Fashion Talk

IN SUMMER ARRAY.

Vertical bands of lace, reaching from neck to waistband, are the only trimming of some exceedingly pretty [illegible] plaited skirts in sheer, [illegible] material.

There is a lovely dimity which has a white ground broken with groups of [illegible] sprinkled with rosebud, [illegible] glory, chrysanthemum [illegible] designs—all favorite patterns for the season—in various colorings.

Short journeys nothing is better than heavy linen, blue, brown, [illegible] or even white. The smartest [illegible] suit is made with a [illegible] skirt and a box coat. Some of the white ones have colored [illegible] collars and cuffs. The thinnest [illegible] may be worn under the loose [illegible] and white canvas or black or [illegible] leather ties may be worn.

[illegible] de soie, lace and [illegible] are being [illegible] building up smart hats for [illegible] wear, while tulle is once [illegible] its part in the trimming of [illegible] straw hats.

A fancy shaped clothes hamper is a novelty of its kind and is more attractive in outline and color than [illegible] numbers of its class. It is [illegible] of raffia, woven with braided [illegible] straws in a mixture of green, [illegible] color and red.

The tailored gown is the latest outgrowth. The skirts of these [illegible] are as correct in line and finish as the tailor's art can make them, while the jackets or coats are [illegible] made and are more or [illegible] elaborate. Worn over dainty [illegible] or silk blouses, they are becoming and appropriate for almost [illegible] occasion.

The embroidered collar and sleeve [illegible] of linen or other wash material [illegible] frocks of wool or silk [illegible] of the season's fads, and another fad is the use of velvet collars [illegible] linen and other tub materials, [illegible] themselves to a tailor finish.

Skirts grow wider and wider. Even the moderate ones are now at least [illegible] yards around the hem, while [illegible] are not too many to be considered for skirts of thin material). Materials have to be cut into many [illegible] to make this great width possible. As a consequence, perhaps, or, at least as a compensation, skirts are trimmed hardly at all except those of elaborate costumes. The hem appears on nearly all the new tailor-made and demi-toilet skirts.

A novel waist of white Japanese silk has a shoulder band extending over the sleeve tops of the tucks. Tucks also make a front panel. The shoulder bands are bordered with an elaborate lace insertion which also edges the front panel of tucks and curves at each side in bolero effect. A vertical band of the lace, ending in a whimsical curl, trims each sleeve. Stocks and cuffs are made of the lace.

One sees plenty of shepherd's plaid traveling gowns, and very cool and appropriate they seem. Somehow these gowns, made with short, plaited skirts and short bolero jackets, seem exactly the right thing for the woman who is at her best in a mannish linen shirt waist. The two [illegible] are all-the-year-'round practical and smart. With the checked suits are worn wide black belts of leather [illegible] with enormous gilt or brass buckles.

The neck scarfs are both longer and broader than those worn last year, and this means that they will be very proud, indeed, for last season they nearly covered the front of the waist. With the plaited waist, of course, there is nothing smarter than pique or plain linen stock or four-in-hand, and these are too inexpensive in the shops to be troubled about at home, but it is wise to look to the fit of them, for if of the straight sort, that is, if not carved to fit the neck at the lower edge, they are sure to prove misfits and be most unsatisfactory.

SULTAN'S KITCHEN.

The private kitchen of the Sultan of Turkey is a veritable fortress, consisting of a small chamber situated to the right of the great entrance, and is guarded by barred windows and an armor-plated door. The cook officiates under the ever-watchful eye of the Kelardjhi bachi, one of the most weighty functionaries in Yildiz Palace at Constantinople, for the health, the very life, even of the ruler is at his mercy. When cooked, each dish is fastened with red wax, bearing the official seal of the Kelardjhi, and remains hermetically closed until the seals are broken in the Sultan's own presence.

His Majesty's life is passed in a long series of elaborate precautions. However, in spite of the care he takes of his health, Abdul Hamid, after a reign of twenty-five years, looks prematurely old and broken. His weakness is extreme and his body so thin that it is little more than a skeleton.

A JOB WORTH THE GETTING.

The Speakership of the British House of Commons is a good job. With his salary of $25,000 a year, it carries the use of a magnificent residence in the Palace of Westminster, overlooking the Thames, and various allowances, perquisites, and prerogatives. And when the holder retires, or is retired, he drops into a comfortable pension of $20,000 a year for the remainder of his life and a peerage. Wm. Gully, the Speaker who has just retired—a grandson, by the way, of a boxing expert, bookmaker, and Derby winner celebrated in his day—now enters upon the enjoyment of these pleasant things.

WORK-WORN MEN.

Can Obtain New Health and Strength Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. Edgard Martel, 98 St. Peter street, Quebec, is one of the thousands of workingmen throughout Canada who cheerfully admit that they are kept in health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To a reporter who interviewed him, Mr. Martel said:—"The present condition of my health contrasts strikingly with what it was nine months ago. Then I felt that I was almost at death's door, while now I am strong and well. This happy change is entirely due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am a workingman, and it is little wonder that after years of diligent toil my system was gradually run down. My blood got as thin as water, and I grew so poorly that the least exertion would leave me weak and trembling. I consulted a doctor, who said that I was run down through hard work, but his medicine did not help me any. A few weeks later I was forced to quit work, and shortly after that had to remain in bed most of the time. One day a fellow workman called to see me, and induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before the second box was finished I had a better appetite and relished my meals, and with this came new strength. In a few weeks I was able to go out again, and in about six weeks from the time I began using the pills I was able to return to work my health completely restored and my strength as vigorous as ever it had been. I attribute my complete recovery entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I think every hard working man would be better for using a box of these pills occasionally."

Mr. Martel's advice should be taken by every workingman. The only way to have health and strength is to keep the blood rich and pure, and the only way to get rich, strength producing blood is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they actually make new blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, make tired, worn out men and women vigorous and strong. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LARGEST HOSPITAL.

Berlin will shortly be able to boast that it contains the largest hospital in the world. The new institution, which is to be called after the famous physiologist, the Rudolf Virchow Hospital, will be fitted with accommodation for 2,000 patients. When fully equipped it will have a staff of 650 physicians, nurses, attendants and servants. In connection with the hospital there will be a pathological and anatomical laboratory, bath-house with medico-mechanical institute, section for Rontgen appliances, and a separate building also for apothecaries. Hitherto the largest German hospital was that at Eppendorf, near Hamburg, with accommodation for 1,600 patients. The size of the new Berlin hospital may be best shown when compared with the London Hospital, with 780 beds, and the Marylebone Infirmary, with 744.

DANGEROUS DIARRHOEA.

Prevalent in Summer Months — What a Mother Should Do.

Children are more likely to be attacked by diarrhoea during the summer months than at any other season. It is one of the most dangerous symptoms of illness in a child of any age. But it should be remembered that diarrhoea is a symptom, not a disease. Never try to stop diarrhoea, because it is an effort of nature to cleanse the bowels and get rid of the decayed food-stuffs in them. Diarrhoea is bad—but things would be worse for the child if diarrhoea didn't come. While a mother should never try to stop diarrhoea, she should stop the cause. Diarrhoea is a symptom of indigestion having set up decay in the food that is in the bowels. And the way to cure it is to cleanse the little tender bowels with Baby's Own Tablets. It would seem strange to treat diarrhoea with a laxative if we didn't remember the cause of it. Both diarrhoea and constipation are the results of indigestion assuming different forms, and both are cured by Baby's Own Tablets. But the Tablets are more than a mere laxative. They are absolutely a specific for all the minor ills that come to infants and young children, whether a new-born babe or a boy or girl ten or twelve years. Here's a bit of proof. Mrs. Geo. McGregor, Hamilton, Ont., says:—"When my baby was teething he had diarrhoea, was very cross and did not sleep well. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets, and there was no more trouble. I now always give him the Tablets when he has any little ailment, and he is soon better." At this season no mother should be without Baby's Own Tablets in the house. You can get them at medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A USEFUL MEMBER.

The small son of a clergyman who was noted for his tiresome sermons overheard two friends of his father saying how dry they were and how hard it was to keep awake during them. The following Sunday, while the minister was preaching, he was astounded to see his son throwing pebbles at the congregation. The clergyman frowned angrily at him, when the boy piped out in a clear treble voice:

"It's all right, pop. You go on preaching. I'll keep them awake."

He (after the ceremony)—"Do you really think I shall make a good mate, darling?" She—"Oh, you're all right! How do you like your captain?"

THE RULES OF WARFARE

WHAT SOLDIERS CAN DO AND CAN'T DO.

The Conduct of Armies in the Field Becomes More Humane.

Up till within the memory of people now living, civilized nations waged war much as do savage races at this present day.

Now, of course, all this is altered. Modern scientific warfare is hedged around with as many rules and regulations as is modern scientific football, and the same penalty is incurred for foul or unfair play—namely, the stern disapprobation of the spectators.

The rules of war were never played so scrupulously as they are now. Even the slightest hint from one belligerent that its opponent is not observing the rules of war brings the eyes of the whole civilized world to bear on

THE ALLEGED OFFENCE.

Should one belligerent have cause to complain of the behavious of the other, it makes a formal protest to the neutral nations, provided those nations were signatories at the Peace Convention at the Hague to that rule of war alleged to be broken. Up to the present, however, there have been few complaints during the Russo-Japanese war, and even those have mostly been traced to the independent actions of a few soldiers.

The presence of a sick or wounded soldier in a dwelling house confers protection upon it, and exempts its other occupants from having troops quartered upon them. Commanders are forbidden to requisition the property of such occupants.

Wounded prisoners of war must be sent back to their own country as soon as cured, on condition of not returning to the seat of hostilities, or again bearing arms during the rest of the war.

POISON PROHIBITED.

Among other things prohibited are the employment of poison, or of poisoned arms or projectiles, or of "any arms, projectiles, or material of a nature to cause superfluous injury.

It is also unlawful for a commander to issue an order that no quarter is to be given; nor may any town, fortress or other place be given over to pillage, even when taken by assault.

Moreover, an enemy, having surrendered, or laid down his arms, must not be killed or wounded. Nor is it permissible to kill or wound treacherously individuals belonging to the hostile nation or army, even although these may be under arms at the time.

Making improper use of a flag of truce, or any other ensign or banner, or dressing in the enemy's uniform in order to deceive the said enemy, is also barred; and commanders must not attack or bombard towns, villages, habitations or buildings which are not defended.

BULLETS THAT FLATTEN.

The use of small-arm projectiles, "which expand or flatten easily in the human body, such as bullets with a hard envelope, which does not entirely cover the core, or is pierced with incisions," was prohibited at the Peace Convention at The Hague in 1899.

But to this the representatives of Great Britain would not agree, asserting that the use of the "dumdum" bullet—against which the clause was obviously aimed—was essential for the safety of civilized troops waging war against savage races, such as our soldiers had frequently to encounter.

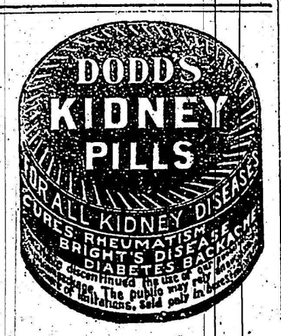
Neither would we assent to the clauses prohibiting the dropping of explosives from balloons, and making it unlawful to fire at an enemy projectiles charged with asphyxiating or deleterious gases.

No exception was, however, taken by us, or any other nation, to the very stringent regulations adopted as regards spies. Formerly these unfortunates got exceedingly short shrift; and even among humane commanders, that but little care was taken to sift the charges against suspected individuals.

Now, however, no spy, even although taken in the act, may be executed without fair and proper trial; and a spy who, after rejoining the army to which he belongs, is subsequently captured, becomes a prisoner of war, and cannot be punished for his previous acts of espionage.

TREATMENT OF NATIVES.

New Zealand has given a lesson to the world in its treatment of the Maori. The Government, after an honorable peace had been concluded, preserved the lands to him, looked after him, educated him, honored him, accorded him respect, and cared for his health. In the New Zealand Parliament there are several Maori members, in the New Zealand Cabinet there is a half-caste, while the Maori king has a seat in it also. Indeed, the educated Maori is anywhere and everywhere regarded as the equal of the Pakeha.



THIS VETERAN GIVES REASONS

WHY HE PINS HIS FAITH TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Worn Out With Chronic Kidney Disease — The Great Canadian Kidney Remedy Banished His Pains.

Acadie Siding, Kent Co., N. B., June 26—(Special).—Calixte Richard, J. P., one of the most highly respected men in this part of the country, has joined the great army of those who pin their faith to Dodd's Kidney Pills. As usual Mr. Richard has good reasons for what he does and he states them as follows:

"I have been troubled with Kidney Disease for forty years and the result was I found myself a worn out man at seventy-two. But after using two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I find all my pains are gone and I can employ all my days with the best results. I cannot let the opportunity pass of letting the public know the great good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all rheumatic pains by removing the cause—Uric acid in the blood. They put vigor and energy in place of the pain.

POSTCARDS IN BATTLE.

A collector of postcards in St. Petersburg states that all the soldiers in the Japanese army are supplied with very peculiar postcards. These cards are surrounded with an artistic mourning border, printed on a piece of white silk, and are worn by the Japanese soldiers on their chests. Before going to the war they write on the postcard the name and address of the person to whom they wish the information of their death to be sent. In case of death on the field of battle the postcards are stamped with the seal of the regiment certifying the death of the bearer, and are sent to Japan.

"What did papa say?" "He showed me the door." "And what did you say?" "I said it was certainly a very handsome door, but not what I had come to talk about. That made him laugh, and a minute later you were mine."

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is prepared from drugs known to the profession as thoroughly reliable for the cure of cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea, griping pains and summer complaints. It has been used successfully by medical practitioners for a number of years with gratifying results. If suffering from any summer complaint it is just the medicine that will cure you. Try a bottle. It sells for 25 cents.

UNWIELDY HIPPOPOTAMI.

They Thrive Mightily in Central African Marshes.

"In the channels which traverse the marshes of certain districts in Central Africa," writes a traveller, "hippopotami in incredible numbers are met with—sometimes in herds of sixty and seventy. Wherever the channel widens out into a ready lake rows of grotesque-looking heads, with ears erect, appear above the water surface, their owners studying the extraordinary apparition produced by the steamer. On approaching the spot these heads disappear one after the other under water, and a series of waves and large ripples indicate the passage of the monster forms below the surface. After a few minutes' time the same huge heads appear, generally down-stream of the boat. They have another stare and again disappear, with a snort and the expulsion of a small volume of water from the nostrils. Not infrequently a severe bump is felt in the steamer, making the whole hull quiver, as the back of a hippopotamus seeking to escape has touched it.

"If the water should happen to be shallow the attempts of these animals to hide themselves are ludicrous as their movements are clumsy and their anger and fear are evident. In such cases their heads and the forepart of their bodies are under water, and nothing is seen but the huge pink hind-quarters, struggling, kicking churning up the water in the effort to get out of sight. Although their uncouth antics may be safely watched from a steamer, it is a very different matter if the observer is in a canoe or a small boat. Then his position is one of considerable danger, as he stands a very good chance of being upset.

"As the water of all these channels swarms with crocodiles such a contingency is not pleasant to contemplate. The natives are fully alive to this risk, and never venture in their dugout canoes into the broad streams infested with hippopotami, but invariably keep to the shallow and narrow branches on either side of the main river."

UNBEARABLE.

An English tourist, while resting at a wayside inn on a summer day in Galway, saw an Irishman driving a horse so thin that it staggered as it walked.

"Why don't you put more flesh on that nag?" the tourist exclaimed indignantly.

"More, is it?" the Irishman answered. "Why, by the powers! don't you see that the poor creature can hardly carry what little there is on him now?"

RUSSIANS ASSASSINATIONS.

A Formidable List During the Last Few Years.

What a strange being the man must be who has the ambition to be a high Russian official; it almost seems like signing one's own death warrant to accept a portfolio in present times. The Governor of Baku was recently assassinated by a bomb, and apparently bomb-throwing has become quite a usual occurrence. I was looking over in a newspaper a list of the high officials assassinated during the last few years, writes T. P.'s Corner. Here it is; it is a formidable and dreadful list:

M. Bogolepoff, Minister of Education, by Karpovich, after the University Disorders, April 15th, 1902.

M. Sipiagin, Minister of the Interior, by Balmashoff, April 15th, 1902.

General Bogdanovich, Governor of Ufa, after a massacre of strikers, May 19th, 1903.

General Bobrikoff, Governor of Finland, by Eugen Schaumann, June 17th, 1904.

Vice-Governor of Elizabethpol, Transcaucasia, July, 1904.

M. Plehve, Minister of the Interior, assassinated by means of a bomb as he was proceeding to have an audience with the Czar, July 28th, 1904.

Lieut.-Col. Rogoslavsky, Chief Administrator of the Surmarin district of the Caucasus, August, 1904.

Grand Duke Serigus, killed by a bomb at Moscow, February 17th, 1905.

Amongst those on whom attempts have been made, in some cases involving serious injury, are M. Pobiedonostseff, Procurator of the Holy Synod, March 1901; General Wahl, Governor of Vilna, May, 1902; Prince Obolenski, Governor of Kharkoff, August, 1902; M. Bessonoff, Chief of Police at Kharkoff, same time; Prince Galitzin, Governor-General of the Caucasus, October, 1903; M. Metlenko, Chief of Police at Grodno, November, 1903; Chief of Warsaw Police, March, 1905; Governor of Warsaw, May, 1905.

IN COLONEL'S TOWN.

Things Happen.

From the home of the famous "Keyhole Keeyartah of Cartersville," away down South, comes an enthusiastic letter about Postum.

"I was in very delicate health suffering from indigestion and a nervous trouble so severe that I could hardly sleep. The doctor ordered me to discontinue the use of the old kind of coffee, which was like poison to me, producing such extreme disturbance that I could not control myself. But such was my love for it that I could not get my own consent to give it up for some time and continued to suffer, till my father one day brought home a package of Postum Food Coffee.

"I had the new food drink carefully prepared according to directions, and gave it a fair trial. It proved to have a rich flavor and made a healthful, wholesome and delightful drink. To my taste the addition of cream greatly improves it.

"My health began to improve as soon as the drug effect of the old coffee was removed and the Postum Coffee had time to make its influence felt. My nervous troubles were speedily relieved and the sleep which the old coffee drove from my pillow always came to soothe and strengthen me after I had drunk Postum—in a very short time I began to sleep better than I had for years before. I have now used Postum Coffee for several years and like it better and find it more beneficial than when I first began. It is an unspeakable joy to be relieved of the old distress and sickness." ENGLISH STATURE

Statistics have recently been collected of the height of 10,000 English boys and men. At the age of seventeen these averaged 5ft. 8in. at the age of twenty-two, 5ft. 9in. At seventeen they weighed 142 lbs.; at twenty-two, 153 lbs. No nation is increasing in height and weight so rapidly as the British. In fifty years the average has gone up for the whole nation from 5ft. 7½in. to 5ft. 8¾in. The average height of the British upper classes at thirty years of age is 5ft. 8¾in.; of the farm laborer, 5ft. 7 3-5in. The criminal class brings down the average, as their height is but 5ft. 5 4-5in.

A Pill for Generous Eaters.—There are many persons of healthy appetite and poor digestion who, after a hearty meal are subject to much suffering, the food of which they have partaken lies like lead in their stomachs. Headache, depression, a smothering feeling follow. One so afflicted is unfit for business or work of any kind. In this connection Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will bring relief. They will assist the digestion of the ailment, and used according to direction will restore healthy digestion.

RAFFLING FOR AN ESTATE.

A curious direction was left in the will of the late Mr. W. H. Manfaring, of Carlton, in the Colony of Victoria. The property is to be divided into six equal parts and numbered. Numbers corresponding to the portions are to be placed in envelopes, which are to be drawn from a box by the testator's six children. Each one will retain the portion of the estate corresponding with the number drawn in the envelope.

CHURCH BUILT BY CONVICTS.

Outside Portland Prison, England, is St. Peter's Church, which is used by the public and was constructed by convicts. It is the only edifice in Great Britain that can lay claim to this distinction. It is attended mainly by the officers of the prison and the military station in the neighborhood at Verne Citadel, the highest point in the island, although those who live near may go there if they wish.

BRIAR PIPES.

The so-called briar pipe is not made of briar at all, but from the root of a particular kind of heather, called in French bruyere, which grows on the hillsides of the Italian Alps, in North Italy and on the mountains of Corsica. English tradesmen, finding the correct word bruyere somewhat difficult for the English tongue to pronounce, changed it to briar, and in this way the corruption crept in, and was established by popular usage. Originally Swiss peasants made smoking bowls of this wood, and when snuff-taking became unfashionable the peasants turned their attention to making pipes from the root, and found a ready market for them.

Good Digestion Should Wait on Appetite.—To have the stomach well is to have the nervous system well. Very delicate are the digestive organs, in some so sensitive are they that almost [illegible] changes affect them. They will assist the digestion so that the hearty eater will suffer no inconvenience and will derive all the benefits of his food.

PAVEMENT OF WHALEBONE.

A curious memento of the whaling industry of Monterey, in Mexico, remains in the pavement leading up from the street to the west door of the church of San Carlos de Borromeo. This is one of the churches founded by the Spanish missionary fathers, and is still in excellent repair. The round, mushroom-like objects in the pavement are the vertebrae of the great mammals. The pavement is in good condition and seems to wear well.
