and then the apples; turn B0 B 0 B 0 B 3 tered dish and bake an he quarter. Let it stand in half an hour before ser with sugar and cream Kitchen.

her Notes and butter.

dium thick

th wanilla

and

Sod:

THREE CRANBERRY NOV Cranberry Fritters Take milk, cup flour, 1 egg, @0000000 spoon sugar, 1 teaspoo powder. Mix beaten egg and together; add sugar, the and four. Lastly significant with a spoon drop in house sugar, two cur cooked, sweetened elted butter, With a spoon, drop in hot butter of eet milk, one gridiron. Serve with butter of Cranberry Suet Pudding To one cupful of one supful of finely chor ped suct add 1 cup cook ke them roll ed cranberries (the berries must be very sweet), I well beaten of I to ake without flour, 2 teaspoons baking bowler, cap butter, salt and spice to taste. Butter milk, 1 cup baking powder can well, pour the 2 traspoons batter in it, cover tightly and boll each in hot water three hours. Turn out spices, the can with a jerk. Serve with aid of milk, hard sauce of butter and sugar. of milk, man bearing Puffs Place 1 cup va it with a ter on fire: into it drop a lump it with a butter size of goose egg. Let boll pro- and stir into this 1 cup flour. Sti till smooth. Let cool and then add of sar- (1, at a time), 3 eggs, not beaten. oon of Butter a t'n and drop with spoon milk, Bake 20 minutes. Fill the puns with cam turtar, cooked cranberries, rich with sugar, en add the Serve with powdered sugar.

FOR NEW WIVES.

An easy way of washing up dishe is to have plenty of water and two milk. cornbowls. Having scraped the of sugar, ates and dishes fairly clean, they the milk hould be placed in a bowl of yery het water and soda, briskly wiped then over with a mon-a small one kept for the purpose—then plunged inte the bowl of clear cold water, wiped dry, and placed in the rack or or mr it the dresser. when cold

There should be two or three wip ing cloths, as a damp one leave smears. Knives should be put into a jug of hot water which covers the blades and not the handles, and after a rinsing they should be wiped and cleaned.

Another couple of bowls-one of hot and one of cold water-will be wanted for the glasses, and the silve afterwards be washed in the same hot water, dried, and just rubbed with a leather.

As a final touch, when the kitcher has been made quite tidy, wash out the cloths' in hot water and hang them to dry. After clearing away the midday meal and cleaning up. the housewife should take a jug of water to the bathroom, and with this and some good soap thor oughly wash her hands. After drying hein on a soft towol, rub them with a little glycerine and rosewater, and thon no traces of household work can be seen.

ANKLES MUST BE WARM.

Doctors say that cold ankles kil indre women than nerves and diseas together. This may be an a tion but it is not too much to say that when the ankles are well pro tected and kept warm their owner ere not likely to suffer from cold. Stock breeders say that colds car he borne by animals only at an expense of fat or muscle or warm vitality, and so it is with women said a shoo dealer recently, and yel they persist in wearing thin stock ings and thin low quartered shoet long after the summer has passed But they are improving in this, res, ot, as well as in every other at tinge goes by. Ten years ago we sold as many low shoes in wintershows with an excuse for a sole—at we did in summer. Not so now. When a woman comes in and buys & pair of low shoes in the cold season for outdoor wear, we know that she is one of two things-vain or silly.

KNITTING ROLL.

Cut a pasteboard roll such as pio tures come in, a little longer that a Initing needle. Cover with any he desired material, having the goods he long enough at each end to draw up. ed Fasten one end tight but run in draw string at the other end. De to corate in any desired manner. R es is very convenient to always know ud where to find all the knitting and crotchet needles.

MATCH SCRATCHER.

Cover a cigar box cover with il ilush or velvet and glue a fancy shaped piece of sandpaper upon one ad half. Upon the other half fasten . a av little wooden harrel such as tacks come in. First glue it in place, then punch two holes in cover and pan of the a narrow ribbon around center of nd barrel. Outline sandpaper with small At the gilt-headed tacks and use the same duicily a design in each corner.

the In the silk factories of Italy the ortions usual work hours are from four in a the morning till eight at night, and cup the wages 12 cents a day.

The latest device of girlhood is fancy for stuffing pillows with their love-letters. There is one thing a soft about the contents of these pillows . vok that can be depended upon with; marked degree of certainty-they are still sure to be soft.

Ma-You promised me before marriage that you would use every effort to make yourself worthy of large me." Pa-"I know I did, and the of wa- result was that I overdid it and tea- made myself better than you de sugar ustard.

pared h the Daughter (after the theatre) h the tapio- couldn't do a thing but sit and Asten until to it." Fashionable Mother Wat about abominable the way you watched en that play. People must have thought we were from the countries

DOCTOR JACK.

By Sf. GEORGE RATHBORNE,
Author of "Doctor Jack's Wile," "Captain Tom," "Barons Same" "His Pauline of New York," "Miss Capetre," Etc.

while they talk a Turkish messenggarrives at the door and inquires for jawrence Kennedy. Larry goes out, and returning a minute later has a dip of paper in his hand. "What's that ?" asks Jack, suspici-

"A telegram-sent from the office to ge. I left word to have it delivered this a.m. Listen while I read it:
The train is late—will try to make to time to-day. That is a good joke. n is due to-night at ten. The chances are it will reach here by to-morrow morning," and Larry laughs merrily, thile Jack looks at him in wonder. "What train is that ?" he manages "The one that bears the ferocious furk," comes the startling reply, "How the duse did you know he was of that train, Larry ?" Jack demands. At this the dude winks, strokes his diminutive mustache to his species,

'Pon 'onah! Jack, you've gwown guite careless of late. Upon my awival here vesterday I found this paper on the table in our room. Putting two and two together make foah, don't ye see, old fellah !" and he flourishes before the eyes of the doctor a slip of paper which the other recognizes as the telegram handed over by the operator at the Hotel de Londres on the previous day, from the chief of police n Paris, telling when the Pasha left that city.

"Ah! I see, you figured it out as well as I. No harm done, Larry, and we are doubly shure, for it never enfored my head to wire back along the he and find how the train was coming Jack is well pleased. This incident goes to prove that his opinion of Larry has not been below the mark. The pruce little chap has the making of a liplomat in his way, if he could only e induced to drop the ludicrous habits he has assumed as a swell. Perhaps these are only used to conceal entiments that he does not care for he whole world to read-a sort of handy cleak such as the chulos flaunt n the face of the bull to divert his ttention from an imperiled picador. While they are yet talking, breakfast ready, and the ladies appear. Jack fastens his eyes on Avis eagerly and hungrily-he longs to tell her what Mercedes has said and done, but dares not without first revealing his love. It would be pleasant to do this, certain as he is that his affection, is turned, but the time and place are hardly fittieg. He can wait. If success crowns his efforts the reward will be all the more grateful, while if he falls-well, he cannot ree how any mundane affair will interest a dead man.

So they sit down to the meal, served a a haif Lurkish fashion, and yet very enjoyable to the four who par-

CHAPTER XXII.

Again Dictor Jack sees a busy day before him. Much has to be done in order that all arrangements shall work together and form one piece of mechanism, of which he himself must be the master key, but Jack finds time enough for an interview with Avis after breakfast is over.

He is guarded in what he says, as e does not want to commit himself just now, feeling that it would be a bid for his services, but try as he will he cannot keep Avis from guessing just how the land lies.

She is filled with wonder and delight at what he tells her concerning Aleck, and plies him with questions he is unable to answer. Then comes the balahea of the story; still more remarkable, and now she is very quiet, watching Jack's face, as though it were a window in which she can see his very thoughts expessed.

That Mercedes should either hate or love her is a strange thing, and can only be accounted for upon one hypothesis-the Spanish girl looks upon her in the light of a rival, and a successful one, too, or she would not have committed social hari karl by becoming the wife of the Pasha; thus forever putting herself and Doctor Jack apart. Asthis thought comes into her mind Avis realizes the truth. No word of love has as yet passed between this hero and herself, and she is even now. in a dreadful state of suspense regarding his feelings, so it is only natural that, like a true woman, she should be terribly distressed regarding it all, and blush furiously, much to the secret delight of the cruel Jack, who feasts his eyes upon the scarlet cheeks and brow, and fights savagely within his breast to keep from folding her in his

"Avis-Miss Morton-I am off now on business, but if this affair goes through all right I have something I Want to tell you. Should it fail, it may as well remain unspoken," and he turns away quickly.

Avis gives one hurried glance around they are alone in the quaint Turkish parlour, Larry smoking outside the door and watching the crowds swarm tast, Aunt Sophie up in her room so Avis draws a long breath and calls

"Jack Doctor Evans!" He wheels immediately and comes to her side.

dewncast face.

What can I do for you?" You spoke of a secret; is it very important, then ?" shyly. It concerns my future my very life," he answers, looking into her

Well," naively, "you talk of danger of possibly not wanting to tell it later on. If you are going to be killed, don't you shimk it would be better to free your mind of this affair beforehand? Besides, you know I would like to remember you had confided in me—it would lie a consolation in after years. There—what more can I say— I who have condemned Mercedesstupid man," and she breaks down in confusion, covering her rosy face with her hands.

Jack takes them gently but firmly down, and holds them prisoner. How they flutter, but there is no attempt at escape.

"Look me in the face, Avis. I have always said I wanted your eyes to be on mine when I told you my secret. I love you, Avis, God alone knows how dearly. This is no news to you. Your heart has told you so before now. I thought it might be best not to speak of this until we had wen or lost, but the temptation was too strong. Tell me you love me, my dear girl, it will give me new strength to battle for your brother."

Of course she does. Who could resist such a lover as Doctor Jack? And, lorgetful of all else, they sit and talk for half an hour, when Larry puts his head in at the door, and expresses intense surprise at the couple. Jack calls him in and gravely announces the new compact that has been formed, whereat the dude capers around the room on his toes with all the graces of a premier danseuse, and declares himself delighted.

"If I cawn't have Avis myself, 'pon onah, there's nobedy else deserves her but you, old boy," he eries, slapping Jack on the back natronizingly, at which that Hercules smiles.

Then Jack suddenly remembers how tim is passing, and so much to be done. Making love is all very good in its place, but when the war is on, the lover must leave tender scenes for a more opportune period, and face the enemy. So he temporarily says goodby to Avis, and as Larry has goodnaturedly trotted cutside, of course this gives another opportunity for a kiss-it is really surprising how many such chances arise among lovers. At last Jack is off. He realizes how hard it is to part from Avis, now that she has given him the right to call her his own true love, but Jack is inclined to be somewhat philosophical, even in affairs of this kind, and grimly sets his mind upon the stern duty in hand. Nevertheless, many times during the day he is seen to smile when there may be nothing visible to cause such action his thoughts revert to the morning's scene, and bring him pleasant visions. He already begins to experience the would be the best way in which we might asceptain what he managed to perform. Passing along the street, he enters bazaar, and is halted by a cry of Fezes, in the name of the Prophet, fezes." This is the man he desires to see, and soon a bargain is struck-Jack buys a dozen of the Turks' headgear-a ridiculous thing it is, too, warm in summer and cold in winter, with nothing to shade the eyes-still, no one ever comes back from the Orient without a red fez, to be used as a smoking cap, perhaps.

Jack has no design upon the national headgear of the Turks, nor is he endeavouring to get up a corner in fezes, but he bears in mind that he will want a boat's crew from the yacht ashore that night, and if they wear this covering on their heads they may be mistaken for Turks, and thus a false clew given that will be of value later

Jack now proceeds to the water's edge. The handsome little Thistledown is riding to her anchor not a hundred yards away, and a whistle attracts attention on her deck. A boat drops into the water and makes for the shore-not pulled by brawny sailorsthat day is past among yacht owners, for every well established vacht now has as a tender a twinty-one or twenty-five foot naphtha launch hanging upon davits. If the cantain desires to go ashore a match is applied to the generator, a few strokes of the pamp given, and by the time the launch drops into the water the molive power is ready that will drive the little beauty at the rate of ten miles an hour through a respectable sea. It is a pleasure to know that there wonderful engines are a Yankee invention, and made right in New York city.

The launch puts for the shore with but one man in her--it is the captain. who has wisely imagined his new master, may desire to have a private conbetter place be found than while driving about upon the blue waters of the quiet Golden Horn?

Jack takes to the idea, and for ar him. hour they glide hither and thither, while the American talks and impresses several facts distinctly upon in the direction of the pasha's great the mind of the captain—that he is to wall. Achmed is given time to temhave a boat rowed by four Jack Tars porarily dispose of the vehicle. Some at a certain point at a particular time, to the minute-the yacht is to be anchored also at a place Jack points cut, where a black buoy marks some limit -each of the men is to wear a fez, and has already been paid for its use. look as much like a Turk as possible, and from the time leaving the yacht whisper will lose all share in the reward, which is to be a liberal one given to all the crew when they are shortly. eafe beyond the clutches of the Turk. . Having arranged all these particulars with the English captain, Doctor Jack tilves the order, and the little launch

" headed for the yacht in order that easier. If Aleek can, be gotten on board the yacht in time, he believes their safety is assured, for the hidingplace between the bulkheads has been so illustrations that even the most suspicious would not guess its nature. It has the appearance of a large reservoir for fresh water. The ingenious captain has even placed a faucet at one point, with a keg of water on Jack is rot slow to praise the work, and the captain glows with pleasure to find his labour appreciated by his chief. case of a cow, we must go back of poor cows; and they don't, and they made further arrangements the foundation and see that the in-poorer a man is the better his with regard to having a boat meet herited tendencies are right on the cows should be if he is to maile a to take the ladies abeard, he goes ashore.

the other side, in order to further the deception.

he may see what had been done in in examination causes Jack to feel short consultation between the two reshort consultation between the two rescults in a further advance of the plot.

type of cow sought but to the dam, we hear it said that the pool man The time wears on apace, and it will in general, we must look for the cannot afford to own good cows.

little chortcomings to each other, and and performance which, with the than in a dozen or two inferior ores. the driver or conductor can, with a are cien lovers. Jack's mind is full practical dairyman, count for so In the end he will make more money. dally long, no matter now pleasant it may be in the company of this fair our liking, it is not sufficient to be-my Ecrtmanteau ?" What a terrible question to ask a bravely :-"Yes, if you will promise not to tire

"You look charming in anything. We have no time to lose, dear Avis. Go to your room, and explain to aunty. In five minutes I will have the portmenteau at your door. In fifteen you "Save your little keep-sakes. As for dresses and millinery, we can replace them at Rome—they may be your redding trousseau. Now, make all the haste possible, dear girl. Every minute counts."

lars Larry, who is set to work on his mixture of flaxseed and cornmeal own small trunk. For a time great should be fed, cooked and separated energy is displayed. At the end of from the milk, in just such quantithe fitteen minutes the two trunks are ties as the young call will safely carried off to the railway station by take with benefit.

Jack, who has, through Achmed, en- When from two to three months gaged a vehicle by the hour. He finds old, if the early feeding has been necessary that stock should be they can be sent to Rome, and that is right, all wholesome milk, whether intelligently for the object in might have learned too much and betrayed them finally to the Pasha for a consideration.

Reaching the house, Jack joins in the meal then being served. The ladies have their hats on, and are all barrel capacity for future action. The provide green crops for feeding ready for travelling. Avis looks anxious but brave, and did Jack call upon her to aid him in his desperate rlans she is in a spirit to meet him halfway.

At last they enter the old vehiclethe best Achmed could pick up in Stamboul, where porters carry loads instead of beasts of burden, and donkeys take the place of horses very generally, although many Turkish offirers own Arabian steeds:

The ride is a quiet one-indeed, conversation could not be darried on in the lumbering old vehicle, that pitches and tosses terribly.

Avis is content to sit beside Jack. In the darkness he has an arm around her, and holds her hand in his. He, ter should she have been permitted does not know whether heaven will be to stop growth and development, nor kind enough to let him look on this to have become fat or becfy. Should leve of his again, and the thoughts that flock in his mind are solemn ones. | dn fat, a mistake has been made in At length the horrible lurching, so like a ship riding out a heavy sea at lights on the water show where various ships are lying at anchor, and the heifer should Jock eagerly points out one particularly bright gleam, saying :-

"That is our yacht, Avis. We shall take our wedding trip in her." at which she laughs a little, though too serious just now to think of much levity.

The boat is quickly found, the portmanicau and ladies put aboard, a few words exchanged, a low order of "let fall, lads," given, and they separate. Jack graws a long breath of relief at least Avis is safe from the clutches of the Pasha. He has had a strong idea all along that it is Abdallah's intention to put another nail in Aleck's coffin by scheming to get possession of his sister by fair means or foul, and versation with him, and where can a this accounts for Jack's manifest delight at having cheated the Turkish care of his prey-yes, thank God, Avis is safe, no matter what happens to

So, with something of a light heart he takes Larry with him, and heads one is found who will see that the antiquated affair—half way between Russian drosky and a Parisian cabriolet-is taken back to the owner, who

When the old Turk rejoins them i is close on the time set for action. until on board again, the man who Larry has just remembered something utters a word in English above a that annoys him, and hearing the dude muttering. Jack asks the reason. "I'm a fool," the other replies

TTo Be Continued.)

Manchester's chimneys emit 30 tons of soot daily, of which analysis show that two tons is oily matter.

Seasonable and Profitable Hints for the Busy Tillers of the Soll.

MAKING OF A MODEL COW.

With cows as with buildings, must have right foundation and right material, coupied with intelligent rearing. In addition, in the not be long ere they may know just transmission of peculiarities of dishow successful the plan is to be, and position and temperament as well if he can afford to wen any he can use of the Chinese Generale des l'anwhether Aleck Morton will escape, or as these characteristics specially re- afford to own the beat. leave his bones to whiten en Turkish lated to milk production, such as ground.

Size and shape of udder and teats; the money necessary to purchase a Trocadero, one of the biggest halls the money necessary to purchase a Trocadero, one of the biggest halls and leave had been been to not producing period ato. It is sent Jack heads toward the house he tion of producing period, etc. It is hold of a second-grade one impact has eaten a meal in the middle of the sometimes possible to get the mo-work double time to get any profit, pal electric trainways at Yarmouth, afternoon, and it now lacks but an del cow when only the sire is right, and whit years before he can breed England, which ran their first full but the chances for h profit winner up to a higher standard. It is but duily service a few weeks back, is a girl from over the sea. He asks Avis gin with the calf when it first ar-mals. There is nothing else go a question. "Do you suppose you and Aunt Sop- making of our model cow. We must er. At the Pan-American hie could get what articles of clothing go back to its conception, and see dairy there were good, by you may need until we reach Rome, in that dam and sire are themselves in fancy bred cows, which made bust, healthy condition. Further, dollars profit per year for the dam, while carrying our future owners, after the cost of feet young girl desirous of appearing well model cow, must be well nourished been deducted, which, by the in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and in the eyes of her lover, but Avis looks on a diet that will promote large was bought in the market and the lover. him straight in the eyes, and says and continued quantities of milk and raised on the home farm. at the same time, develop a strong good cow will make that print, boned, hearty offspring. Moreover, herd of ten or twenty should net one of sceing me in the same dress day she must have gentle treatment and a pretty fair income. This part be after day."

OTHER IRRITATIONS.

Now, having our calf, we should give it a two weeks run with its is enough to show what some this is charged with 25 gallons petroledam, that it may take its nourishies can and are doing. must have your trunk packed so that ment direct and in amounts to suit it matters not so much what kind can take it to the railway station, an immature digestion. During the of breed you have, so long and ship it to Rome, which, I guess, is the its assimilation and healthy acanimals are adapted to dairying, and ton of its various life processes will they are good representatives of have become assured, so that when their race. Each animal mist be

As the whole milk is reduced and He goes to his own room, and col- the skimmed milk is substituted, a would not be of any use to joys of a new life—it seems to him that he could never have more than half lived before.

Nevertheless, he puts in a good solid day's work, and everything he does is carried out well. To follow him on his loss with the could never have more than half lived before.

The could never have more than half lived before.

As he returns in the vehicle to the changeably, will be safe and accept—pounded in order to secure thouse it begins to grow dusk. The able grist for the calf's digesting per proportion of albuminoids and stewed lamb; vegetables, masked to time is near when they must depart, mill, if fed in reasonable amounts, carbohydrates, or, as it is called a totoes, sugar care; salad, colory; Jack has been wise enough to have the grain ration may now be given proper nutritive ration.

The grain ration may now be given proper nutritive ration.

The grain ration may now be given proper nutritive ration.

The grain ration may now be given proper nutritive ration. few handfuls of oats and wheat bran and fed so as to be ready to for bone and muscle building. Soon ket at an early ago. after its removal from the dam, a maturity an animal come ttle bright, fine hay will be caten greater becomes the cost of with benefit, the better to swell its Again, money is lost by failing milk, or at least miky swill and ing the summer droughts inc fresh house slops, should be conthis country. Horses in many tinued if possible throughout its first are given all the hay they de winter to prevent the tendency to eat — a practice not only w constipation, which so frequently in-terrupts the growth of caives during that period.

For its second summer, a good pasture of mixed tame grasses will be ample, with on abundance of pure water, shade and fly protection. During its second winter the feed and the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See tes care should be provided with special reference to the model heifer's work,

SOON TO BEGIN. She should have been bred to come fresh at from 24 to 28 months of age, and at no time previous or at there he a marked lendency to lay the breeding or ancestry.

Buring all the early life of the calf anchor, ceases, and Achmed comes to it should be handled with gentleness let them out. They have arrived, the and firmness; and as the time for the for its fruit peace. advent of the first calf approaches be frequently handled and trained so that the both try to make this our caretaker and dairy utensils will friendship for life or death. alike be familiar to the young cow. The training of a heifer to the one is connected with exertion milking process is not at all diffi- other with habits of indolence cult if the preparation has been right first is a virture the other a and the trainer has a good stock of perseverance; otherwise the chances a habit of work; and when the habit 000,000, and in the fiscal year just for a permanently victous cow are of work is formed it will the lmost inevitable. found that there need be few, if any, last you will not only abhoff if e for the last year are estimated at ment, is persevered in for a few are constrained from love to do tistics.

vecks. The best aids are a free use of warm water and a healing oint-ment on the udder while it is in fared and tender, and a secure man-chion fastening for a few weeks. With these assistants ordinarily no strapping or binding is necessary.

Now that our model cow is made and milked, it only remains for the owner or caretaker to continue with careful intelligent - treatment her maximum of profitableness have been reached, which should not be until her fifth or sixth year

CURIOUS FACTS GATHERED

Old and Interesting Events Which

Read Before.

Artesian wells made possible the growing of melons in Colorado, crops being successful several years running, and then a sand storm came along and cooked the melon on the Thirty-five men are continually employed in painting the famous Forth bridge in Scotland. They commenced operations at the south end of the bridge and proceed steadily to psitt their way northward; their layears then they begin again.

rious journey occupying three

One of the largest meetings of crepartable telephone carried on the cars, at once get into communication

The Empire of Turkey possesses at estensive system of agricultural blinks under Covernment management, the burpose of which is to her-capital is provided by a light anngal tax to agricultural property

Principal agencies have been established in 65 cities, capitals of provinces (vilavets) or counties (san-aks), and there are 803 branches

A portable street light of great il-um nating power is the device of the Westminster County Council for lessening accidents from London ogs. A cylindrical tank eighteen inches in diameter and two feet high um, land compressed air forces vapor from the oil into a standi ipe prothe Jorch flares up 18 inches to two feet. with a power of 1,000 candles.

Fifteen Philippinos have arrived in then selves they will rend for their families. They propose to intro-dicola humber of Philippine agriculthrat products, which they believe to be adapted to Texas climate and

That the necessaries of life are not udding: beverage

known track in North Water may have fosten remarked an old man who pursues his roadside stonebreak-ing with an absorption somewhat ged laborer has a retainer from a pocal geologist, whose collection and is own pocket, he has often simul-

Janeously enriched. Thus humble la-or becomes associated with the ursuit of science, and an approach

In Denmark parish churches can e put up to putlic auction like any ther chattels. Two have just been in the Island of Morsoe. They orned part of the estate of a bank-upt feudal 'proprietor, and without my sentiment or fuse were just dis-rosed of under the hammer. A post flice receiver bought one for 30,000 frowns. The bargain had more to ecommend it than come would think,

Among the perils to which a sub-menonts. which swirl against seaootfon crags, and the attacks of sea nonsters, sharks, swordfish, and the Commerce between the United states and its recently acquired ter-ments to Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Philippines in 1897, the year before the war with Spain, amount ed to only $6,773,560. In 1901 they, amounted to more than $50,- closed they will amount to about table is subject are ocean feeling that the proprietor had tithing rights over the parishioners.

nathe

smade to an ideal combination.

As a matter of fact. the Liverpool tourists along a and green tea and coffee.

from the following, menu epstiy in Rossland, B. C., may be they have made homes for riless important places.

nish small

dramway headquarters.

loans to farmers.

You May Never Have

FROM ALL PARTS.

WHY KEEP POOR COWS Only the rich can afford to keep

The writer has found that the sire, poor cows is a sight to make one living. To see a poor man keeping when correctly bred, can be depend- sigh at the short-sightedness of man. Achmed is his next victim, and a ed upon to furnish the size, coloring, A poor man cannot afford to waste Avis is watching for him. There are tremendously increased when the need be no more secrecy between them now, for they have confessed all their and peculiarities of snaping, veining money in half a dozen good cows in case of accident or breakdown, and performance which with the grass is good and where good me-thods of farming and dairying are observed.

removed from its dam and fed a judged on its individual merits, and Calcwell County. Texas, just south gradually increasing proportion of feets skimmed milk in three daily feeds for the month following, no break need occur in its growth and development. are tacked on for certain stiffictural forms and breed characteristics which dinary dairyman.

IMPROPER FEEDING

To secure maximum profi ented with a should be selected for earl

To prove to you than on the Chase's Ointment is a cortain and absolute cure for sach and every form of litching bleeding and prograding files il dealers of Edmanson, Baths & Co. Toronto Dr. Chase's Ointment GRAINS OF GOLD.

some duty. is not the result of patient w and waiting. Temperance is like a tree for its branches contentment

There is not a moment

Call no man or woman you to whom! you cannot say, There are two sorts of could

Work in spite of yourself, and The writer has figured into the love of work did at $35,000,000. Shipments to Alaska vicious or tricky cows if kindness, ness, but you will have no supply $15,000,000. These figures are coupled with firmness and good judg-ness out of the work which they you made by the Preasury Bureau of Sta-

Many Children Out

With Coughs and Colds, and Parents Everywhere Froving the Wonderful Curative Powers of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseel and Turpentine.

When grown people neglect their | began in the form of a cold ailments and allow them to develop into serious diseases, they have no one to blame but themselves.

vacant seat on account of coughs Turpentine. and colds, and many children who Be careful when you have

With children it is different, be treatment are these children getting? Dr. Chase is on the wrapper. If you cause they do not realize the se- Do their parents realize the serious send the children to the store, warn riousness of a neglected cold nor the ness of neglecting to cure a cold 7 them not to accept any imitation or means of obtaining circ, and many a Have they proved the merits of Er. substitution. Children like to take child, as he grows dider and finds Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Tur- Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and himself a victim of pneumonia, con-pentine as a cure for coughing and Turp mtine, and there is no remedy sumption, bronchitis, asthma or colds, bronchitis, croup, who ping so prompt and effective. 25 cents at throat trouble, cannot but see that cough, and all kindred iils?

his parents were responsible for nevery many have, for there is no much 60 cents; at all dealers, or glecting treatment when his ailment preparation for throat and lung cits. Edmenson, Bates & Co., Toronto.