Mr. F. E. Powell of London took charge of the Christ Church appointment here and also St. Matthias Church Berkeley, on Sunday, Nov. 19th, until his ordination in June. To quote exalted authority—the people heard him gladly. He uses no furbelows; abhors fuss: is without fads. Yet his sermons are true and rich, and there are the embroideries that give color and pathos to the web of his discourse. Mr. Powell who is quite a young man gives the promise of potency and sway in the town; and is already very popular. A Proposed New

For some years past our citizens have realized the need of manufacturing industries which would employ a large number of hands, thus creating an increased circulation of money in our midst. The opportunity now presents itself for securing such. Armstrong Bros. purpose establishing an extensive wagon factory on condition that our village grant them a loan of ten thousand dollars for ten years without interest, the principal to be repaid in equal annual instalments. Their intention, should the vote prove favorable, is to convert their present saw mill and veneer factory into a wagon factory, add largely to the present building, put in a modern plant suited specially to the new specialty and have it in full swing by July next, to employ at the outset not less than forty hands, and to add to this number as Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, will be at the business develops. It is expected the Markdale House, Markdale, for that from fifteen to twenty new tenement houses would be required at once, which together with other added real estate caused by this new industry would render a revenue in taxes more the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throut, will be than sufficient to meet the amount paid at the Markdale House, Markdale, for by the corporation as interest on the

This firm has proven for many years a worthy and valuable asset to our village and our citizens will doubtless readily recognize and embrace this favorable opportunity of securing a permanent and most desirable industry.

Methodist S. S. Concert

The annual Sunday School entertainment under the direction of Miss Amy L. Doty, of London, was held in the Methodist church on Friday evening last. The weather conditions were anything but favorable and the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been. The program was of a very high order and fully sustained Church held their regular meeting at Miss Doty's reputation as a trainer of the highest order. The "Shaking Quakers" looked very cute in their quaint costumes. The drills were executed with ease, grace and precision. Miss Doty's own selection, "A Sermon ito Husbands," was especially well received by one element of the audience. The doll drill by 24 little girls looked very sweet and pretty. The representation of the seasons by 18 girls and 16 young ladies was one of the most attractive features of the evening. The young ladies, all gowned in white, presented a very charming appearance. The "Sons of the Sea" selection was intensely patriotic, and as the 20 young men in sailor uniform went through their mandeuvres to the sound of martial music the enthusiasm of the audience reached white heat and the performers had to 'do it again.' The illustrated hymn by 10 young ladies was exceptionally impressive. The solo by Nora King was sweetly rendered and well received. Mrs. J. E. Walker was the efficient accompanist throughout the evening. A flash light picture of those who assisted in the program was taken at the close of the entertainment by Mr. J. C. Kentner.

Local Option.

The question of local option, which is very much alive, received its first reverse in Markdale on Monday night last when by a vote of three to two the council refused to allow the ratepayers an opportunity to exercise their rights in deciding the issue. Mr. M. Armstrong presented a petition with 98 qualified voters names thereon asking the council to submit to a vote at the coming municipal election the local option by-law. He also presented joint Stock Company's books showing over eight thousand dollars subscribed in a cool, concise, logical manner.

Mrs. Dodds with five sons were thus left to battle with life against great odds. Deceased was endowed with superior strength of body and mind and successfully surmounted the difficulties and privations of pioneer life, of which she had a double share. Her indomitable courage was often a subject of favorable comment by her neighbors. Her son, James A., with his wife accompanied the remains last Saturday from Peterboro to Markdale and after a service in the Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Shepherd, interment took place in the public cometery. Three of the sons survive, vix: Geo. L., of Winnipeg; Wm. H., of Rainy River, and James A., of Peterboro. The latter remains for week to visit old heighbors.

Sunday last was a special day in the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Mr. Edmison, B. The W.F. M.S. Thankoffering meeting was held on Monday pight and Mr. Edmison preached on the Missionary Spirit, and it was a genuine treat to secommodation to our customers consistent with sound banking principles.
