

Watch Repairing

At my bench still goes on with unabated energy. Every equipment for doing work thoroughly and quickly, combined with a thorough mechanical and horological knowledge of watch construction have enabled me to successfully repair every watch and clock of merit that have been entrusted to my care during the past nine years. The means of proving the above statement is by a fair trial which I hereby solicit.

FLESHERTON HAPPENINGS (By our own Correspondent)

The Mission Band in the Methodist church gave a dainty Japanese tea and pleasing programme at their annual entertainment in the school room of the church on Wednesday evening of last week. A cantata, "Crystal and Coin," was nicely rendered by about thirty boys and girls; a very pleasing dialogue was given by the little Misses Gladys Cornfield, Dell Thurston, Irene Wilson and Hazel Thompson, and a pretty duett was rendered by Lillian and Laura Armstrong. Altogether the entertainment was enjoyable and successful.

Prince Arthur Lodge A. F. & A. M. was visited on Friday evening last by Rt. Wor. Bro. E. A. Wakefield, of F.I.D.C.M. of Georgian Bay District. There was considerable business before the lodge, but the special work of the evening lay in the exemplification of the Fellow Craft degree, which was conferred upon a candidate and was observed with a scrutinizing eye by the Deputy Grand Master, who in his address afterwards praised the officers for the very efficient manner in which they performed their duties and complimented the lodge on its prosperity and very satisfactory condition throughout. He was especially pleased, as was also the Past Grand Master, with the lodge's active interest and helpful work in behalf of the Semi-Centennial Benevolent Fund. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the distinguished visitor for his instructive and inspiring address. At the conclusion of business all adjourned to the dining hall, where a beautiful spread was waiting prepared by the ladies in the village who were paid many compliments on their culinary skill. After satisfying the inner man an enjoyable hour was spent in speech-making and song. The toast to the King called forth the National Anthem which was heartily sung. The toast to the Grand Lodge was responded to with a finished and very interesting speech by Rt. Wor. Bro. Wakefield, who also by special request favored the company with a splendidly-rendered song, "The man behind the gun," which was enthusiastically received. Short speeches were given by Past Masters M. K. Richardson, A. S. Van Dusen, W. J. Bellamy and F. W. Hickling; the present Master Bro. John Wright, and the Chaplain, Bro. Rev. J. S. I. Wilson. The ladies who furnished the delicious spread were given a hearty vote of thanks which was moved by Rt. Wor. Bro. Wakefield, who in his felicitous remarks on the kindness and estimable qualities of woman, said:

"There is joy in woman's gladness, when she's glad; And there's sorrow in her sadness when she's sad."

But the gladness of her gladness, And the sadness of her sadness, Are nothing to her sadness when she's mad."

Auld Lang Syne brought the happy proceedings to a close.

Messrs. Wm. Stewart, Frank Cairns and John Chard were ordained to the office of elder in Chalmers Church on Sabbath last. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Thom, and was impressive.

Rev. Mr. Rodwell of Markdale equipped the Methodist pulpit in the interests of the Educational Fund of the church on Sabbath last; and his sermons were able expositions of Divine truth, edifying and impressive.

We notice Mr. Joseph Stinson of Chesley, formerly of Artemesia, has been appointed Division Court Clerk for one of the divisions in the County of Bruce.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will have a box social on the 27th inst. Young people will do well to remember the date, as a pleasant evening is promised.

Mr. Samuel Jacques, who has spent the past few years with friends in this neighborhood, leaves this week for Lethbridge, where he will help his uncle, Mr. J. C. Reynolds, at seedling business before the lodge, but the special work of the evening lay in the exemplification of the Fellow Craft degree, which was conferred upon a candidate and was observed with a scrutinizing eye by the Deputy Grand Master, who in his address afterwards praised the officers for the very efficient manner in which they performed their duties and complimented the lodge on its prosperity and very satisfactory condition throughout. Rev. Mr. Rodwell of Markdale conducting a suitable and touching service. Paid bearers were Messrs. Robert S. and J. A. Halbert, brothers of deceased, Geo. Turner, brother-in-law of James Halbert, a cousin, and William Halbert, a nephew. Three children survived Minnie, aged 13 years, Willie, 10 years, and Nat, 5 years old, the two eldest being comfortably incorporated with the family of their uncle Joseph Halbert of Harkaway, and the youngest with his uncle S. J. Halbert of Markdale. Thus a happy and prosperous household of eighteen months ago has been broken up, the parents to the home above and the children to pitiable homes on earth.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Kinney of Victoria and vicinity recently.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Hawken visited the County Capital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Halbert and Mr. J. Halbert of Mono attended the last sardines in connection with the late Mrs. Williamson.

Within two years the hand of death has removed from our midst Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson, who were respected citizens and beloved by all who knew them. As they shall be remembered by STAND AND READERS, Mr. Williamson, while in the prime of life and vigor, strength received a kick from a horse on November 10, 1903, which resulted in his death within 32 hours. The shock to his devoted wife was so great that she never fully recovered, and on Wednesday of last week, April 12, 1907, passed peacefully to her reward. On Friday a large concourse of sympathizers and sorrow-
