Two young cyclists were speeding on Main street Saturday evening about dusk when one of them struck little Gladys McCutcheon, who was crossing the street, knocking her down and also throwing the cyclist, Stanley Varty, to the ground. Neither were seriously injured, but both much frightened. Slugging at lacrosse matches is abhorrent to every well-regulated mind. Hot-headed boys, made hotter by wine, may hurl word and detouring "lay-him-outs" into the scene of battle, but the sober men and women who go to see sport object to getting carnage. We think our boys should religiously abstain from that sort of lacrosse for their own sakes and for the honor of the town. Let the other fellows do it if that is their nature, but you, gentlemen, refrain, and trust to the honor of the Before for justice.

Two Much Esteemed Young People Unite Amid Sunshine and Gladness. Miss Bessie Witter, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Witter, of the Markdale House, and Mr. Ernest George Bingham, of Barrie, traveler for the T. Kinnear Co., of Toronto, were married Tuesday morning at 6.30 o'clock under the most happy circumstances. The ceremony took place in Christ Church, the Rector, Rev. J. R. Newell, officiating. With the bride stood Miss Susie Tyson, of Warton, who was elegantly gowned in an Elionne dress, trimmed with coral passementerie, with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Dr. Arnell, of Barrie. The church was handsomely decorated with bridal wreath and hawthorne blossoms. The wedding march was beautifully played by Mr. John Dundas. A full choir honored the occasion. After the ceremony all the guests repaired to the Markdale House, which was decorated with carnations and similar, and where a most inviting breakfast was partaken of. On the morning trip Mr. and Mrs. Bingham, under showers of rice and good wishes, left for Detroit, whence their itinerary would radiate to other cities in the States, the period to cover some weeks. The marriage awoke an ecstasy of admiration on the part of the friends and this took form in gifts, which had the true ring of utility, being sensible as well as superb. The groom's gift to the bride was a very handsome pearl ring; to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent; and to the groomsmen a set of beautiful initial, gold cuff links. Among the invited guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Arnell, Barrie; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Reynolds, Beaton; Miss Emma Bingham, Barrie; and Mrs. Fremlin, Orangeville. We join in the throng of well-wishers in their acclamations.

Miss Dillon—Mr. Ryan.

A Pretty Wedding in St. Joseph's Church.—Generous Gifts.—An Extended Honeymoon. Monday morning, June 6th, was the occasion of a very pretty wedding at St. Joseph's Church, Markdale, the contracting parties being Mr. Thomas Ryan of Normanby and Miss Mary Dillon of Markdale. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Frank Ryan, while the bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Mary Norris. At 10.30 the nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. A. C. Walter, D.D., assisted by the choir, after which the bridal party, accompanied by several of their most intimate friends, drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Meagher, where a sumptuous repast awaited them, the tables being laden with the choicest viands. The bride looked beautiful in a gown of cream silk voile over cream silk, the skirt adorned with tucks and ruckings of the voile; the bodice with a yoke of white silk, inlaid with lace insertions and edged with silk applique; very wide cream silk lace was gathered about the bodice and the shoulders in 1890 style. The sleeves were made with a deep cuff of white silk and lace insertions, the upper part being gathered in full at the elbow. A white silk belt and a dainty collar of applique with tulle roses completed the toilet, the whole being set off by the daintiest creation of a white chiffon picture hat with a beautiful white ostrich plume extending across the hat and falling gracefully over the left side. The bridesmaid looked charming in a dress of fawn voile over pink, with hat to match. Seventy-five guests partook of the bridal dinner, after which the afternoon was pleasantly spent until about four o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Ryan took the train for Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo, amid showers of rice and expressions of good will. [The bride's travelling dress was a navy-blue tailor made suit, trimmed with black silk braid, and worn with a white silk blouse. The bride was the recipient of numerous and costly presents, including a gift of one hundred dollars from her father, brothers and sisters, and a beautiful dinner set from her mother. Miss Dillon was one of the parish's most estimable young ladies and she will be very much missed in social circles, but what is one community's loss is another's gain. May all blessings attend them in their new home.]

Four Find Watery Grave.

Collingwood Plunged in Mourning over the Quadruple Drowning on Saturday Evening. The deepest gloom pervades the town of Collingwood and the one topic on the streets is the quadruple drowning on Saturday evening of four well known and active young men, three of whom are connected with the most promising families of Collingwood, the fourth being the son of a clergyman residing in Bowmanville. They are: Harvey Stephens, son of C. E. Stephens, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Navigation Company; Gerald Munson, son of Rev. E. H. Munson, rector of All Saints' Church; Harry Andrews, son of S. D. Andrews, of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Co.; Edmund Carroll, teller of the Bank of Toronto, son of Rev. J. Carroll, of Bowmanville. The party left Collingwood on Saturday afternoon for the month of the Nottawasaga River, a popular summer resort for the people of Collingwood and St. Mary's Bay. The last seen of them was by a young man, Percy Lavers, who was returning from the fishing grounds adjoining the sand beach. Later their boat was picked up by a fisherman named Robert Bishop, who returning from Nottawasaga River, When found it contained considerable water and the mast was floating at the side, attached by the wire stays which are used to support it when in an upright position, evidently having been wrenched from its place, the deck was broken, and it is supposed they were struck by a sudden squall. Up to Wednesday noon the search for the bodies has been unsuccessful. A few copies of last week's STANDARD were yet to spare. Price 3 cents each or two for 5 cents. The semi-annual meeting of the loyal Orange County Lodge of North Grey will be held in the Orange hall, Berkeley, on Friday, June 17th at 1.30 p.m.

Lacrosse Notes.

The Wellingtons of Owen Sound had a walk over in their game with the Durhams of Dufferin, the County Town on Tuesday, the score being 4-0. The next game of the series of district No. 2 of the Junior C. L. will be played in Markdale on Friday, June 24th, between Dundalk and the home team. The Junior Thistles of Dundalk, and the Aberdeens II, of Markdale, played an interesting game on the grounds here last Friday night, which resulted in a score of 3-0 in favor of the Markdale boys. What the title fellows lacked in knowledge of the game was made up for in outburst and sound, all worked hard and earnestly for the victory. The first goal was scored by Willie Haskett, the second by Lenard Walden, and the third by Willie Kelly. The youngsters exhibited some fairly good stick handling, and a few.

Death of Miss Anna J. Knott.

Death even under the most consoling circumstances brings inexpressible sadness; but when the victim is cut down suddenly, far from home and loved ones, and opportunity for last fond farewells has been denied, it has a specially sorrowful significance. Miss Anna J. Knott left her home in Buffalo, N.Y., in March last for Edmonton, N.W.T., being accompanied by her brother John, and a number of other Buffalonians, all of whom intended making their future homes in that progressive western town. Her father and another brother preceded her a year previously, and are engaged in farming about fifty miles from Edmonton, it being the intention of the family to settle in the west. In the course of her professional work as nurse Miss Knott was called about a month ago to care for the wife and child of Mr. McKay of Edmonton. Small-pox unexpectedly developed, and Miss Knott was quarantined with her patients, who progressed favorably and recovered. Miss Knott became ill, but her condition was not regarded as serious, the attending physician assuring her friends that the quarantine would soon be removed. A second and third vaccination were considered necessary, however, and as a result, presumably, of these frequent inoculations, together with the contagion, alarming conditions developed about the 24th May. Dr. Patterson of Winnipeg, Dominion Health Inspector, was summoned, and arrived on Thursday evening. But the combined skill of the physicians proved unavailing. On Friday and Saturday the patient was delirious; on Sunday she became unconscious, and in the words of a touching letter from her friend, Miss Blonch, she "sleep peacefully away at
