some excellent fiction is offered in this number; the children are especially considered and the various miscellaneous articles—the fancy-work, cookery, the holiday display, house-furnishing, etc., have a distinctly seasonable flavor.

She's as White as a Ghost.
As pale as a lily. A matter of pride? Certainly not. Strength! color! endurance. That's what every woman wants. Good digestion, perfect assimilation. Bouquancy and vim is the right of every woman. She need not lack these if she will only use Ferruzone. It makes blood, gives appetite, gives strength to the nerves, color to the cheeks, and brightness to the eyes. A box of Ferruzone tablets is at once transmittable into health, beauty and strength. There is power in Ferruzone. Try it and see if it is not so. Sold only by R. L. Stephen.

Xmas. 1901

As we approach the closing of one and the beginning of another year we are pleased to recall the very many evidences of good-will and friendship which have characterized the past year's business. Not only has it been by far the largest and best in our history from a business standpoint, but it has shown us in a gratifying manner that customers of past years and new ones who are being constantly added are not only customers but are our best friends to-day, whose friendship and good-will we value. For all this we desire to thank you and also for the good natured patience displayed and which material assisted us during the rush and crowds, the hurry and bustle of the past few weeks, when our best facilities were taxed to the utmost. Regarding the coming year's business our plans are a ready laid and will be unfolded as the year advances. We shall endeavor at all times to profit by past experiences and thus better our position for looking carefully after your and our own interests which in a business way are identical and which we trust shall remain mutually profitable. Wishing our patrons and friends our compliments of the season, we are,
Faithfully Yours,

F. T. HILL & CO.
