

EDITOR SAYS IT'S NO PLACE FOR BAD MEN. Even Books as if You've Killed a Man You Hang. He recorded that Dawson, up Yukon territory, is a law abiding man. W. P. Thompson, who runs Morning Yukon Sun, in his morning paper in the Yukon, and Mr. Thompson is so he should know. He has been printing statements to the effect that he had been murdered, robberies, and that the Yukon territory was in a state of anarchy. Dawson City, Mr. P. P., a desperado of means, has been shooting up that region and that the Yukon territory is in a state of anarchy. Mr. Thompson is not only a desperado, but he is a lawbreaker. Dawson City, Yukon territory, is a law-abiding town. Dawson City, Yukon territory, is a law-abiding town. Dawson City, Yukon territory, is a law-abiding town. Dawson City, Yukon territory, is a law-abiding town.

THE ESSENTIALS OF LIFE

We Must Abstain From All Appearance of Evil

robe may have been poor, but we may be sure that there were no im-purities upon it or upon him. So, Christians workers, if we go forth in Christ's name, some of us must be penance. Remember, O minister, when you ascend the pulpit, that your clothes may not be expensive, but they should be clean. Remember, O Sunday school teacher, when you expound the Bible lesson, your scholars are learning from you what it is to be a Christian. They are learning with their eyes as well as with their ears. Remember, O man of God, that wherever you go, your skin and pure linen as to your lips preach in Christ's name.

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT.

Small essential the next: The little should extend to those with whom we come in daily contact. The little acts of deference which we should show to ladies, such as taking off one's hat when we stand with them in an elevator or allowing them to precede us, or allowing them to "Thank you, though an open door," should be acknowledged as a gentleman's action when he rises in a street car to offer her a seat. The little social calls by which we should welcome a new neighbor or her gifts of delicacies which should be sent to the invalid's room of our neighbor's house. All these little attentions and courtesies may not seem to be of much value at the time, but they are mighty in the development of the depletion of human character. They are mighty in deciding what a man is to live a selfish or an unselfish life.

PERSONAL APPEAL.

Small essential the first: Appropriateness of personal appearance and neatness. A man who goes to work with his back and to the cleanliness of his person, and his neatness about his neck, and his cleanliness with which he is attired. God would never have allowed the "cauls and the ruffles and the ornaments of the headbands and the changeable suits of the modistes and the fine linen and the gloves and the veils" of the daughters of Zion, who walk with steeled forth necks and waists, walking and minding as if they were making a thing of it. There was a direct connection between a man's inner character and his outer appearance. Paul would never have commanded the women of the Corinthian church to be clean in public assemblage if he had not seen the social customs of the country, and the time implied, a mark of modesty and purity. There must be an unbroken spiritual link binding a man's personal appearance and his inner character. A man's statement, not only in words, but in the substance of his person, is certainly within the domain of the Holy Bible. The changeable fashions which God gave to the Israelites for careful, and he showed that he is not indifferent to the cleanliness of those who serve him. A right to doubt whether a person who is in public dress is clean in person or slovenly in appearance can offer acceptable worship.

HIDDEN TALENTS.

Some slovens talk one might call it was a sign of mental degeneracy for men and women to be careless of their personal appearance. They pretend to believe that a man who is clean and neat man is essentially a weak man. There are practically say that one of the signs of genius is a disregard of the domain of life. There are more ways of interpreting that. Some say that it is a sign of mental degeneracy for men and women to be careless of their personal appearance. They pretend to believe that a man who is clean and neat man is essentially a weak man. There are practically say that one of the signs of genius is a disregard of the domain of life. There are more ways of interpreting that.

FROM A MONTH.

Some slovens talk one might call it was a sign of mental degeneracy for men and women to be careless of their personal appearance. They pretend to believe that a man who is clean and neat man is essentially a weak man. There are practically say that one of the signs of genius is a disregard of the domain of life. There are more ways of interpreting that.

FOR THE HOME

Recipies for the Kitchen Hygiene and Other Notes for the Home-keeper.

DOMESTIC RECIPES.

Sally Linn.—Two eggs; one half cup sugar; one cup sweet milk; three cups yellow cornmeal; one tablespoonful butter; three tablespoonfuls baking powder. Bake in a rather quick oven twenty minutes; cut in squares.

Fruit Pop-Overs.—Four eggs beaten; butter size of an egg; two cups sugar; one cup milk; one cup raisins and currants mixed and floured; and yellow meal sufficient to make a medium thick batter. Bake in a gem pan. Nice for breakfast.

Old Man Waffles.—One pint of thick sour milk; two cups of one tablespoonful melted butter; one teaspoonful soda; one tablespoonful sugar; meal sufficient to make a good batter. Bake in waffle iron. They should be rich golden brown.

Chocolate Feather Cake.—The well-beaten egg, one cup sugar, 2 table-spoons melted butter, half cup sweet milk, 1/2 cups of St. Louis flour, one teaspoon cream tartar, half teaspoon soda, one egg, one cup of oil, and one cup of nuts. Put in two tablespoonfuls of chocolate, and put in the tin as you would marble cake. Bake a quick oven.

THE PYGMIES OF AFRICA.

A German scientist has recently brought out some interesting conclusions in regard to the pygmy race, of which specimens are still met with in the central part of Africa. It is probable that the pygmy races have existed also in Europe. This conclusion is arrived at from the examination of numerous skeletons which have been found in the region of Brixia in Silesia. Their height is considerably below the ordinary average, being about 4 feet 9 inches, which represents the mean figure for a whole group of skeletons. Kollman describes the remains of pygmies which have been found in Silesia. In this case the average height was found as being 4 feet 6 inches. Kollman has described the pygmy remains which were found in lower Austria, near Colmar. These are still smaller and the height of many of the specimens is but 4 feet 2 inches. They are considered to be composed of well-formed specimens and not of any way degenerate or pathologic. They seem to have perished in Europe in a comparatively recent epoch. The pygmies of Silesia appear to have been contemporaries of the human race and to have existed until the year 1000 A. D.

SECRETS OF SUCCESS.

What is the secret of success? asked the Sphinx. "Push," said the butler. "Take pains," said the window. "Never be led," said the jockey. "Be up to date," said the calendar. "Always keep cool," said the ice. "Never lose your head," said the clock. "Do a driving business," said the hammer. "Aspire to greater things," said the microscope. "Make much of small things," said the microscope. "Never do anything offhand," said the glove. "Spend much time in reflection," said the mirror. "Get a good pull with the ring," said the doorbell. "Find a good thing and stick to it," said the glue. "Strive to make a good impression," said the seal. "Put all things to your advantage," said the lath. "Make the most of your good points," said the compass.

SAILOR'S LIFE SPAN.

If one lived' of sailors as being short lived we would probably give as a cause of early death drowning, or, in the matter of diseases, pneumonia, would be the disease which would most readily suggest itself to our thoughts. Dr. Collinridge, a great English authority on all that concerns the health of the sailor, says it is a fact that consumption claims the largest number of victims from the seafaring class, and he attributes this fact to each berth in the sleeping arrangements on board ship. The maximum space allowed sailors is seventy-two cubic feet, while Dr. Collinridge points out that from a moderate sanitary point of view, one hundred feet should be provided.

IN GOOD OLD IRISH.

At a concert held in a certain town a soldier of the Black Watch occupied a seat in front of a private of an Irish regiment and his sweetheart. The latter was very much interested in the Highland music, and declared the regimental march on his cap and collar particularly. This badge is the figure and cross of St. Andrew, with the motto "Nemo me impune lacessit" (No one annoys me with impunity). "What does that motto mean," Patry asked the girl. "Phy," replied Pat, "it's Latin, but I've forgotten the English as it is. In good old Irish it means, 'Thread on the tail of me coat' if ye dare!"

AVOID APPEARANCE OF EVIL.

Small essential the next: The abstinence from all appearance of evil. The taking care of your life's actions which you may never be false to. Lights lurking your neighbors' eyes and friends upon the fatal rocks of sin. The refusal to eat meat, if by eating you may cause your brother to offend. "All things may be lawful, but all things are not expedient." was the substance of the Pauline injunction to the Christian church. "Phy," said sometimes he almost "To seem' and do it as 'to be." Mark you this: No man can afford in any way to have his influence cast upon the wrong side of any moral question. Nearly all our great religious teachers have recognized this truth. We must abstain from all appearance of evil on account of our influence over others. We must abstain from all appearances of evil on account also of the reactionary evil influence upon ourselves. One of the greatest bulwarks of the Christian religion is the desire to be thought of by your neighbors. A man

ORGAN BREAKS WINDOWS.

When the big organ commenced to play in the Sydney Town Hall the vibration caused by its 42ft. open diapason pipes broke several windows, and brought down a few hundredweights of plaster from the roof.

THE S. S. LESSON

INTERNATIONAL LESSON DEC. 6.

Text of the Lesson, I. Kings 2: 23-35. Golden Text, I. Kings 2: 26.

The statement in verse 23 that David loved the Lord, is a very important thing, but it is not so great as that which is found in I. Sam. xii, 24, 25, where it is said that David loved the Lord, and that he was a man of integrity. The significance of his name as the beloved of the Lord, is a very important thing, but it is not so great as that which is found in I. Sam. xii, 24, 25, where it is said that David loved the Lord, and that he was a man of integrity. The significance of his name as the beloved of the Lord, is a very important thing, but it is not so great as that which is found in I. Sam. xii, 24, 25, where it is said that David loved the Lord, and that he was a man of integrity.

FOR THE ME-LOVER.

Pie Crust.—One cup of lard, two cups of flour, one-half cup of water, two tablepoons of baking powder. Enough for two pies.

One-Pie.—One-half pint of sweet milk (thick), the yolk of one egg, two tablepoons of sugar, one tablepoon of flour, stir up with a little milk, like thick gravy, then flavor with anything you like, put in the crust which is already baked, and cover the top with the white of the egg well beaten, and put into oven to brown lightly.

Lemon Pie.—One and a half cups of sugar, two tablepoons cornstarch, one cup milk, one cup cream, one cup starch in the milk, add the other ingredients and cook in a double boiler; put in crust already baked, whites of eggs beaten and put on top, and put in the tin as you would marble cake. Have a quick oven.

HEAD HUNTERS.

Head hunters is the name given to the professional assassins of the Solomon Islands. The vocation of these men is to procure the heads of those whom they are hired to murder or to sell the victims for sacrificial purposes. Sometimes the enemies of a man offer a large sum, to be paid in the native shell money for the head, which will be a proof of death, blood and unsuspicious methods. The murder is necessary. The intention of the murderer will be to win the friendship of his victim, and a long period may elapse before the opportunity will arrive for the fatal stroke. It may thus often happen that the murdered man's death will be known when his body has been regarded as the ashes, and the most loving of intimates. Surely this is the most horrible of all professions followed for the sake of gain.

THE CAUSES OF DEATH.

Only 900 persons in 1,000,000, according to a medical authority, die of old age, while 1,200 succumb to gonorrhea, 18,400 to measles, 27,000 to apoplexy, 7,500 to consumption, 48,000 to scarlet fever, 25,000 to whooping-cough, 30,000 to typhoid and typhus, and 7,000 to rheumatism. The average yearly according to locality, but these are considered pretty accurate as regards the population of the globe as a whole.

FISH FLOUR FOR FOOD.

The fisheries represent one of Norway's chief industries, and quantities of fish are sold at very low rates, particularly during summer. One way in which these are utilized is by means of an invention which is known as fish flour. The resulting product, called fish flour, is easy to transport from one place to another, and has great nutritive value.

THE WATER'S INVASIONS.

About a square mile of France has been worn away by the English Channel in the last five years. In North Brittany has been noted a gradual subsidence of the land which has been in progress since 709, at which time the Channel Islands were joined to the coast by an isthmus.

ABOUT DOWNING STREET

PROCEEDINGS AT A SITTING OF THE CABINET.

Mr. Balfour is Kept and No Minister Can Take Notes at the Meetings.

It is reported that the Cabinet is to meet on Monday at Downing Street. The meeting is expected to be a very important one, as it will be the first since the resignation of Mr. Balfour. It is reported that Mr. Balfour is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings. It is also reported that Mr. Balfour is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings.

SUMMONING A MEETING.

The circumstances of the calling of a Cabinet meeting and the fact that it is a meeting of the public should be kept in mind. It is reported that Mr. Balfour is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings. It is also reported that Mr. Balfour is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings.

FOURTEEN ROOM.

Mr. Gladstone's private study is a very interesting place. It is reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings. It is also reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings.

NO NOTES TAKEN.

Mr. Gladstone's private study is a very interesting place. It is reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings. It is also reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings.

LONG TELEPHONE LINE.

The telephone line between London and Brussels is 244 miles long. It is reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings. It is also reported that Mr. Gladstone is to be kept at Downing Street, and that no Minister can take notes at the meetings.