Summary of the Ontario Liquor Act, 1902.

The Ontario Liquor Act 1902 consists of two parts. Part I provides the machinery for taking a vote of the sectors on the question of the adoption of the second part, and declares that the second part shall be brought into force if it is approved by a majority of the votes cast upon the question, provided that the number of such approving votes is also a majority of the number of votes that were cast at the general Provincial election of 1898.

Part II of the Act is a law prohibiting the selling, giving or keeping for cale of intoxicating liquor, as far as such prohibition is within the jurisdiction of the Legislature. The principal provisions of this law are as follows: PROHIBITION.

The giving or selling or bartering or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor is entirely prohibited except under the conditions and for the purposes hereinafter set out.

To make the meaning of the law clear, a sharp distinction is made by the Act between a "private dwelling house" and a place of any other, kind. All sale or barter of liquor is prohibited except sale by licensed druggists for certain purposes considered necessary. and all giving of liquor is prohibited except the giving for such purposes or the giving in a private house to an adult friend, of liquor that has not been unlawfully procured.

"A private dwelling house" is a separate dwelling with a separate entranco,used exclusively as a private entrance. and not connected by any door or passage with any shop, factory, restaurant. hotel, boarding house, or other place of a public character, or office, excepting in the private house of a duly qualified physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon whose house may contain or communicate with this office.

The expression "liquor" as used in this Act is declared to include any fermented. spiritous or malt liquor, and any drinkable liquor which is intoxicating. PERMISSIONS.

Sale and keeping for sale are permitted for medicinal, mechanical, scientific and sacramental purposes only, and permitted only by such duly qualified druggists as are specially licensed by the Government to sell. There are two kinds of licenses: (1)

"wholesale druggist's license" and (2) "retail druggist's license."

A wholesale druggist's license can only be granted to a party in exclusively wholesale druggist's business. It authorizes sale in quantities of not more than ten gallons for mechanical or of wine for sacramental purposes. A duly qualified physician may have practice not exceeding two quarts; a duly registered dentist liquor needful for his practice not exceed one pint; a duly qualified veterinary surgeon two gallons; and a person engaged in mechanical or scientific pursuits alcohol needed in his business, not exceeding ten gallons. An incorporated public hospital may have liquor for patients, and a sick person may have in his room liquor prescribed by a physician.

The law concerning who may be permitted to sell is very strict. All applications from druggists for licenses must be reported upon by inspectors and publicly advertised. Ratepayers living near premises for which licenses that the applicant is an improper perrequired conditions, or has been conratepayers against a license granted may be made a county judge, who shall investigate, and if any of the disqualifications named are proved the license
