WONDERFUL RECOVERY.

Welsh Physician Astounded at Recovery of His Patient.

A remarkable case of faith-healing has occurred at Penydarren, Merthyr, Wales, Miss Annie Griffiths, 24 years old, having made a wonderful recovery from an illness which threatened to make her a permanent invalid.

Dr. Morrison of Merthyr, said that he diagnosed the case as one of tubercular hip joint disease. His diagnosis was confirmed by his chief, Dr. Cresswell, and his last visit to Miss Griffiths was on Wednesday last.

Next day he was astonished to see her walk into his surgery without the trace of a limp.

"I am cured now," said Miss Griffiths, in reply to the doctor's question. "You have been very kind to me, and did all you could for me, but, of course, you are only an earthly physician. I took my case before the Heavenly Physician, and here I am well."

"There is no humbug about it," Dr. Morrison declared. "She walked into the surgery apparently well."

It was possible, he said, for persons laboring under strong emotions to appear to overcome bodily illness temporarily.

On Thursday two clergymen, Mr. Owen, of Merthyr, and Mr. Francis, of Cardigan, visited Miss Griffiths and prayed for her recovery. Shortly afterwards, to the astonishment of everyone, she dressed without assistance and went downstairs.

SUFFERING WOMEN.

Find Health and Strength in Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

"I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a most marvellous medicine," says Mrs. Louis Turcott, 665 Papineau street, Montreal. "They restored me to health and strength, when I was in a most hopeless condition, and almost despaired of recovery. My trouble began a few years ago, when I passed through a severe illness, from which I did not regain my accustomed health and strength, though I had the very best of care and treatment. I seemed to grow weaker every day. I was pale and emaciated, had no appetite, could hardly go about, and found my life almost a burden. It seemed as though my blood had turned to water, and my nerves seemed completely shattered. All the time I was under medical treatment, but with no apparent benefit. One day a friend who called to see me, brought me some Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and asked me to take them. I did so, and after a couple of weeks I found my appetite improving, and took this as a sign that the pills were helping me, and I got another supply. In a few weeks more the change in my appearance and condition was marvellous, and friends who dropped in to see me, hardly thought I was the same person. It was not much longer until I was completely cured, in fact felt better than I have done for years before. I am, therefore, very happy to make known to all ailing women the fact that they can find new health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Mrs. Turcott's experience with this medicine is the same as thousands of others. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest cure for the ailments due to poor blood. All the weakness of anaemia; all the distress of indigestion; all the pains and aches of neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism; all the misery and ill-health that women suffer from time to time, come from bad blood. And Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure these troubles, because they actually make new, rich, health-giving blood. They don't act upon the bowels, they don't bother with mere symptoms; they go right to the root of the trouble and cure it through the blood. But you must get the genuine—substitutes and imitations never cured anyone. See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around the box. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HORSES OF SABLE ISLAND.

A recent visitor to Sable Island, a storm-swept bit of sandy land lying about 100 miles eastward of Nova Scotia, describes the present condition of its celebrated droves of wild horses, the ancestors of which are supposed to have come from a wrecked Spanish ship, perhaps as early as the 16th century. Something less than 200 of these ponies are now living, although 25 years ago they were estimated to number 500 or 600. To the regret of naturalists, some of them have been crossed with modern horses. About two-thirds of the entire number are pure bred. They bear a striking likeness to the horses represented on the Parthenon frieze, and to the now exterminated tarpan horses of Tartary. All colors, except gray, are found among them, but chestnut is the most common, with a dark streak on the back.

LONDON.

London is a shop and a bank, a gaming hell and a cathedral. Its streets are paved with gold and set with thorns. It is the place for a rich man and the place for a poor man. It is all wealth and happiness, it is all poverty and distress. It is a huge paradox. Many things are possible in London that are also impossible. If it so please you, and you possess the ability to do so, you may live not merely a double life, but half a dozen different lives, which will never clash with one another. You may be in London at the same time a priest and a pirate. It is big enough for both of you.

FROM ERIN'S GREEN ISLE

NEWS BY MAIL FROM IRELAND'S SHORES.

Happenings in the Emerald Isle of Interest to Irish-Canadians.

The Irish language is now being taught in 3,500 schools in Ireland.

A new cable is about to be laid from Canso, Nova Scotia, to Waterville, Ireland.

A double tragedy is reported from Ballynahinch, County Down, where a farmer stabbed his wife to death with a bayonet and then took his own life.

During the hearing of a case at the Belfast Police Court in which a man was charged with having threatened his wife, it was stated that there were ten people in one house, and only two beds for them all.

The Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland has subscribed £25 to a fund which is being raised in Dublin for the purpose of erecting a memorial to Constable Shea and Mr. Fleming, who lost their lives in a sewer at the Burgh Quay, into which they went to rescue a party of workmen.

A farmer named Thomas Bryson, living near Limavady, who for some time past has suspected the presence of rich minerals on part of his land, has discovered ore which, on being examined by experts, was found to be rich in gold. The ore was discovered in a rocky waterway.

The death occurred at his seaside residence, Youghal, of Mr. Standish O'Grady, Clerk of the Crown and Peace for the City and East Riding of Cork. Mr. O'Grady was one of the best known and most highly esteemed Crown officials in Ireland, and was a native of Rathcoale, County Limerick.

The death is announced of Mr. R. H. A. Willis, head master of the Metropolitan School of Art, Dublin. Mr. Willis, who succeeded Mr. Brenan, on the retirement of the latter something over a year ago, died suddenly at Ballyskillgs, County Kerry where he was spending his annual holiday. His remains were interred at Rathcormac, County Cork.

The Marquis of Sligo intimated to the Westport Sports' Committee that as their sports were to be held under the rules of the Gaelic Association, which excludes the Constabulary and Army and Navy from its competitions, he must withdraw his permission to their being held in his demesne. The committee procured another field for the purpose.

Whilst workmen were engaged in making a sewer through Abbey Yard, Newry, they turned up a large number of human bones, amongst which were a few skulls. Along the sides of the trench can also be seen quantities of bones of a similar kind. The place was once the burying ground of the Cistercians 400 years ago. The bones have been re-interred.

A report has been received by the Constabulary that three "winds" of hay, the property of Mr. Robt. Ivers, Tullerboy, were burned on the night of the 10th inst. On the following night one "wind" of hay, the property of Mr. Maurice Jones, was burned, also at Tullerboy, and on the night of the 13th inst. at Tullerboy, likewise sixteen tons of hay were burned on the farm of Mr. Daniel Russell. The police station at Bohercard, two miles from Bohercard, was discontinued some time since.

KAFFIR CHIEF'S WEDDING.

Interesting Ceremony Viewed by British Savants.

A correspondent telegraphing from Pietermaritzburg, gives an interesting account of a native wedding which was witnessed by the members of the British Association recently. The delegates were conveyed to Henley in special trains, and on their arrival a Kaffir dance was performed by 1,000 natives, in presence of Sir Henry McCallum, the Governor, as supreme chief.

This was followed by a native wedding. Three chiefs, with their followings, participated. Their names were respectively Mhlola, meaning "Prodigy," hereditary chief, of the Idadi tribe; Laduma, meaning "It thunders," chief of the Amampumuza tribe; and Umvell, meaning the "Appeared," acting chief of the Amapunzi tribe. Each chief with his people advanced and saluted the Governor and visitors after the fashion of their tribe, and then the last two performed dances and songs. Then they withdrew and remained as spectators.

The most interesting ceremony followed—namely, the marriage of the hereditary chief Mhlola to a young woman, daughter of a commoner, who is to become chief wife and mother of the principal heir. The actors in this barbaric scene were variously clad in skins, feathers, beads, and cloths of gaudy colors. The majority, including women, were wearing the scantiest apology for a costume, some of the girls wearing nothing but narrow bead belts. The ceremony included much dancing, stamping, and capering to shrill cries and whistling.

The bridegroom, practically nude, sat on a mat, his party and bride's party facing each other.

The bride did not appear till after the women and girls of her party had given a dance. The bride then entered the arena, accompanied on each side by a Kaffir, equivalent to a groomsman and bridesmaid. All three were concealed under open umbrellas till they reached the bridegroom, when the bride raised him from the ground and sat him in a chair. She then joined in the dance. Mhlola remaining seated.

The important part of the ceremony was the question whether the bride would accept the husband. She answered, "I love him. Ten head of cattle have been given for me."

A parade of wedding presents followed. The gifts, which were carried aloft, included a modern travelling trunk and many mysterious bundles. An important feature was also the robing of the bridegroom by the bride with bead belts and head-dress made by herself.

Finally there was a general dance and the wedding banquet, for which oxen were slaughtered on the spot. Each chief and the other prominent actors in the ceremony, including the blushing bride, was brought up in front of the Governor's seat, to be snapshotted by members of the British Association, almost all of whom were armed with cameras.

The whole affair was extremely interesting and picturesque.

RESCUED FROM THE DEADLY CLUTCHES

ONE MORE CURE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Theodore Young, of Smith's Falls was Beyond the Doctor's Aid—Now He's Well and Strong.

Smith's Falls, Oct. 16—(Special).—Mr. Theodore Young, a well-known citizen of this place, is one of the many Canadians who have been rescued from the clutches of the much dreaded Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For two years," says Mr. Young, in relating his experience, "I was afflicted with Bright's Disease. The doctors told me I could get no relief. My urine was very dark and I lost considerable blood, making me so weak I could scarcely stand. I also used many medicines without getting relief.

"Hearing of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them, and after using the first box I found great relief. After using four boxes I was able to go to work, which I had been unable to do for some time. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who are afflicted as I was."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Bright's Disease, the most advanced stage of Kidney Disease. How much more easily will they cure the earlier stages of Kidney Disease.

A HOPELESS LAND.

Caste Rules the Social and Religious Life of India.

Caste is a great social organization which governs and directs the Hindu of India in every action of his daily life. There are four fundamental divisions of caste—the priestly or Brahmin, the warrior, the trading, and the laboring; and these again, are divided into sub-sections numbering thousands. Below the laboring caste there is a substratum which is termed Pariah or outcast. The Pariah, says the author of "Indian Life in Town and Country," is not much more than a sanitary machine which performs the functions of a scavenger.

All these castes are hereditary. A priest's son is a priest, a soldier's a soldier, a carpenter's a carpenter, a scavenger's a scavenger. There is no question of "What shall we do with our boys?" in Hinduism that problem has been solved in advance for two thousand years. For a sire to start his son in any other calling than his own would be "against his caste," and there all argument ends. For caste is both social and religious, and includes the calling as well as the creed.

A Hindu cannot change his caste, although he may be expelled from it; his social status is fixed forever at the time of his birth, and he can only fall, never rise. This has tended to make the Hindus an ambitionless race. Caste will admit no infusion of new blood, and when the same exclusive spirit is imported into the ordinary dealings of life, you arrive at that stagnant conservatism which is called "custom" in the East.

Caste is restricted to the Hindus, but custom is universal. There is the Indian peasant's plow. The overwhelming majority of the inhabitants of India are dependent on the land, and their crops would be much increased by better methods of cultivation.

The plow is an implement which merely scratches the surface of the earth—an heirloom from remotest antiquity. A new plow was introduced by an enterprising firm of manufacturers and lent free for trial broadcast over a province. It did the work more thoroughly, and was offered at a price within the peasants' means. But it did not "catch on," simply because the plowman could not get at his bullocks' tails to twist them. The superior tillage, the increase of crop, could not compensate for the relinquishment of this time-honored custom.

There was a contractor engaged in a railway excavation, who recognized that the soil could be far more expeditiously removed in wheelbarrows than carried away in baskets on the heads of coolies. So he invested in some wheelbarrows and showed how they were to be trundled, and flattered himself upon having introduced a useful reform. The next time he visited his works he found his men putting a little dust into the wheelbarrows and carrying them away on their heads.

The paraphernalia of Indian daily life all belongs to the barbarous ages. Attempt to introduce any other, and you are rebuffed with the reply, "It is not the custom. My father used this article, and therefore it is my duty to use it. Would you have me set myself up for a wiser man than my revered parent?"

Thus is stifled all attempt at reform. There is not the excuse of ignorance. With the superior model before him, the native deliberately rejects it. He is not to be beguiled by any demonstration; he is too completely crusted with conservatism and prejudice.

If a Cow gave Butter mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food-medicine in the world.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING

FIRST.—Dip the article to be washed in a tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it. Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and do on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are rolled up.

Then go away for thirty minutes to one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work.

NEXT.—After soaking the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a washboard, and the dirt will drop out; turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scald or boil a single piece, and don't wash through two suds. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the suds for a few minutes.

FAMILY COMES THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang up to dry.

For Woollens and Flannels proceed as follows:—Shake the article free from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and let it soak into a lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse in roughly in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air.

The most delicate colors may be safely washed in the "Sunlight" way.

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.

Your Money Refunded by the dealer from whom you buy Sunlight Soap if you find any cause for complaint.

ROBES OF SNAKE SKIN.

The Anaconda Likely to Supply Coats for Motorists.

Wonders in dress never cease. The anaconda snake is to oust the beaver. This snakeskin is the newest novelty in the dress of women motorists. At present there is only one anaconda coat in existence, and its inventor, Mr. Ganner, of London, England, proudly showed it to a reporter. It was an elegant production, three-quarter length, in delicate shades of cream color and brown with cuffs, collar and revers of beaver fur, and lined with brown satin.

"Although anaconda skin is not difficult to obtain," said the inventor of the coat, "the matching of sufficient skins is the great difficulty. The coat is made of four skins, and one of the most attractive points in its favor is its extreme lightness.

"Anaconda skin is as flexible and soft as broad tail, and its durability is practically everlasting. Its bright and scaly surface is never dulled, and will never wear out.

"It is several degrees warmer than any known fur, and as a trimming anaconda skin is a novelty this season.

"Collars, cuffs and even revers of the skin are all the rage, and toques and even muffs are being made of it."

COFFEE NEURALGIA.

Leaves When You Quit and Use Postum.

A lady who unconsciously drifted into nervous prostration brought on by coffee, says:

"I have been a coffee drinker all my life, and used it regularly, three times a day.

"A year or two ago I became subject to nervous neuralgia, attacks of nervous headache and general nervous prostration which not only incapacitated me for doing my housework but frequently made it necessary for me to remain in a dark room for two or three days at a time.

"I employed several good doctors, one after the other, but none of them was able to give me permanent relief.

"Eight months ago a friend suggested that perhaps coffee was the cause of my troubles and that I try Postum Food Coffee and give up the old kind. I am glad I took her advice, for my health has been entirely restored. I have no more neuralgia, nor have I had one solitary headache in all these eight months. No more of my days are wasted in solitary confinement in a dark room. I do all my own work with ease. The flesh that I lost during the years of my nervous prostration, has come back to me during these months, and I am once more a happy, healthy woman. I enclose a list of names of friends who can vouch for the truth of the statement." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Ten days' trial leaving off coffee and using Postum is sufficient. All grocers.

STREET-CAR TICKET LOTTERY.

An ingenious device has been adopted by the City of Mexico Electric Railway Company, who for some time past have been defrauded by their employes to a considerable extent, despite the vigilance of various plain-clothes inspectors and detectives. A monthly lottery has been instituted, with numerous valuable prizes, all presented by the company, and every tram ticket sold is likewise a lottery ticket. Passengers are now very careful to insist on having a ticket, and to preserve it sedulously, instead of dropping it in the car, to be collected and used again by a dishonest conductor. Although the lottery will cost several thousand dollars every month, the directors reckon to more than recoup themselves by the additional takings and the savings in inspectors' wages. As a solatium for the loss of their ill-gotten gains, the conductors are to be allowed a bonus of 1 per cent. on the value of the tickets sold.

SETTLERS' LOW RATES WEST

For the Overworked.—What are the causes of despondency and melancholy? A disordered liver is one cause and a prime one. A disordered liver means a disordered stomach, and a disordered stomach means disturbance of the nervous system. This brings the whole body into subjection and the victim is sick all over. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a recognized remedy in this state and relief will follow their use.

TOBACCO IN ENGLAND.

British Farmers Mastered the Art of Raising It.

Tobacco raising in England is a varied and checkered history. First introduced there in 1565, the Elizabethan courtiers soon cultivated a liking for it. Ere long the common people followed their example and smoking became a universal habit among the English. They began to import large quantities of Virginia weed, and soon after learned to grow it for themselves. When the British agriculturists had mastered the art of raising tobacco and conquered the climatic difficulties at first encountered in it, the practice of smoking was denounced in court. James I. issued a counterblast to the weed. Charles I. was no less opposed to it, and so adopted strong measures to discourage its use and prevent its cultivation. The church, likewise, took up arms against smoking. The spiritual edicts against tobacco were continuously taken seriously to a large extent.

Charles II. imposed such a heavy duty on the native article as, it was thought, would have the effect of excluding it from British crops. The increased tax, however, did not prevent large numbers from becoming independent of foreign countries for their supply of this commodity. For those days it was not as easy for officials to make a long tour of inspection as it is now. Eventually, in 1782, a law was passed making it illegal to grow tobacco in any quantity in England. The same law, of course, applied to Scotland and Ireland. In the latter country tobacco has traditions characteristically its own.

PROFITABLE BORDERS.

Only the very rich have fences around their farms in Japan. The Japanese do not like to spare the square feet a fence would take up. His border around a field is necessary it is made of mulberry trees, the leaves of which are good for silkworms. It is said that 190,000 acres that would otherwise be taken up with fences are thus used.

BY BRINGING THE NERVES with quinine may relieve a cough but the influenza may be left to develop worse. Allen's Lung Balsam, containing no opium, goes to the root of the trouble and cures deep-seated affections of throat and lungs.

Mrs. Prune—"I ain't even ever hired girl of Jane." Mrs. Pelle... "No, the poor girl is gone. She tried to boil one of Hiram's celluloid collars and it exploded and we ain't seen her since."

It Will Prolong Life.—So Says the Standard, but he lives in Florida, whither he went for the benefit of climate and "Fountain of perpetual youth" said to exist in that then unknown country. While Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil does not perpetuate youth, it will remove from bodily pains which make old age a curse before their time and hasten the aged into untimely graves.

Nell—"But are you sure her complexion's genuine?" Belle—"Positive. I saw the boy on the lot it said, 'None genuine without our signature,' and there was the signature right enough."

Death or Lunacy reached the only alternative for a well-known and highly respected lady of Wingham, Ont., who had travelled over two continents in a vain search for a cure for nervous debility and dyspepsia. As friend recommended South American Nervine. One bottle helped, six bottles cured, and her own written testimony closes with these words: "It has saved my life."—20.

"Father," said an inquiring youth, "when a hen sits on an egg for three weeks and it don't hatch, is the egg spoiled?" "As an article of diet, my son, it is hereditary a failure; but for political purposes it has its uses."

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints usually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, cucumbers, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting things, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial and take a few drops in water after eating the cramps and cholera in a remarkably short manner and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

Young Mother—"Now, Harold, whom do you love most, papa or me?" Little Harold Pupp—"Why, Mother—" "But yesterday you said you loved me most." Little Harold—"Yes; but I've got it over since and decided that we two must stick together."

Faith

You cannot be expected to have faith in Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, as a cure for Colds, Coughs and all diseases of the air passages, if you have not tried it. We have faith in it and to convince you that it will cure you we guarantee it. If it doesn't cure you it costs you nothing. If it does it costs you 25c. That's fair. Try it today.

Shiloh

has cured every thousands of the most obstinate cases, and we do not hesitate to say that it will cure any Cold, Cough, Throat or Lung trouble. If you do not believe this we would say examine it. Absolutely as we do. Shiloh has had an unbroken record of success for many years. It has cured every possible test without failure. Isn't that proof of its curative properties. Further is found in the many testimonials of those who have tried Shiloh and been cured. Mrs. Archie Taylor, Asaph, Pa., writes:—

"I bought a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and found it very beneficial. I have two children and find it a truly certain. I cure for everything I could think of, but they are never well until one evening my husband brought a bottle of Shiloh. We gave it to the children when they went to bed, and they were right. It has been completely. I shall always keep it in the house."
