The Great Pan-American Shows

Call all the others that you will, but when all is said and told, and retold, there is but one Great Circus, which is in every particular and detail the greatest and grandest of the entire world's circuses, and that is the great Pan-American show which is coming to Markdale on August 25 in all its regal magnificence, its unrivalled splendor, its unequalled numbers and vast proportions. Under the greatest city of snow white tents ever erected on any grounds will be seen, fully one hundred—count them!—one hundred excited stars, who will give one hundred and fifty superior acts, too numerous to classify, too many to name, too multifarious to describe. Bareback riding, hurdling, trick, fancy and menage riding, aerial acts, grand gymnastics, tumbling, vaulting, leaping, athletic and contortion feats, juggling, equilibrium pole balancing, breaking ladders and other acts. Unique, stately, astounding, aerial stage and arena performances, not seen elsewhere. Many of them by foreign artists, plenty of them by home artists. Remember the date, and do not miss the big show.

Quinn's Grove Picnic.

The picnic held in Quinn's Grove, near Berkeley, on Thursday last under the auspices of St. Joseph's Church, Markdale, passed off most successfully and ranks as one of the best yet held at that place. Ideal picnic weather prevailed, and an unusually large number of pleasure-seekers availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a day's outing by attending this annual gathering. The most interesting event of the day was the lacrosse match between Chatsworth and Markdale, which ended in an easy victory for the latter by 8 goals to 2. Chatsworth brought down their strongest twelve and were confident of victory; while Markdale were playing half of their juniors. However our boys played rag with their opponents, and could have scored a great many more. It was simply a walk-over. The Markdale home played rings around the aggregation from the north, and the defence—well, the ball was hardly ever down at that end of the field. Mr. John Adams appeared for the first time on the Markdale team and played a splendid game. The Chatsworth boys are a likely looking lot, and if they would leave "slugging" alone and get down to proper training might yet give a good account of themselves. Markdale Silver Band was in attendance and their excellent music was much appreciated by the picnickers. Malone's Orchestra supplied music for the dances. A substantial supper was served at 6 o'clock and everybody did justice to the bountiful supply of eatables which had been provided. The success of the picnic is due to the pastor, Rev. P. E. Hank, who was untiring in his efforts to make the day's outing as pleasant and enjoyable as possible.

New Catalogue.

Markdale Public Library has issued a 48 page catalogue and the library is again open after the extensive work of stocktaking, classifying and otherwise putting this popular institution in first class shape. There are three thousand volumes on the shelves, and all are invited to avail themselves of its advantages.

Livery Improvements.

Since purchasing from Mr. John Chapman his livery business, Doc. Oliver has been overhauling and improving the plant throughout in a commendable manner. The large bus now looks quite swell in its new cover of paint. A compartment has also been fitted up for robes, etc., and a cosy bedroom off it for the night attendants.

Stock for Texas.

Capt. David Harold, a noted and very extensive stock breeder and dealer from Austin, Texas, visited Mr. Thos. Mercer's Shorthorn herd in the suburbs last week and bought from Mr. Mercer eight heifers and three bulls; all calves of 1902, for which he paid a handsome figure. Mr. Harold is a keen buyer, yet was much pleased with his purchase.

Have a Markdale Contract.

Last week the Owen Sound Iron Works Company Limited, received a contract for the construction of a circular steel flume for the Markdale electric light plant. The flume will be one hundred and twenty-five feet in length and thirty inches in diameter, and will be mainly constructed of plates of three sixteenths of an inch in thickness with a little lighter for the upper end where the pressure will not be so heavy. The contract also includes the construction of a bulkhead thirty feet in height and thirty-six inches in diameter of a similar class of steel. The contract will require several tons of steel.—O. S. Times.

Will be Wiser Now.

A man who does not take this newspaper, but who occasionally answers advertisements which he sees in the foreign paper which he borrows from his neighbor, had interesting experiences. He wrote for a cure for drunkenness, and he got an answer to "take the pledge and keep it." He wished to marry and sent 35 one-cent stamps to a Chicago firm to learn how to make an impression, and they told him to sit down in a pan of dough. How sad! Yet he immediately jumped at a chance to double his money and did not feel hurt when he was advised to get a dollar bill and fold it. He sent to learn how to get rich, and got an answer to "work like fury and don't spend a cent." Wanting to find out how to write without pen and ink, he got "use pencil." After sending $300 to discover how to live and not work, he was told on a postal card to "fish for suckers as we do."

Power Development at Eugenia.

Mr. T. W. Wilson who recently sold out the plaining mills here and returned to Eugenia Falls was in town last Friday accompanied by Mr. A. Q. Hogg, of Oakwood, the owner of the water power at Eugenia. We understand it is Mr. Hogg's intention to organize a company to develop the power if sufficient encouragement is given by the villages of Dundalk, Flesherton, Markdale and Cayton to use it. It is also proposed to purchase the electric lighting plants of Dundalk and Markdale. It is thought that 1000 horse power would be sufficient to develop at present and an expert is expected this week to go over the ground and make an estimate of the cost. The Dundalk Council have been invited to go to Eugenia and hear the expert's report when completed. Electric power, if it can be furnished at a reasonable figure, would be a great convenience to the village and Mr. Hogg promises an all night service for light for the same figure as consumers are now paying for light to 12 o'clock. Our light service under municipal management has been first class, and we would require some inducement to change. Of course the fuel question is an obstacle we must meet and as wood is advancing year by year in price there is the possibility that the corporation would require to burn coal in the near future. Electricity is the coming power and will no doubt be in common use ere long. We will bide our time and see what may arise from pending negotiations.—Herald.

Made in Canada.

Canadians may talk about a preference in the British market for a long time before they get it, although in the end something of that kind may be arranged. But there is a "preference" that will vastly benefit this country, and it can be put into operation by ourselves whenever we choose. The "preference" we refer to is a preference on the part of Canadians for Canadian-made goods.

The business done in this country—the manufacturing done here, the work done here by our own people—could be greatly increased if people would begin to take a sensible interest in this question, and if they would buy Canadian goods in preference to foreign goods, in all cases where the price and quality are equal.

Wholesalers and retailers could do much in this direction, and the great buying public could do more. As it is now people do not bother their heads as to the origin of the articles they buy. Whether goods are made in Germany, England, New York or Toronto does not matter in the least to the average citizen. But if he will stop to reflect he will decide that he ought to interest himself in the subject, and ought to prefer Canadian goods, for by so doing he is building up the business of the country, benefitting himself and contributing something to make the outlook more promising for his sons, whose lot is cast here—not in England, Germany, France or the United States.

Canada is beginning to have quite an export trade in manufactured articles, amounting last year to over sixteen million dollars. The world begins to want articles made in Canada, and if we make goods good enough for others, we make them good enough and cheap enough for ourselves.

People simply have not given the matter any thought. But it is worth thinking about. Those who retail goods should think about it, and consumers should prefer goods "made in Canada."

The press can help cultivate this spirit materially, and should pass the files along.
