Billy Wright of Glascott has bought from George Walker the 150 acre farm in the suburbs formerly owned by George Littlejohns. Mr. Walker is going to visit the West.

Some of our unaccountable reasons were short a few copies of THE STANDARD last week. If a few subscribers will furnish us with their copy it will be much appreciated.

This is the season of the year when voters lists and Fall fair premium lists crowd the country print shop so THE STANDARD will not be printed next week, first week in August.

The Methodist Sunday School held their annual outing in Walker's grove on Friday last. The afternoon was spent in good picnic style. A long program of races and games was conducted. Everyone had a good time, and the little folk were as happy as could be. The officers and teachers of the school are to be congratulated on the excellent dining provided for the children.

A recent regulation issued by the postal department is worth bearing in mind by those having boxes. As all postmasters are liable to make mistakes in putting mail matter into wrong boxes this new regulation requires people to examine their mail before leaving the office, and should they find a piece not addressed to them they must return it at once or be liable to a fine of $200. That it is the fault of the postmaster makes no difference.

Police Magistrate Depuisson fined a man in the Toronto police court a short time ago for using bad language on the street. "Bad language is altogether too common, but I should think that it would be getting unpopular," said his Worship as he imposed the fine. A few hard-speech lines in every Canadian town and village would have a very wholesome effect. People should be taught that it is a punishable crime even to swear at their horse.

In the last issue of the Fisherton Advance the good editor threw some bouquets at our junior lacrosse friends—to wit Pat Kelly's team. The editor says our boys are "cheaty"; so they are—and there are others. The facts of the case can be briefly stated: The lacrosse players of Shelburne and Markdale arranged to play in Fisherton on July 12th; the committee receiving the use of the grounds from those who have charge of it. This was the third and regular match in the series of the Grey and Dufferin League—the Advance editor didn't know this. The game was played, and along with the Markdale hand, provided the only entertainment the Orangemen had in Fisherton. But it rained!

Drug apprentice wanted. Apply to W. Turner & Co.

A desirable 200-acre farm for sale. Apply at this office for particulars.

THE STANDARD and Weekly Mail the balance of 1905 to new subscribers for only 75 cents.

Lawn croquet is more popular than ever this season. No better game known for the small lawn. 4, 6 or 8 ball sets at Turner's drug store.

George Goodwill, who was severely smashed by the morning express on July 13, is doing well considering the severe injuries received.

For Sale.—Good Durham cow, registered, four years old, nice roan, and heifer calf about three weeks old. Will be sold right. J. W. Knott, Agent, Markdale.

The Misses Beattie, "Inglenham," Orange Valley, gave an enjoyable party on Wednesday evening last in which a large number of young people from this place participated.

Mr. F. K. Hughes, of Huron College, conducted service and preached in Christ Church, Markdale, and St. Matthias, Berkeley last Sunday in the absence of Rev. Mr. Newell, who was at Niagara Falls.

Whether at home or abroad, the happiest are those who have helped someone else to be happy. Each morning determine to profit in this way and you will not be disappointed.—Dr. James Martineau.

Mr. Love has added to his already up-to-date photo studio a new Century camera fitted with latest improved zinc-silver portrait lens, with diffusing attachment. This is one of the best cameras procurable and cost $250.

Next week THE STANDARD will take a holiday. Our correspondents are requested to hold over their budgets and postpone so that the two weeks will occupy about the usual space that one does, then send along about Monday August 7th.

Rev. Ivison Wilson will conduct both services in the Methodist Church on Sunday next. Morning subject, "Why some people go to Church" or "The Ethics of Christian Worship." Evening subject, "Why some people do not go to Church." Good music; strangers always welcome.

A high-close board fence has been erected on the two fronts of the new Agricultural grounds and the land is being thoroughly leveled and seeded. It is the intention to make use of the marsh hall for the exhibition of such as requires a covering, and thus keep up the annual Fall Fair.

We notice by the Dresden Times that Miss Ida F. Irwin, of the suburbs, who is principal of Dresden Public School, has now the distinction of being head of that inspectorate, her entire class of twenty-three candidates having been successful. THE STANDARD heartily congratulates its respected young friend on her laudable achievement.

Not a dog in town! A pretty bold statement, but it can be proven by figures, and they do not lie, it is said. When the assessor went his rounds fourteen residents of this dogless town admitted being owners of dogs. Since then fourteen canines have taken the poison route to the mystic beyond. Hence there cannot be a dog in town. Any citizen who imagines he sees one should try the gold cure.—Alliston Herald.

An exchange speaks of a man who recently procured a wife through a matrimonial agency but is now trying to get a divorce. This is simply another instance of the mail order bargain not being up to the mark, and that a much better article could have been procured at home. We say it serves him right, he ought to have patronized home industry. The home grown article is usually the best. Young men don't be duped through the mail order, always deal at home and thus secure best quality.

The junior lacrosse team went to Shelburne on Tuesday evening and played a game in the Grey and Dufferin League. During the first five minutes before the visitors were able to get their bearings the locals scored four times.

For the balance of the game the visitors were able to hold their own they scoring 3 times and Shelburne 4 times making a score of 8 to 3 in favor of Shelburne.

Markdale was lamentably weak in three or four places. Dasso, Mercer, Carman King, Wilfred Burnside and Allie Littlejohns played excellent lacrosse.

In fact all the lacrosse that was played.

Among the New Buildings.

Hugh Firth is now comfortably domiciled in his new brick house on George street.

Robert McGruther's new brick house is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in a very short time.

A. L. Walker and Thos. Campbell have the foundation walls of their new residences on Toronto street completed.

John Walker has taken possession of his new concrete residence on Toronto street, and has a very comfortable home.

P. McCullough has erected a commodious carriage house and stable on Eliza street, while W. G. Pickell has erected additional barn room.

R. L. Stephen's new residence on Mark street is up, roofed, being plastered and bids fair to be ready for occupancy in a couple of months or less.

L. G. Campbell, D.D.S., and wife will soon occupy their new home corner Mark and Wellington streets, which is undergoing the finishing touches of painter and plumber.

H. Mercer has staked driven for a modern new residence on his newly acquired lot on Mark and Eliza streets. It is the intention to have the building erected and roofed this season.

Address and Presentation.

A pleasing surprise was sprung on Mr. W. A. Armstrong at the close of the praise meeting in the Methodist Church last Thursday evening.

Twenty-nine years he had been connected continuously with the choir of this church, first as private member, then assistant, and for seven years leader. The present was a beautiful solid oak, leather upholstered combination chair, possessing a wide range of utility.

The address read as follows: Mr. W. A. Armstrong, Markdale, Ont.

Dear Sir and Brother.—We, a few of your friends, representing the Markdale Methodist congregation, have resolved to embrace the present opportunity of acknowledging your long and valued services, first as assistant leader and later as leader of our church choir.

We all understand fully that a powerful ally to the service of God is to the other elements of christian worship, and we are deeply grateful to you for your unselfish and untiring efforts to impart an ideal character to the work over which you have exercised supervision.

Your unselfish and ardent devotion to the work during all those years, above all praise, and to-night we find ourselves face to face with an obligation we can never hope to discharge; and this leads to the more significance which we remember that you have worked solely because of your devotion to the cause of God and without any thought of remuneration.

Your undoubted efficiency as a musical director, your unimpeachable christian character, your readiness to spend unostentatiously your valuable time and energy, even at great personal sacrifice in meeting the pressing demands of your duties, have, we can assure you, been to a superlative degree our admiration, confidence, appreciation and gratitude, and we certainly feel that in your retirement from this position, which we extremely regret, we are losing the services of one who possessed a very peculiar fitness for such an important office.

As a slight token of our appreciation and esteem, and as a memento of the happy associations of the past, we respectfully request you to accept this combination chair, and we devoutly pray that you may be spared to enjoy whatever utility and comfort it may possess and afford, for many years to come.

We are deeply grateful that we are still to have the benefit of your service and counsel in behalf of the general interests of the church, and we trust that as in the past so in the future we may have cause for rejoicing because of the ever-increasing prosperity and progress of the work of God with which we have the honor and privilege of standing identified.

Mr. Armstrong fittingly replied, after which the audience sang "Blest be the tie that binds," and the company dispersed.

A Great Horse Sold.

Mr. A. O. McMillan, of Erin, has sold his rotting bred, high-stepping stallion, "Red Wilkes," to Mr. J. H. Dundas, of Markdale, Ont.

Red Wilkes is one of the greatest show horses ever brought to this section and has won many high honors for his enterprising owner and the banner township of Erin. He won first prize and silver medal twice at Toronto Industrial Exhibition and has never been defeated in a show ring since Mr. McMillan brought him to Canada.

The breeders of this section have suffered a great loss in the sale of this horse, as his stock, although young, are very promising.—Erin Advocate.

Traverston.

The weather is like a maiden of sixteen—somewhat freakish.

Quite a number have finished haying. All the fellows lugged home heavy baskets of beef last week. Mr. James Morrison's beast dressed 521 pounds.

When Mr. D. Sweeney strikes a hay acre field with that 6-foot mower of his he fairly swipes it down.

Mr. John Gall and Mrs. R. Kirpatrick with her two children from Ononga are visiting among the members of the Kerney family.

Mr. George Blair brought home Tara layloader on Monday. This makes three in our neighborhood.

Miss Elal McGrade, teacher of new Stratford, is holidaying at the home here.

Mrs. Charlie Allan with her children, Audrey, Clemaude and Alix of Toronto were guests at the Edwards home on Saturday and Sunday.

The greatest change in the external appearance of any home on the farm that has occurred for years took place in the home of Mr. Wm. McNally last week under the skillful hands of E. T. Hill & Co.'s workmen. They deftly covered it with metal sheeting and it looks most attractive.

Mr. Wm. Firth purposes having his home made more cozy still by similar work.

The trustees of Public S. S. No. 1 met on Saturday evening and decided on purchasing new blinds, a new map and a hypodermic blackboard. They are got-a-heads.

Miss M. E. Hupp is being warmly congratulated on the success of her Entrance class.

A most joyous event took place on Monday, July 17th, when one of Gleneg's brightest maidens and most clever homemakers was happily wedded to the man of her choice. The bride is Miss Maggie Dolaney, young est. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dolaney of the post office here. The ceremony took place in Dundas. Mr. Frank Mullen is the lucky bridegroom, a most popular and talented fellow who commands wages over $1000 a year. The bride's old friends and schoolmates in wishing her the biggest wedded bliss.

Fat and thin, short and long, who cannot get a shirt to fit them, just drop in to the Markdale Shirt Laundry. Shirts made to order. Agency Parker's Dye Works, Toronto.

On the Tennis Court.

Tuesday was a busy day on the tennis grounds here, and for the first time this season the Markdale players were defeated. Their opponents were Mr. Orr and Mr. Dell of Heathcote, and the following is the score:

Orr and Dell beat T. H. Hale and I. W. McArde, 6-3, 6-4.

Dell beat T. Pledge, 6-3, 6-2, 5-4.

Orr beat McArde, 6-4, 4-1.

Dell beat McArde, 6-2, 6-3.

In the forenoon Mr. Dell and Mr. Orr played, resulting in a victory for Mr. Orr by the score of 6-4, 3-4-8.

The games were witnessed by a good crowd of interested spectators.

May Lose His Foot.

Harvey Morwood, aged 11 years, son of Mr. George Morwood who moved last winter to the Stephens farm in the suburbs, has been a great sufferer of late. Some months ago he got pricked in the heel with a mature fork, and the wound has grown so painful it is feared he may lose the foot. Dr. S. Sprule and Ezra, assisted by Dr. Middlebro of Owen Sound have operated upon it and yet it is uncertain what the outcome may be.

Do It Now.

Any paid up subscriber can now procure an additional copy of THE STANDARD for the balance of 1905, for a friend at home or abroad, for the small sum of twenty-five cents, and we pay the postage. THE STANDARD is a welcome weekly visitor in hundreds of homes outside Ontario, and doubtless there are many other old residents who would highly appreciate its visits, like a letter from home. Think of five months for a quarter. Do it now, friend.

Beauty is but Skin Deep

But nevertheless is worth caring for, and those ladies are most wise who are careful of their appearance. After the summer outing the face and hands are likely to be tanned, and the skin rough and sunburned, but with care and the use of proper toilet articles the complexion may be restored to its proper condition. Here are a few good things.

- Bay Rum
- Witch Hazel
- Glycerine and Rose Water
- Frostilla
- Cold Cream
- Camphor Ice
- Witch Hazel Cream
- Almond Cream
- Rose Cream
- Lilac Cream
