Look well after your Horses' Feet.

If you have a horse that is worth shoeing have him shod well. Remember we do not burn the foot to fit the shoe. Every foot dressed properly and shoe fitted cold. Call and see the most complete assortment of horse shoes, bare iron steel bolts, collis, whiffletree irons, neekyoke irons, slaily dogs, clevises—in fact, everything the people need on shortest notice. I will have a fair price and warrant sound horses without interfering or over-reaching.

The Farmer's Advocate is what its name implies, and is a credit to its publishers. Its columns bristle each week with a freshness which is most attractive and helpful. It continues to grow more popular from year to year.
We have secured special arrangements with the publishers by which we can supply it for 75 cents to new subscribers who are also STANDARD subscribers paid in advance.
Markdale business men are as a rule up-to-date, and justly deserve their wide reputation as such. Their advertisements are attractive and mean much. Readers will be repaid by perusing them carefully. This is the month when they pay special attention to this feature of their business and what you lose in regular reading matter you may profitably make up by a careful study of the advertisements.

For Sale.

26 pair of stockings, 12 shirts, 27 railway passes, 100 photos, 10 mortgages, 47 neckties, 1 onion, 1 horse chessnut, 9 false teeth and many other useful articles.

Goes to Detroit.

Miss Edith Walker, who has been an employee in McFarland, Stafford & Co.'s establishment here for some time, leaves on Thursday this week for Detroit, where she has secured a good situation in a mercantile establishment there.
Miss Walker has been a much respected employee of the firm here for about two years, and during that time she has made many friends. She will be much missed especially by the other members of the firm, who on Tuesday of this week presented her with a beautiful lady's toilet set and a valuable stick pin as a token of remembrance.
We join with many others in wishing her success.

Assembly.

The assembly given in Marsh's hall last Thursday night was one of the best of the season and was much enjoyed by the large number who attended. The hall was beautifully decorated, and many were the encomiums given the members of the committee who had the proceedings in charge—Messrs. W. G. Glover, H. Hill and T. Plewes—and the energetic Secretary, Mr. W. P. Reynolds. An excellent lunch was served at 11.30, after which dancing was recommenced, and continued till about one o'clock. The music by Mr. Dundas was equal to anything previously heard and gave general satisfaction. Among those from a distance who attended were: Mr. K. White and Miss Florence Howe, Strathairn; Miss Moore and Messrs. J. E. Richards, Harry Sterne
Geo. Curless and R. Cameron, Dundalk A. J. Chisholm, Owen Sound.

Last Grand Rally.

Marsh's spacious hall was crowded to the doors Tuesday night with a representative audience from town and country to hear Prof. Clarke Braden, of Illinois. The speaker delivered a convincing address of over an hour and a quarter during which the best of order prevailed. Much light was thrown on the prohibition question and many objections cleared away, and the hearty accord of the splendid audience was manifested by repeated applause. At the close of the address Revs. Ohanter and Hunter moved and seconded a vote of thanks to the Professor for his able lecture, each supplementing it with a brief but vigorous speech. Rev. Mr. Rodwell also, in moving a vote of thanks to the united choir and the citizens' band orchestra for excellent music furnished, spoke in his vigorous pronounced style, urging every man to do his duty on the 4th. This ended a rousing and enthusiastic prohibition meeting, of which the temperance people may well feel proud.

Passed Away.

On the 12th of November another old resident of the D. R. passed away, in the person of Mrs. Mead, an old lady of 72 years. She was an industrious, hard working woman, by perseverance and daily toil she supported a young dependent family of four children, until able to do something for themselves, but of late years her lines were cast in pleasant places, for her dutiful and only son, William, remembered his mother, and with him she enjoyed a good and comfortable home. Mrs.
Mead was a pleasant and kind neighbor and a large number of friends and neighbors attended the funeral, which passed through the village en route to the R. C. cemetery, Pomona, where she was laid to rest on Friday, the 14th.
Last Friday another funeral took place there. Undertaker Watson conveyed the remains of Mr. T. Ginn to the cemetery where his wife preceded him some years ago. Mr. Ginn was a retired gardener from near Brampton and lived for some years in Priooville but of late lived with some friends near Bunnison. Priooville cor.

POLLING DAY.

We again appeal earnestly to every friend of the temperance cause to devote this day for a movement which is well worthy of support and self-sacrifice.

The task before us is the polling of a certain vote. We cannot afford to do less than our utmost to accomplish that task. We fail of our full duty by every unpolling vote that our efforts could have secured.

Let this day be devoted to the service of humanity. Let every voter do his personal duty without fear or favor. Let every patriotic citizen do all in his power to help to fix the brand of delegalization upon our country's greatest curse.

VOTE EARLY.

Voting on December 4th begins at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and finishes at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is best for everyone to vote as early in the day as possible.

In cities and towns working men are allowed to leave their employment from noon until 2 o'clock on the voting day, for the purpose of voting, and shall not lose any wages on account of this absence. This is an important point to be borne in mind. The law regarding it is in Section 23 of the Ontario Act.

NO PAIRING POSSIBLE.

Temperance electors will do well to bear in mind the important fact that they cannot pair with anti-prohibition voters in this contest without disaster to our cause.

The liquor traffic cannot poll a vote that will equal that of the prohibitionists. We shall win if we attain the required minimum of 212,723 votes. Every vote we fail to poll leaves us so much short of winning, whether the voter neglects his duty, pairs with another, or votes for the liquor traffic.

It is a contest in which there is no half-way position. Every vote that is not polled for prohibition lessens the chances of a prohibition victory. The prohibitionist who pairs with an opponent of the Ontario Liquor Act, simply helps his enemies, and makes it harder for his friends to succeed.

Mark your Ballot "YES."

house, Euphrasia.

The Dying Distiller's Confession.

I have sold all my whiskey, I've made a great gain, Hundreds and thousands and millions I've made;
Done more for my master than robber or thief, Filled hell with sad victims and earth with sad grief.

I have sold all my whiskey, made drunkards by scores, Brought famine and misery and death to your door;
Caught millions of souls in my well-contrived snare,
And now I am going their ruin to share.

I have sold all my whiskey, broke many a heart, Caused weeping and woe and unspeakable pain;
Filled houses with mourning, rob'd children of bread, And the way to perdition their fathers have led.

I have sold all my whiskey, sunk ships in the waves, Drove steamboats to atoms and men to their graves, Wrecked cars upon railroads, set cities on fire, Brought sword plague and cholera with terror most dire.

I have sold all my whiskey and life's fleeting fast, My crimes and misdoings have found me at last;
I am going to meet with the million's I've slain,
I am going to share their unspcakable pain.

I have sold all my whiskey, ye inn-keepers come Take warning by me and escape my sad doom;
Now cease to entangle mankind in your snare,
Before you sink down in eternal despair.

I have sold all my whiskey, ye drunkards attend, Come hasten I charge you your doings amend;
For I tremble to meet you on that dreary shore Where the officers of mercy will greet us no more.
