

Church News.

Rev. J. R. Newell preached Harvest Home sermons at Dundalk and Proton last Sunday.

Crossley and Hunter, evangelists, will open an evangelistic campaign in Collingwood on October 2nd.

Rev. J. R. Watts, of Shelburne, will be inducted to the pastorate of the Presbyterian congregation at Easton church, Esqueping township, on Oct. 4th.

The union prayer and praise service of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations will be held in the latter church on Thursday evening of this week.

Rev. Dr. Chown, Secretary of the Committee on Temperance and Moral Reform, of the Methodist church, leaves this week for a two months' campaign in British Columbia.

There is a possibility that the missionary society of the Church of England in Canada, which meets in Montreal next month, will call upon the church to contribute $125,000 next year for mission work, an increase of $25,000.

The Annual Meeting of the Markdale Branch Bible Society will be held on Sabbath evening, October 9th, in the Markdale Methodist Church commencing at eight o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. A. Matheson of Pricerville, Agent of the Society, and by Revs. Newell, Rodwell and others.

The "Christian Endeavor Societies and the Young People's Associations in connection with the different churches are specially invited to take an active interest in this work. A silver collection will be taken up.

Owing to the inclement weather on Saturday last which made it unpleasant for driving, Rev. Mr. Rodwell of this place and Rev. Mr. Edwards of Thornbury decided by telephone not to exchange pulpits in the Methodist church on Sabbath last.

In the morning in the Methodist church here Rev. Mr. Rodwell delivered a forceful and inspiring sermon from the text found in Mat. 25: 10. Mr. Matson sang beautifully the solo: "Behold the bridegroom cometh." The evening service was rich with blessing and profit to all who attended.

Harvest Home services were held in Christ Church last Sunday, when the Rev. M. M. Goldberg preached two excellent sermons to large congregations. The musical portion of the services was under the able leadership of Mr. J. H. Dundas.

The church was most beautifully and tastefully decorated with grain, flowers and fruits, and reflected great credit on the willing workers who had spent much time and pains to produce an harmonious effect. The display was certainly the best which has been seen at this church for many years.

The Tenth Annual Convention of the Owen Sound District Methodist Church, Owen Sound, on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 29th and 30th. The programme will be an interesting one.

Miss Minnie Rutledge is the delegate from Markdale league, and on Friday morning will give a paper on "Social Work in the League." Rev. Mr. Rodwell of this place will give an address on "The Epworth League: Its History, Aims and Outlook," on Thursday evening.

It is hoped that as many from Markdale as can possibly attend the convention will do so.

Rev. L. H. Kirby, English Church rector, Collingwood, has won a signal victory over the warden of All Saints' Church of that town, of which he has been rector for many years.

There was friction between the congregation and pastor, and the latter refused to resign until a claim for repairs made by him on the rectory was paid.

In consideration of Mr. Kirby vacating the rectory, the warden agreed to recognize the claim and a board of arbitrators settled the amount at $1,500. Mr. Kirby left the parish, but the award was never paid.

Flesherton

On Saturday night last the Methodist church was packed to the doors and some unable to get in to hear Rev. A. H. Ranton deliver his lecture, "From Barroom to Pulpit." Mr. Ranton briefly outlined his life, saying that forty years ago he was born in the city of St. Johns, N. B.; at seven years of age he lost his mother, a year later his father, after which, till about 17 years of age, he lived with relatives near Barrie.

About two years were then spent attending bar in hotels at Owen Sound and Barrie, after which he was converted, taught school for a short time and then felt his call to the Ministry, which he entered and has since been actively engaged in the work of saving souls.

Mr. Ranton is an admirably gifted man and for an hour and a half thrilled and swayed his audience at will, while under the following heads, the social, economic and legal aspect of the question, he dealt with the evils of the liquor traffic.

Large congregations continue to attend the union evangelistic services, and the interest deepens under the powerful preaching of Rev. Mr. Ranton. On Sunday morning the Presbyterian church was filled to the doors and the service was very impressive.

In the evening, though extra seats were provided, the Methodist church could not contain all who sought admittance. The service was again very impressive and a large number were seekers after light.

Mr. Andrew Carr, who lost his grain by fire, has this week had his loss lightened by a contribution of about thirty dollars from sympathizing friends who were waited on by Messrs. Andy Wilson and Dan Leitch.

The Canadian Jubilee Singers are booked for here on October 8th, under the auspices of the Methodist Ladies' Ladies Aid.

On Wednesday of this week Rev. L. W. Thom of this place was at Maxwell performing a marriage ceremony which took place at high noon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Glassford, whose daughter, Burnice Mary, became the bride of Mr. Wm. J. Morston, of Toronto.

Mr. E. P. Glassford and Miss Emma Henry discharged the duties of groomsmen and bridesmaid. After a sumptuous wedding dinner the happy couple left to take the evening train for Toronto.

Miss Martin, of our public school staff, received the sad news on Thursday last of the sudden death of her mother at Preston. She left on the evening train to attend the funeral and has the sympathy of many friends in her sorrow.

Rev. L. W. Thom, moderator of the Presbyterian congregations at Maxwell, Faversham and McIntyre, was in that held on Sunday preaching and citing the congregations for a meeting to call a minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mitchell drove to Alliston on Friday last and spent a couple of days with Mr. Mitchell's mother and sisters.

Mr. Wm. Little of Owen Sound is visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. John Brown.

Mr. F. E. Ayers of Chicago is paying his sister, Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, a short visit this week.

Mrs. D. J. Jamieson of Toronto is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitten.

House of Refuge Notes.

(By An Inmate.)

Mr. James Grier of Blantyre was admitted to the Home as a pay inmate on Thursday last. He is an old bachelor and has been living alone in a shanty for the past forty years.

He is eighty-eight years of age and appears to be possessed with all the characteristics of second childhood.

There are now seventeen male inmates, three of whom pay their board. The following is their numerical and descriptive standing.—Number one is an Irishman and by no means a shirk, for he's always ready when called upon for any kind of work.

Two, is a little, aged and smart, but deaf as any pine; but he's always busy doing chores, and feeding the swine. No. three cares for the cows, some say he's very crabbed, but you see, that's just his way.

For he's not the least bit rabid. Four, is badly crippled, yet he does lots of chores, he lights the morning fires and helps to sweep the floors; he helps look in the Laundry, doing things up to the notch; by his brogue you'd say he's Irish, 'be me own, 'says he, 'I'm Scotch.

Five sits in his chair all day, he can neither walk or stand, but he sews, whistles, plays the fife, and sings to beat the band. He always seems contented, he dearly loves a smoke, he always in good humor is, and likes a little joke.

Six attends the hospital he is more R than F, for the dinner-bell he always hears, though at other times he's deaf. Seven's a tall, thin, poor old man, not much more than alive, his race on earth is nearly run, he's over eighty-five.

Eight is a very sullen gent, his comrades call him "Doc," but few of them say much to him, for fear they'd get a knock. Nine is troubled with rheumatiz, which does torment him so; 'tis strange he feels it in his feet, which were buried years ago.

Ten is a very little man, we call him "Derby Jim"; so very small and quiet is he, we scarce can notice him. Number eleven lies in his bed, he's blind and cannot see; we heartily sympathize. Poor number twelve can scarcely walk, not even to the table; to work he's always very willing, though very much ill-able.

Thirteen and fourteen pay their way, they're living at their ease; the former came from Saravak, his name is Thomas Pease. The latter was a shoemaker, he also used to sail; he's now a private gentleman, and well known in Markdale. Fifteen is a queer old black, neither butler, groom, or lackey he's mighty lazy when at work, but mighty hard on baccy.

Sixteen is a Scotch Canuck, who can the gaelic speak; his legs are long and weak. He is a carpenter by trade but his shattered health needs rest, his days for labor now are past, his tools lie in the chest. Seventeen's a little old bachelor, just came here of late; no wonder he's a child again, he's past four score and eight.

We're English, Irish, Scotch and Dutch mingled with one another, but may we live in harmony and good-will to each other; be obedient to our superiors and do the best we can to make life smooth and happy, the short time we remain. May God bless the Master of this Home and the Matron too, and all our benefactors, and their children too.

On Sunday afternoon Divine service was conducted by the Governor. Mr. Harness selecting for his discourse the latter clause of the 6th verse of the 64th chapter of Isaiah: "And we all do fall as a leaf, and our iniquities like the wind, have taken us away."

It is needless to say that Mr. H. delivered his discourse in his usual manner, and not only was it appropriate to the season of the year, but also applicable to his hearers, whom he earnestly entreated to be ever on the watch for the fall of the withering leaf.

The following ladies and gentlemen were welcome attendants at our meeting, namely:—Mr. and Mrs. Muxlow; Mr. and Mrs. Sewell; Mrs. J. Lyons; Mrs. W. Fleisher; Mrs. Bowers; Mrs. Halbert and Mrs. Irwin.

Beautiful weather for the Fair. Mrs. Love and two little daughters, Nellie and Jennie, of Uffington, are visiting the former's daughter, Mrs. Rev. Lawrence, at the parsonage.

Allie Barker, the talented organist of the church. The bride looked very youthful and pretty in her wedding gown of cream French voile over cream Taffeta silk with shirred yoke of dainty lace and sash of marvellous satin with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white asters tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Ethel Loney of Toronto, sister of the groom, who acted as bridesmaid, was dressed in fawn voile over green taffeta, and carried a bouquet of asters tied with white ribbon.

Mr. George Taylor, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. A reception was afterwards held at the bride's parents, Alma street, where a sumptuous tea was spread in the dining room, which was prettily decorated with cut flowers.

Misses Gertrude Scott and Frankie Furrow, of Oshawa, cousins of the bride, served the repast in most excellent style. The bride's travelling gown was of steel gray pearl goods, trimmed with narrow strappings of satin.

A most becoming picture hat was worn of white felt and white Taffeta silk ribbon and plum. The happy couple left on Friday morning for Toronto, where they will reside.

Kimberley. A number of our citizens purpose taking in the East Grey Agricultural Fair at Flesherton Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. J. R. Fawcett and son, Saul, are busy erecting the telephone poles between here and Markdale.

The typhoid fever patients, Messrs. C. G. Proctor, Simon Fawcett and W. J. Abernombie, are all improving rapidly. Messrs. Proctor and Fawcett are able to be out.

Mr. John Huff, principal of our school has been obliged to go to his home in Meaford in account of illness.

Miss Henderson has returned to her home in Wiarton after a pleasant visit with friends here.

Mr. Ernest Buckingham, our popular young miller, has returned from his trip to Delawar bringing his bride with him. We offer our congratulations.

Mr. Taylor Abernombie has rented the Thurston farm, on the 4th line, north of Kimberley.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Myles, accompanied by Mr. Edick of Rochester, N. Y., drove to Owen Sound recently.

Bonn.—On September 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ellis, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Walker visited in Owen Sound during the fair.
