WORKING WOMEN

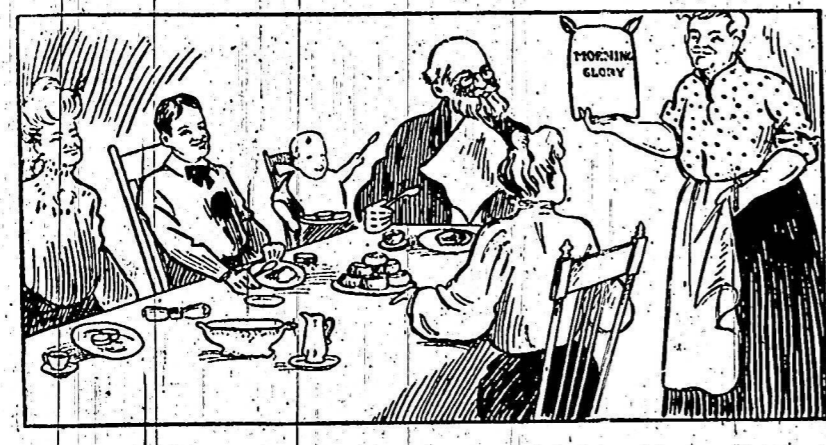

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting State-ments by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que.

Mlle. G. Robitaille
Miss Clara Beaubien

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.
All are subject to the same physical laws, all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, ulceration, falling and dis- placements of the womb, leucorrhoea, or perhaps irregularity or suppression of "monthly periods," causing back- ache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.
Women who stand on their feet all day are more susceptible to these troubles than others.
They especially require an invigorat- ing, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism, and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.
How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or per- form her household duties when her back and head are aching, when she is so tired she can hardly drag about her stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female or- ganism.
Mlle. Alma Robitaille, of 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que., writes:
"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent one for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine for sick women worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to endorse it."

Miss Clara Beaubien of Beauport, Quebec, writes:
"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"For several years I have suffered with Leucorrhoea, which has been a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing down pains and a general worn out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was very much better and stronger, and in four months I was well, no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to feel that the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unerring cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors, etc. It is a sure cure for Backache, dizziness, fainting, bear- ing down pains, disordered stomach, bloodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.
You can tell the story of your suffer- ings to a woman, and receive help- ful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

FAMILY: "Why, Sarah, the biscuits are delicious this morning."
SARAH, the Cook: "Sure, and how could they be otherwise for I am using Ford's Morning Glory Flour."

PSYCHINE
(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

COUGH AND LUNG TROUBLE
"PSYCHINE" differs radically from the old fogey medicines. It is com- pounded on new and advanced methods of curing disease, otherwise it would be just like scores of others, without any exceptional merits. But "PSYCHINE" possesses virtues of healing, that no other preparation in the world does. There never has been in the history of medicine, such a truly remarkable remedy, for the prompt and complete cure of obstinate coughs and lung trouble. There is nothing else just like it, or nothing else one half so good. Thousands of men and women readily and enthusiastically give testimony to prove the statement.

PSYCHINE BUILT ME UP
London, P.S., June 7th, 1904.
"I cannot speak too highly for your excellent—remedy for weakness of throat, hoarse and decaying conditions. My brother, mother, and I have died of consumption, and I suppose I inherited a tendency in this direction, but, thank God, through the use of PSYCHINE I-to-day enjoy good health. I suffered for some two years from a distressing, obstinate cough and weak lungs. I used PSYCHINE and OXOMULSION, and they built me right up. My lungs are now strong and I enjoy splendid health."

House of Refuge Notes.

(By an Inmate.)

Mr. Editor.—There appears to be an impression in the minds of many, that the inmates of this institution are not well treated, and are not well fed. These impressions evidently emanated from reports made by some discon- tented and unthankful grumblers, who have been former, and may perhaps, be glad to again become inmates of this much despised House of Refuge. You, Mr. Editor, feel it his duty to give a most emphatic denial to such groundless allegations against the Home and the management, trusting that it may dis- pel from the public mind all such erro- neous impressions. With regard to the report of being under-fed, the following scale of the usual daily diet will speak for itself. Breakfast—wheat or oatmeal porridge, and milk, bread, butter and tea good, enough for any one; Dinner—fresh meat, potatoes, bread and a bowl of excellent soup with plenty of vegetables, not barley, etc. in it, when there is no soup, rice, tapioca or some similar pudding, and tea take its place; Supper—boiled bread and milk, bread, (butter when plenty), tea and apple sauce. On Sundays a slice of cornmeal or fruit cake is fre- quently added to the evening meal. The baker and butcher come every day and the bread is of first class quality, always fresh, consequently no hard crusts or stale leavings are cooked over for the next meal. There may be a little tough meat at times, but rarely; this cannot always be avoided, even in the best of families. The writer has never been in the dining room, his meals are of necessity brought to him, but he frequently hears rappings on the tables for replenishing of some por- tion of the meal, which at once tells him that no one is stinted to a certain allowance, and he has "set to hear of a single instance of any one being refused when applying for more. In regard to the first instance, concerning these re- ports, it may be fairly assumed, that in all similar institutions a class of in- mates are to be found who think themselves badly treated individuals if they are not patted, petted, or patted on the cheek like children, be waited upon at every turn, be granted every conceivable and inconceivable privilege just because they have been unfor- tunate enough to grow old, and they imagine these things to be their rights, and that the public pays for such rights. Again, Sir, others there are who grum- ble and growl because they are not fed on ham, eggs, fresh fish, spiced meats and all sorts of dainties, and yet, many of this class have no doubt, fared sumptuously on potatoes and salt, but how many of such will ask themselves, whose fault is it that I am here? Alas! too many cannot bear the retrospec- tion, dare not look on the past and ask themselves, the why, they dread 'the echo. Your correspondent, when out on a couple of weeks' leave some time ago was asked different times concerning these reports to which he could not conscientiously give any other reply than a flat denial. A short time ago your was informed that a man had been a year an inmate, but had left, had scattered such a report broad- cast in his neighborhood, and again, a few days ago one of the best men in the Home, when in Markdale was interro- gated on the same subject. It was this last instance that prompted the writer to make this lengthy refutation in de- fence of the Home and its management had the reports been true he would have been just as fearless in making the facts known to the public, as he has been zealous in repudiating them with its merits; until he had far greater reason to complain than hitherto experienced, he will never be less pro- fuse in his eulogies of the institution and its management, as a good home for the deserving aged and poor of the County.

On Saturday last Mrs. J. Smith an old lady from Bentinck was admitted to the Home. The man, J. McArthur admitted recently in a very pre- carious condition perfectly helpless, an intense sufferer requiring constant attention day and night. The case is an extremely bad one but all is being done for him that circumstances will permit.
Miss Robinson of the staff, visited the Flesherton show fair which she ad- mits was a good one.
The House committee are in session in the supts. office to-day, Monday. The potatoes will be all raised, weather permitting, before these items are out of type. The crop is very good, although the tubers are not as large as last year; they are of a more uniform size and superior quality. The rot is insignificant so far.
The matron desires to express thanks to Mrs. Knott jr. for a basket of peaches for inmates.
The man Lumley, who was commit- ted by Mr. Chapman, J.P., to twenty days in the county jail, Owen Sound, for surreptitiously leaving the Home and refusing to return, made his way to the Home a week ago last Saturday evening. He was off again like a shot. It appears that on the expiration of his sentence he was discharged, his fare paid to Markdale, put aboard the train, etc. He is badly cracked, and in all probability we shall hear more of him in the near future.
The managers respectfully request that in the event of a strange obse- man-visiting the Home he will kindly, make himself known to the Manager, Matron, or member of the staff, who may be in attendance, on his arrival, previous to being shown through the building. The reason is obvious.
The Rev. Mr. Roach, of Pricewille, Mrs. Roach and a lady friend were visitors at the Home on Thursday last. The large table in the men's day room is in a fair way of becoming bow-legged under the increasing weight of unread literature. We wonder if an exchange of inmates with some other institution could be effected. We might thereby obtain some who would more fully appreciate the considerations of a thoughtful and generous public.

On Thursday last your oor. had a very unpleasant experience, one which he never before had nor never will desire to have again. He was engaged in writing, and after writing three or four pages he suddenly became be- wildered, his memory took sudden flight, the past was a complete blank. Taking up the papers he could only recognize his own writing, but when it was written he had not the slightest idea neither could he persuade him- self that the dictation was his own, although the writing was unmistakable. I read and re-read all I had written, and each time I read the subject seemed to change entirely from the previous reading. I was indeed be- wildered. The Rev. Mr. Roach called in at the time and although well known to me I could only recognize him as a minister, and although he told me who he was, he was entirely forgotten before he left. One of my comrades informed the matron of my condition. She very kindly deprived me of all writing materials, advised me to rest and try to banish it from my mind. Next morning I awoke with a violent headache (a rare occurrence with me) a thoroughly exhausted feeling and little or no change in my mental condition. Towards night the headache, began to abate and the memory began to revive. On Saturday morning I arose as fresh as a lark, my writing materials restored, my writing examined and found to be my own and self dictated. I was myself again, the eclipse was passed and I hope never to be observed again, total or partial.
The divine service on Sunday was another great success, outnumbering the attendance of the previous Sunday. Mr. Woodwood was prevented by in- disposition from taking the service intended, so Mr. Harness took the service, delivering an impromptu dis- course from Isaiah 68: 7, 8. Mr. Erskine, of Markdale, very ably presided at the organ. The singing was exceptionally good, there being some excellent material among the audience. The third hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," was very sweetly rendered. After the discourse Mr. Harness led in prayer. Old Mrs. Simmons (the blind lady) by previous request sang "The Old-fashioned Family Bible," accompanying herself on the accordion; then came a quartette by Mr. Erskine, organ and lead, Mrs. Erskine, also; Mr. John Baines, tenor; Mr. H. Sovell, bass. It was very nicely sung. Mr. Erskine is an accomplished organist and vocalist, while Mr. Baines is well known and Mr. Sovell is a bass profundo. Before pronouncing the benediction, Mr. Harness thanked the ladies and gentle- men for their kind assistance, assuring them that the inmates also highly appreciated their kindness. He then announced that on Sunday next the service would for the most part be conducted by two of the inmates. Mrs. Simmons would read the scripture lesson from her raised type bible, and a discourse, the subject of which he was not yet aware, would be delivered by one of the male inmates. The benediction closed another glorious service at the House of Refuge. We were informed that Miss Ford will preside at the organ on Sunday next.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.
First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigor- ously for five minutes at each applica- tion. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by R. L. Stephen.

Chills Prove Fatal
If warmth and circulation are not promptly restored, chills result in fatal pneumonia. This necessitates keeping Nerviline on hand. Taken in hot water it breaks up a chill in two minutes. By rubbing freely over throat and chest it prevents colds. No liniment so strong so penetrating, so swift to kill pain and inflammation. Nearly fifty years' record has proved the value of Poison's Nerviline. You should get a bottle to-day.

Nova Scotia Wool
Is famous for its softness and strength. The ocean air—the climate—the rich grazing land—gives it an elasticity and silkiness and strength to the wool, that is missing in wool from other countries.
The only Underwear in the world, made of Nova Scotia Wool, is

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear
That is one reason why "Stanfield's Unshrinkable" is so soft and comfortable—wears so well—keeps its shape—does not shrink—keeps its color—keeps its softness—keeps its durability.
If you want health, and comfort, and durability,
