soak your sprots, etc., in strong brine after the fall butchering, as it tends to remove all stains of blood, leaving the aprons as white as snow.

That by mixing enough flower of sulphur with a pint of water to give a golden tinge, and in this boiling three bruised onions, you can renovate your gilt picture frames? This mixture will also keep flies from specking the frames. The mixture must be strained, and applied to the frames with a soft brush.

LIGHTING A CHILD'S ROOM.

The lighting of the child's room is a very important matter from a sanitary standpoint and also from one of convenience. If gas is the illuminant, it should never be left lighted longer than is absolutely necessary. If a night light is required, then a little night lamp should be procured but even then it is a pity that more mothers do not train their children to be accustomed to sleeping in a room without a light. It is so much more healthful. Where lamps are in use we far too often see children squinting because the strong lamplight is directly in their faces. Their elders seldom stop to think of this from their superior heights. A light should never be placed so that its rays flare into a child's eyes. One of the most prevalent causes for poor eyesight in young children is this very negligence on the part of their elders to provide shaded lights in rooms where children are sitting or playing.

HOW TO DRINK WATER.

A beginning of kidney trouble lies in the fact that people, especially women, do not drink enough water. They pour down tumblerfuls of ice-water as an accompaniment to a meal, but that is worse than no water, the chill preventing digestion, and indigestion being an indirect promoter of kidney disease. A tumblerful of water sipped in the morning immediately on rising, and another at night, are recommended by physicians. Try to drink as little water as possible with meals, but take a glassful half an hour to an hour before eating. This rule persisted in day after day, month after month, will improve the complexion and likewise the general health. Water drunk with meals should be sipped as well as taken sparingly.

EFFECT OF BEING FAT.

Some Humorous Inconveniences of Stout People.

Dr. Simonton is very keen on advancing in his profession the healing art has no more zealous devotee. Alas for his ambition, he quite neglected the regimen of the late Mr. Banting so that when he applied for the post of assistant-surgeon on board one of the ships of the United States navy the committee of selection politely rejected him on the ground that he was too stout to get through the hatchways.

Two years since the guardians of Petworth, near Ashford, England, were obliged to refuse admittance to a female pauper in consequence of her excessive corpulence. Firstly, because they had no clothes large enough to fit her massive person; secondly, because she could not walk upstairs, and by reason of her abnormal avoirdupois the workhouse officials were unable to lift her from the ground.

At the time when an Ohio damsel recently engaged to the man of her choice she weighed but 250 pounds—a moderate weight that, under the placid contentment induced by her lover's affection, rose rapidly until it reached the alarming figure of 500 pounds. This was too much for her fiance, who promptly cried off, only to find himself sued for breach of promise, the deserted lady declaring that, as her excessive weight—an insuperable bar to other offers—had accumulated during their engagement, her lover had, by unduly prolonging his courtship, been guilty of contributory negligence.

While strolling through a French fair Labbiche, the celebrated singer, man of enormous proportions, was accosted by an irate showman, who, with much indignant gesticulation, inquired what was the use of his exhibiting a "fat man" when the whole could see one much bigger for nothing. It was taking the bread out of an honest man's mouth—that was! Tickled with the humor of the situation Labbiche gave the man a handsome gratuity, and laughingly promised to quit the fair-ground forthwith.

On another occasion, when leaving Covent Garden Theatre after rehearsal, the same singer found that his carriage had not arrived. A hackney-wheeler was therefore hailed, to which, with some difficulty, Labbiche hoisted his immense body, only to find himself poised on the verge of the smaller seat. To change his position was necessary, but as he rose to do so the floor of the vehicle, constructed only to bear normal weight, gave way with a crash, and the celebrated artist found himself standing in the road. From his awkward position he was, amid the laughter of the onlookers and the objurgations of cabby, extricated with no little difficulty.

AN OLD TIMER.

One of the earliest steam engines ever built is still the main source of power in an iron mill at Birmingham, England. It was set up in 1767, and the original wooden beam was lately been replaced by an iron one, after 135 years of continuous service. Aside from this iron beam and a cylinder that was put in new in 1802 the engine is the same as at first, even to the connecting rod. For its special purpose the old engine has been pronounced more economical than many modern engines, and it is likely to do duty many years more.

THE POOR DYSPEPTIC.

Is the Most Miserable of Mortals—Only Similar Sufferers Can Understand His Hours of Agony.

There is no mortal more miserable than the poor dyspeptic. He is never healthy, never happy—always ailing, always out of sorts. Every mouthful of food brings hours of distress—every moment of the day is spoiled and soured.

If you are a dyspeptic, you know the signs: the coated tongue, the dull headaches, the heartburn, the biliousness, the persistent torment after meals, the hopeless despondency. Any one of these signs points to indigestion. The one sure cure for indigestion is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new blood—that's the whole secret. Through the blood they will brace up your strength, waken your liver and set your stomach right. If you ask your neighbor you will find proof of this right at your own home. Mr. Charles Wood, Cars, Ont., one of the thousands of dyspeptics cured by the use of these pills, says:—"For upwards of twelve years I was a great sufferer from indigestion and nervousness. Everything I ate tortured me. I doctored almost continuously, and used almost everything recommended for this trouble, but never got more than temporary relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Words cannot express the good these pills have done me. I am in better health than I have enjoyed in years before, and I have proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail."

Bad blood is the mother of fifty diseases, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure them all, because they convert bad blood into good, rich, red blood, without which there can be neither health nor strength. Don't be persuaded to try something else—take nothing but the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AMBITIOUS NAILS.

In days when superstition was more prevalent than it is now, the shape and appearance of the finger-nails were considered to have reference to one's destiny. To learn the message of the finger-nails it was necessary to rub them over with a compound of wax and soot, and then to hold them so that the sunlight fell fully on them. Then on the horny, transparent substance certain signs and characters were supposed to appear, from which the future could be interpreted. At the present day nail experts say that a man with red and spotted nails has a hot temper, while pale, lead-colored nails are considered to denote a melancholy temperament. Narrow nails are supposed to betray ambition and a quarrelsome nature, while round-shaped nails are the distinguishing marks of lovers of knowledge and people of liberal sentiment. Conceited, narrow-minded, and obstinate folk are supposed to have small nails; indolent people, fleshy; and those of a gentle, retiring nature, broad nails.

A HANDY QUESTION.

Joseph Chamberlain was delivering a political speech in Birmingham, England. The hall was so packed that not another human being could have crowded in. The enthusiasm was tremendous; but suddenly a scowling man arose in the middle of the crowd.

"What did Mr. Gladstone say in 1872?" he howled.

"Shame!" "Put him out!" yelled the crowd.

Three sturdy men hurled the interrupter a few yards, and others helped him to the street.

As he was picking himself up and brushing off the dust, he grinned pleasantly at a man who had followed him from the hall, and who asked, "What did Mr. Gladstone say in 1872?"

"I don't know," he replied, "and I don't care. I had a terrible toothache, and I couldn't butt my way through that crowd, and the only thing to do was to get thrown out."

BATHED ONCE A YEAR.

The marbles in Westminster Palace are treated to a bath once a year. They are first sponged off with water and then "pickled." The pickle consists of a solution of soft soap and sulphur, which removes the incrustations due to the smoke laden atmosphere and is said to do the marble no harm.

"Wonder why Van Major is always referring to his 'velvet lawn' ?" "He's got a right to. He told me that with the grass seed he has sown and the red sod he's bought it has cost him just $4.75 a yard."

BABY'S BEST FRIEND.

The best friend baby can have is a simple medicine that will relieve and cure the minor ailments that make his little life often very miserable. Such a friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They cure indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, simple fevers, diarrhoea, and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. All mothers who have used these Tablets praise them. Mrs. F. L. Bourgeois, Eastern Harbor, N.S., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and look upon them as baby's best friend. I have found them an excellent remedy for colic, and they have done our baby much good in many ways." Little ones take these Tablets as readily as candy, and the mother has a guarantee that they contain no opiate or other harmful drug. Once used always used where there are little ones in the home. Sold by druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LONDON STREET TRAFFIC.

Laws Which Compel Drivers to Avoid Crowding.

In London the law requires that every driver shall pass an examination. If he convinces the examiners that he is skillful and competent he secures a license. In addition, all vehicles are numbered and the number displayed conspicuously on the back.

The "bobby" stands on a platform raised a foot or so above the street level and called a "safety." A police lamp is placed on this and marks the spot where the driver must look for signals. The policeman raises a hand and all the drivers, even when crowded in the big squares, pull up at once. Should one fail to do so, the policeman doesn't yell at him or threaten him with arrest. He simply pulls out a memorandum book and puts down the number of the vehicle as the offending driver passes by on it, and that night makes a report of it.

The next day the driver is ordered to appear before the officer who issues the licenses, and, if he fails to give a satisfactory excuse for not obeying the "bobby," his license is revoked.

All of which means that the drivers are all skillful men and have the best of reasons for obeying the signals of the police.

"You say there's a man at the door wishes to see me. Does he look like a gentleman?" "Well, not exactly like a gentleman, sir; just something like yourself."

PAID FOR HIS BOAST.

A man moved to the country and bought a farm. He was just getting settled when a man with a book under his arm leaned over the fence and said:—

"Just bought this land?"

"Yes."

"Very fine farm."

"Yes, sir; very fine."

"Must be worth $2,000."

"More than that. I paid $3,000 for it. Then there are indications of coal on it, which are alone worth $5,000."

"You don't mean it?"

"Yes, sir. There's coal on it. Then the new railway is going across one corner. I consider my farm worth $15,000 of any man's money."

"Fifteen thousand, eh?"

"Yes, sir; $15,000 at least. I wouldn't take a penny less. What are you putting down in the book?"

"Oh, nothing much. You see, I am the tax assessor. Other farms round here are not worth more'n $1,500 or $2,000, but I've just put yours down at the figure you mentioned because you insist. Good mornin', sir; glad you've moved into the neighborhood, and hope you'll stay some time."

ROCKS INDIANS WORSHIP.

These Carvings Are Done by Time and the Elements.

Of natural effigies, none are more remarkable than the two which can be seen in Conchise and near Los Angeles. The former shows the face of an Indian chief, while the latter is a surprisingly natural representation of a gigantic whale. The face of the Indian chief is an immense effigy, the profile being several miles in length; it is formed by the shape of the summit of a mountain range, and offers a spectacle of a face of great dignity looking upwards. The Indians revere it as the countenance of Conchise, a great chief.

It is not uncommon to find the skeleton of a whale on the summit of the coast ranges of California, and once, when a new street was being marked out in Los Angeles, the skeleton of a whale actually was dug up out of the earth. How these sea monsters found their way to these spots is not known. Thus, when you hear that the form of a whale is to be seen in the side of the rock, you are not surprised, but you become interested when you find that it is really a carving done by time and the elements, and not the remains of a once living creature. The rock has fallen or crumbled away in such a manner as to form the under part of the whale, the lower jaw, the open mouth, the nose and the eye—a wonderful eye—of the leviathan, while the upper part of the body is formed by the curvature of the rock.

WOMAN AND THE PROVERBS.

A wonderful similarity exists in the sayings about women current in the various nations.

The Spanish rhyme has it: "Were a woman as little as she is good, a pea pod would make her a gown and a hood."

An old English saying: "If a man lose a woman and a farthing he will be sorry he lost the farthing."

The French adage: "A man of straw is worth a woman of gold."

The German: "There are only two good women in the world—one dead and the other can't be found."

The Scotch say: "Honest men marry soon; wise men never."

In Fife they say: "The next best thing to no wife is a good wife."

The Arabian declares: "Words are women; deeds are men."

The Persian sage says that a woman's wisdom is under her heel."

The German affirms that every daughter of Eve would rather be beautiful than good.

The German also asserts that whenever there is mischief brewing a woman and a priest are at the bottom of it.

The Persian asserts that women and dragons are best out of the world.

The Corsican says: "Just as a good and a bad horse both need the spur, a good and a bad woman both need the stick."

The Hindoo: "A man is not obeyed by his wife in his own house, nor does she consider him her husband unless he beats her."

Another Hindoo proverb says: "Drive out a woman's nature with a pitchfork and it will return again and again."

The greatest medical authorities say that when food is not thoroughly digested it leaves a mass of undigested matter at a standstill, when immediately fermentation sets in, and which thrives from various gases and poisonous vapours, creating fulness of the stomach and bowels, bad breath, furred tongue, dizziness, but the worst of all is this generated poison passes into the blood, from which it is carried to the brain, nerves, kidneys, and every important part of the human anatomy. Cases of this kind are dangerous, and should be treated by a remedy of reputation. We have such a remedy in Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Drops, which has been successfully prescribed by the medical profession throughout the world for more than 60 years. It is a pharmaceutical preparation of the highest possible order of merit. St. Jacobs Oil, Ltd., of Baltimore, are the sole proprietors, 50 cents. Directions in eleven languages.

Sweet Girl—"The man I marry must be both brave and brainy." Adoring Youth—"When we were out sailing and upset, I saved you from a watery grave." "That was brave, I admit, but it was not brainy." "Yes, it was. I upset the boat on purpose."

In the matter of the so-called Catarrh Cures: Others prate and promise; we perform and prove.

SUFFERED FOR SIX YEARS

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MRS. HUFFMAN, OF NAPANEE.

And Now She Recommends Them to Other Young Ladies or Married Women.

Napance, Ont., April 27.—(Special)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are one of the greatest boons ever conferred on suffering womankind is the experience of Mrs. John C. Huffman, of this place. For the benefit of her sister women she has given the following statement for publication:

"I have been troubled for about six years with Kidney Disease and the pain was so great I could not stand it. I could not entertain any company.

"One night when I was feeling miserable, I read some wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills and I decided to try them. The first box brought an improvement, and by the time I had taken six boxes I was completely cured.

"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to any person suffering from Kidney Disease, and I make this statement hoping it will help other young ladies or married women."

Mrs. Huffman is only one of many women who have proved that many female complaints are the result of Disordered Kidneys and are as such easily curable by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

HONORED ABROAD.

Word has recently been received that Massey-Harris Company, Ltd., have added another laurel to their many successes. This time the victory was scored in Australia.

The Massey-Harris Stripper-Harvester in competition with some ten other types scored a signal success at Smithfield, South Australia, on 25th November, 1902, being awarded a total of 471½ points, and having only 476 lbs. draught. The figures given of the next competitor were 467 2-3 points and 572 lbs. draught.

The Stripper-Harvester is not used in Canada—it is not suited to the conditions of the climate; but in Australia there are more Stripper-Harvesters used than there are Binders.

This report only goes to show that Massey-Harris machines lead wherever they are. They would not do so if they were not built well and with good materials.

DR. HAMMOND'S OPINION.

Expert Testimony on Wheeling—The Revival.

Dr. Hammond, one of New York's most foremost physicians, and an active member of the New York Athletic Club, was recently interviewed by a representative of the New York Press, and asked his opinion as to the merits of cycling as exercise. The doctor stated very decidedly that he considered it absolutely the best possible, if taken with discretion. He of course excluded all persons with very weak hearts, or people of extremely delicate constitutions, but said that nearly every patient going through his hands rode a bicycle when convalescent, and that it was remarkable what progress they made towards health.

In Canada there has been an unprecedented revival in wheeling, and it can be traced to no better cause than to the introduction of the Hygienic Cushion Frame. To use the words of the advertiser, "It is to wheeling what the 'Pullman' is to railroading," and these words put the argument in the proverbial nutshell. It allows the rider to hold a uniform position, while the wheels accommodate themselves to the roadbed. It has made bicycling an absolutely pleasant and healthy form of outing. "Massey-Harris," "Cleveland," "Brantford" and "Perfect" bicycles have this cushion frame.

"And what do you expect to make of your son when he comes of age, Mr. Smith?" "Oh, I don't know," replies Smith, despondently. "I think he'd make a very good husband for a rich girl."
