

casion any serious loss if it is not success, and we shall be glad to know from any who may try it as to their success or failure.

BEST UTENSILS.

For keeping cream in the dairy, you will find almost everything in common tin cans to the houses. The cream vat supply made is the most objectionable utensil, so-called, is made of iron and is well nigh impossible to keep it so thoroughly clean that it will not impair the purity of the cream it holds where the churning is done twice a week. This faucet is a favorite lurking-place for destructive forces, and they get in their way; it should be abolished. The cream vat in the dairy and in the creamery also.

Cans suitable for holding cream in the dairy may be made 12½ inches in diameter and 14 inches deep, in one piece, and having perfect soldering. Such cans will hold 50 to 60 pounds of cream, and will make 20 to 25 pounds butter. They are convenient to carry into the churn or the cream carrier for the creamery, and they can be washed and scalded to perfection.

HORSE TALK.

Ground corn and oats with some wheat middlings and oil-meal is a good combination for slow, heavy work.

There should be about a peck of cut hay fed with the grain. A little long hay may be given at night for them to eat at will.

Overfeeding with hay is practised by most farmers. It is a waste of hay and exhausts the digestive system and results in starting coats and littered droppings.

AN AUSTRALIAN ARMY.

Scheme For Organization of the Colony's Forces.

A scheme proposed by Major-General Edward Hutton for the creation of an Australian Commonwealth Army has been recommended for adoption by the Australian Federal Executive Council. Gen. Hutton was sent out to Melbourne two years ago, instructed with the mission to pave the way for a reorganization of the local forces, and his work has already borne fruit.

The plan comprises two distinct forces: One a mobile field force, fully equipped and trained for military operations in the field, the other a garrison force, for the protection of the strategical points.

The mobile field force will consist entirely of militia, comprising six brigades of cavalry, three of infantry and the present proportion of artillery. On the peace footing, there will be 13,000 men and 60 guns; on the war footing, 27,753 men and 84 guns.

The garrison force will consist mainly of volunteers, numbering in all 15,000 men and 26 guns.

The present permanent troops will also remain, and will form a nucleus of artillery garrisons for fixed defence and an instruction force for the volunteers and the militia. The militia will be available for active field operations within the limits imposed by the defence bill now before the Senate, while the volunteers will be responsible for the local or State defence.

The disappearance of cavalry in the scheme of organization is due to the great need of the British Army in that arm, and to the excellent service rendered by the Australian mounted infantry in South Africa. The eighteen regiments of light horse provided for will be a valuable addition to the British Army.

THOUGHTS OF A CHILD.

Mind of the Infant Raises up Puzzlers for Grown-ups.

The first conscious thoughts of most of us, perhaps, had something to do with the mystery of things. "What will all do?" a little boy asked the other day, and the answer, "Yes," paved the way for the very pertinent query, "Who will bury the last man?" The boy's memory was better than his understanding when he declared that the walls were built around Jerusalem to "keep in the milk and honey," and his case was more "pardonable" than that of the little girl who buried a note in the ground, saying, "Please, Mr. Satan, come and fetch me."

The idea of beauty in children is strangely varied. A teacher at a Manchester school some years ago gave thirty children five minutes to think over the most beautiful thing they ever saw. Five chose the moon and the stars, two the sun, and one the setting sun. One of the five who chose the moon stipulated that he meant only the full moon. Two children chose flowers, two scenery, and two birds. Not one chose a human face. The snow, the rain, a butterfly, a tiger's skin, salt, silver and gold, a brooch, pink silk, all had one votary, and a little Jingo declared that the Union Jack was the most beautiful thing in the world.

"Until I met you, Matilda," he murmured, in a voice husky with emotion. "I believed that all women were deceitful, but when I look into your clear, beautiful eyes, I behold there the very soul of candor and loyalty." "George," she exclaimed, with enthusiasm, "this is the happiest moment I have known since papa took me to the oculist!" "Oculist!" "Yes, dear; you never would have known that my left eye is a glass, one." Then the moon went under a cloud, and George sat down and buried his face in the soft cushion.

The man of one idea is always in danger of being laughed at by people who have none.

NEWS ITEMS.

ARMED LUNATIC.

Man With Revolver Wanted to See President Roosevelt.

Telegraphic Briefs From All Over the Globe.

CANADA.

The Government will probably fix Thanksgiving Day for October 15 this year.

If negotiations under way can be carried out an extensive trade in Canadian apples will be opened up with France.

The Civic Fire and Water Committee of Hamilton decided to charge 12 cents per 1,000 gallons in hotels, saloons and livery stables.

The present session of Parliament has lasted 172 days, which is equal to that of 1885, the longest Parliamentary session in Canadian history.

Edmund Brown, of Hamilton, was a commission appointed to investigate the way Magistrate John Weilbomber has been conducting the affairs of his office.

The contract with Columbian Bros.

for the establishment of a steamship service between Bordeaux and Canada is reported to have been signed at Ottawa.

It is said that there is a likelihood of the Government appointing a permanent official to investigate accidents on railways in Canada. Such accidents this year are pronounced to be unprecedented in number.

Six men were working on a scattered at the C.P.R. shops at Hochelaga, when the tackle slipped and all were thrown forward, falling thirty feet. John Bushois is at the point of death and four others had to be admitted to the hospital.

There is trouble in Hamilton over what should be done with John Sipes, a deaf mute, subject to epileptic fits. He was turned out of St. Peter's Home and the House of Providence and was taken back to St. John's Middleton and Inspector Chamberlain decided that he should not stay there and asked that he be taken into the house of Reigle, but the committee refused his admission.

GREAT-BRITAIN.

Men have in a better condition in Kent than has been the case for some years.

Mr. Hugh Stanger, of Wyke, near Axminster, has killed 33 adders in the past year.

Miss Elizabeth works, employing between 20,000 and 30,000 men, are short of men because of a wage dispute.

The Earl Lieutenant Daniel Godfrey, 60, forty years bandmaster of the Grenadier Guards, has left an estate valued at £6,180 gross, and £5,817 net.

Over 200 officers and men of the North Staffordshire Regiment, the Welsh Fusiliers visited the Isle of Man to undergo a week's special training in hill-climbing.

In a recent order as to the employment of military bands on Sunday, Lord Roberts says that the bands should be of an elevating character and "as far as possible, sac-rege."

The greatest possible offence before decent people" was the command of Mr. Plowden at Marylebone Police Court, while firing some revolver shots each for using bad language.

PROSPEROUS TEMISKAMING.

Crown Lands Agent Reports Everything Booming.

A despatch from Toronto says: John Armstrong, Crown Lands agent at New Liskeard, was a visitor at the Parliament Buildings on Tuesday. Work on the Timiskaming Railway, he says, is being pushed ahead rapidly, and the grading parties are now near New Liskeard. The prosperity of the whole country, Mr. Armstrong added, is "marvelous." White-tail deer, warning the colored residents to leave and threatening all white men who employ colored boys.

UNITED STATES.

General James Longstreet is in a U.S. soldier during the civil war.

A despatch from Ottawa says: In view of the many fatal accidents which have occurred recently in Ottawa in connection with electric lighting, a proposal is made that the Finance Committee be instructed to engage an expert to examine into the system adopted by the different companies, and in the event of his finding any defects or lack of proper safeguards or precautions, to suggest such means as he may consider necessary to obviate the danger.

THE ELECTRIC DANGER.

Ottawa May Engage an Expert to Examine Wires.

A despatch from Ottawa says: In view of the many fatal accidents which have occurred recently in Ottawa in connection with electric lighting, a proposal is made that the Finance Committee be instructed to engage an expert to examine into the system adopted by the different companies, and in the event of his finding any defects or lack of proper safeguards or precautions, to suggest such means as he may consider necessary to obviate the danger.

EXHIBITS AFLOAT.

Will Introduce British Manufactures in Colonies.

A despatch from London says: It is proposed to organize a floating industrial exhibition of British Manufacturers, to tour the Empire. The movement has the support of prominent shipping and manufacturing firms. It will cover all classes of manufactured articles which Great Britain supplies or can supply to the colonies, farming machinery being included. The exhibits would be on voyage for six months.

MORE FIELD GUNS.

Appropriation to be Included in Supplements.

A despatch from Ottawa says: It is stated that the supplementary estimates will contain an appropriation for the purchase of more field guns, which it is admitted are badly needed by the militia.

ASCENDED MOUNT SORATA.

Paris reports assert that 15,000 Turkish troops were killed in the suppression of the Albanian uprising.

General Buller told the War Commission that if the Boers in Natal had reached the sea, they were to have been aided by a European power.

The Government of New South Wales will call for tenders, from home and foreign manufacturers alike, for 100 railroad locomotives.

A NEW KLONDIKE.

Rich Strike of Gold on Eight Mile Creek, B.C.

A despatch from Oyster Bay, N.Y., says: A man giving his name as Frank Weilbomber was arrested at Sagamore Hill late on Tuesday night, while making a persistent demand to see President Roosevelt. The man was armed with a revolver fully loaded. He was taken to the village, and placed in the town prison. Shortly after 10 o'clock on Tuesday night, Weilbomber said he had a personal engagement with the President, and desired to see him. The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

Just before 11 o'clock the man returned a third time. The officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon after Weilbomber returned, and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President, if only for a minute.

The