All will be pleased to learn that Rev. Mr. Rodwell and family are greatly enjoying their holiday outing. In a letter to ye editor this week, written at Parry Sound, the Rev. gentleman says: "We are all enjoying our holidays very much among our old friends, who are all very kind to us as usual. We caught a fine fish on Wednesday weighing ten and a half pounds. This is no "fish story," but a real fact. We have enough fish for three weeks now." They expect to be absent about a month. Every now and again the rising generation need to be reminded of editain failings, and one of these is the tendency of verdant youths with more physical energy than brain power to misbehave in public. They do this to distinguish themselves in the eyes of kindred spirits and think it quite clever to throw peanut shells or other light missles across the hall during a concert; and to stamp on the floor and to make unnecessary noise is one of their chief delights. If such antics train had by this time gained considerannoyed nobody else it would be a pity to deprive them of their enjoyment. Though the majority tolerate this sort of thing they do not like it a bit and would gladly see some one make an effectual protest against it. Father and son were thrown from the vehicle but were not seriously injured. The horse turned in at the station gate and slipped and fell on the cement walk, where he received several severe cuts and bruises on the legs which required the attendance of the V.S. He picked himself up again and careered around the station yard, where he was caught and in a short time soothed into submission. His nerves were wrought to a tension seldom witnessed in animals. The wagon was badly smashed. Mr. Newlove may thank his lucky stars matters were not worse, and he and Robbie were fortunate in their escape.
