FLESHERTON HAPPENINGS

(By our own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Jos. Radley visited friends at St. Thomas last week.

Miss Grier, of Dundalk, was the guest of Mrs. J. A. Boyd over Sunday.

Mrs. John Wright, sr., has returned from an extended visit with her daughter near Stouffville.

Mrs. D. McTavish is recovering from her severe illness, but is yet under the care of a trained nurse.

Division Court was held here on Wednesday of last week, but the docket was very light. Only one important case was heard.

Miss Hannah Bellamy has removed to rooms over Mrs. Radley's residence on Sydenham street and will continue her dress-making business there.

Some of our citizens returning from Easter holidays on Tuesday night of last week had a wearying ride and late arrival home. A way freight off the track at Weston delayed the passenger train due at Flesherton at 9.27 till about 1 o'clock a.m.

The earthquake and devastating fire at San Francisco has been the cause of much anxiety to Mrs. W. J. Stewart, of the east back line, who has a sister, formerly Mrs. Gadd, of this place, living there. Miss Martha Wright, formerly of this place, who has also been living there, escaped the danger by having left the city a few days before the shock to visit her sister in Detroit.

At the morning service in the Methodist church on Sunday Miss Anna Henry, M. D., gave an excellent address on behalf of foreign missions, dealing specially with the work at Chentu, China, where she laboured as medical missionary. Miss Henry exhibited a number of curios brought from the field of her labor. In the evening the choir gave the postponed Easter song service and Mr. M. K. Richardson gave an interesting and instructive address on hymnology.

The silver anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church was celebrated by the auxiliary here with a successful entertainment on Wednesday evening of last week. Rev. Dr. Caldwell presided, and the programme, largely given by the Mission Band, was interesting throughout. Solos were given by Master Robert Trimble, Miss Irene Wilson, Miss Hazel Boggs and Miss Ruby Trimble; duets by Misses Elda Carstedt and Florence Bunt and Miss Irene Wilson and Gladys Cornfield; recitations by Master Wesley Armstrong, Miss Gladys Cornfield and Miss Jessie McAuley; two exercises, one by eight boys and the other by five girls were well given and very pleasing readings were given by Mrs. (Rev.) Caldwell and Mrs. W. W. Trimble. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served and an hour was spent in a very enjoyable manner.

The East Grey Agricultural Society's spring stallion show, held on the exhibition grounds here on Friday last, was quite successful. There was a good attendance of farmers who showed deep interest in the very fine specimens of entire horses which now stand for service in this section of Grey County. A better class of winners in both imported and Canadian bred would be difficult to find in any county in the province. The animals exhibited and their owners were as follows: Heavy Draught, Imported—Spaurelbank and Merry Mason, James Patton, Swinton Park; Grounslow Chariner, Jos. Cairns, Ceylon; Severn Reaburn, Wm. Burnett, Ceylon; Marnex, W. J. Lever, Flesherton; Knight of Glamis and Breadalbyn, Thomas Mercer, Markdale. Heavy Draught, Canadian—Grounslow Junior, Joseph Cairns, Ceylon; Duke of York, H. M. Douglas, Vandeleur; Young Belgian, Richard Hoy, Flesherton. Carriage—Clear Grit, William Sackett, Swinton Park. Roadsters—Ron Wilkes, J. H. Dundas, Markdale; Commodore Lee, J. R. Mathews, Markdale; Antolectric, J. J. Martin, Kimberley. Messrs. Wm. Black, of Durham, and John Runstadler, of this place, acted as Judges. Mr. Black, who is an expert judge, pointed out in an instructive manner, the points of merit in each animal shown and explained to the interested spectators how best results could be obtained in each class in stock raising.

A well known and highly respected old resident of Artemesia township in the person of Frances Watson, relict of the late Robert Henderson, sr., died of pneumonia on Tuesday of last week at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. John Johnston, Dundalk. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Thursday to Mount Zion Cemetery, Artemesia, where the deceased's husband was laid to rest 45 years ago. An impressive service was held in the church, conducted by Rev. N. Wellwood, of Dundalk. In the course of his sermon the speaker paid a fitting tribute to the memory of the deceased, who had been for nearly fifty years a faithful member of the Methodist church and passed away in full assurance of a glorious immortality. The choir of Wareham church, where the deceased formerly worshipped, assisted in the service, rendering appropriate music. The deceased's five sons and son-in-law with whom she lived, acted as pall-bearers, and the casket was covered with beautiful floral offerings from the family. The deceased, who was 83 years and four months of age, was born in the County Tyrone, Ireland. In her girlhood days she came with her parents to Canada and lived in the township of Vaughan where she met Mr. Robert Henderson, to whom she was married in 1845 in Toronto. In 1855 the young couple decided to seek a new home for themselves and coming to Artemesia settled in the almost unbroken forest in Mt. Zion neighborhood, where all went well until 1861 when great calamity befell them. At a barn raising Mr. Henderson was struck by a falling log and died two hours later. Surrounded by sympathizing friends and with a firm trust in the Almighty, the widowed mother remained on the homestead until her industrious family had grown to manhood and womanhood, highly respected in the community. The influence of her quiet but exemplary Christian life was felt and still lives in the hearts of her surviving sons and daughters, who in their filial devotion were her stay and solace during the years of her long widowhood. About 23 years ago she moved to the home of her daughter with whom she spent her last days. The deceased was the mother of nine children, the eldest of whom, James W., Inspector for the North of Scotland Mortgage Company, Toronto, died over six years ago. The surviving members are William J., at Wareham; Joseph, at Rob Roy; Thomas, M.D.S., Samuel and Robert H., D.D.S., Toronto; Mrs. Robert J. Carson, Proton Station; Mrs. John Paul, Feversham; and Mrs. Johnston, Dundalk.

The Oddfellows marched to [illegible] hall to the Methodist service [illegible] day morning last. They numbered about sixty. It was a strong, [illegible] some procession, in charge of Marshal Rowe, and headed by the Silver Band, playing sacred airs. The pastor, Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, preached the sermon. Mr. Wilson was in fine form of body and spirit, and had his subject in such smooth and sequent array that it was a gracious flow without curvatures or gradients. It was therefore a pleasure as it was a pregnant, discourse. Mr. Wilson dwelt particularly on the subject of "Friendship," which is one of the strongest links in the constitution chain of the Independent Order of Oddfellows. In the Lodge Room later a vote of thanks was passed to the Church and its pastor.

The opening of May brought us the tramp again in full war paint, and more than one has been seen in Markdale since spring opened. It is [illegible] how he comes so suddenly out of winter hermitage. He buds with the crocus and the violet. He comes to the countryside in company with other birds of passage. Whatever may be his weakness the tramp finds forgiveness at the hands of nature. Though men call him lazy, shiftless, worthless, a nuisance and a pest; though they meet his requests with a scowl or something more, and toss him a bit of charity like a dry bone to a dog, Nature welcomes him with the same smile, with the same profusion of flowers and fruits, and the same balmy skies and gentle breezes as every other living being.
