TO DEATH

Have Gone

he behind, also a note Tell my friends that I ory." This note as well ears the initials "J.D."
ey will be a great help e man. Inquiry at the reveal that any of the g, nor do any of them
guest who was lame.
the awful plunge over 20 feet lout from Pros-when it was announced t a human being was the rapids toward the hurrying of many to ess the terrible plunge rush was impulsive on and many were sad-ight. Superintendent
icles left behind.

ATIENCE GONE.

Erring Husband and hts It.

m Vancouver says:
a character well
n and figuring free Court, was arrested
nkenness and failure wife and children, and brooding on a fore-
ent. He came home
to get into the house, back yard. His wife
it and read him a lec-or heard. Becoming ious to unswer, she asoline over him, set and left him. Hebbler speedily, ran yelling neighbors in night with blankets and
es. He was finally moved to the hospiconfined for some ably recover. Mean-another charge of ainst him is able to he must go to jail.
ef's department was s action. Jail-refused he makes complaint.

ROKE PAROLE.

Ninety-nine Prison-
t Faith.

Ottawa" says. Mr.
ficer of the Depart-
. Of the three hun-
ed out on parolo roke faith and had e cancelled.

REMEDIES.

the affected parts.
ff have any more

a lemon in half,
and instep of foot.
obtained.

Insomnia.—Drink
milk at 9 o'clock.
d up at 5 o'clock.
pply where intoxi-

Boil wine navy
ugh to mush and Apply warm and ttle all inflamma-

the heads off the otatoes. Make cover with hop clusters
e's sweet restorer,

Put some lard in over lamp or gas.
tween the nail and e heat as long as sure, though the

ke a wad of some is best, and tie it ong is. Don't tie e knee." Make the ng legs apart. "It ng of shoes." Rub very day, and be ll disappear.
ng the hot wea-are swollen and reering pull them ny water that is them for several feet are callous,
d by the water,
ough down.

New York yes-
e head.

ttles Stuska fell instantly killed;
n who may also

AGAIN

Tribunal

treaty rights of

it has apparent-to concede the tion, or at least through Ambas-
s.

ERICTION. will be difficult permanent setand the whole s is apparently moment on the modus vivendi development of here that might,
is results.
occasion is one tual concession
modus vivendi.
s are not anxi-until they have e that they can manent arrange-have suggested subject of conlative rights to Tribunal.

Reforming a Reformer.

The doctor examined the child's arm, and smiled.

"Well, I'm on," he said, "judging from your ominous expression, a person would be justified in suspecting something serious."

"And it is serious."

"Nothing at all. Merely a slight discoloration of the outer skin, the result of a bite—or—yes, these are two distinct bites. Someone has been pinching the child viciously, I should say. Have a straight talk with her nurse, and don't allow your parental feelings to magnify molehills into mountains."

Lawrie gave a sigh of evident relief. "There is no probability of it being a permanent disfigurement?" he questioned.

"What whatever!"

"Or of future developments?"

"Absolutely none!"

Picking the little mite up in his arms, he kissed her fondly, and left the room. Outside the governess-car was waiting, and a nurse-maid relieved him of his charge. Then he returned.

"Don't you think I had better examine your patient personally?" said the doctor.

Lawrie smiled.

"No queer pains in the head, melancholic symptoms, or——"

"None whatever! I'm as sound as a bell."

"Then for goodness' sake, explain yourself! A man doesn't come to a surgeon, even if it is that of his friend, with gloomy forebodings of complications arising from a slight bruise, unless his liver is out of order."

"Maud—my wife" was the reply. "She left me two days ago——"

The doctor sprang to his feet, but Lawrie motioned him to his seat, and continued:

"And came back last night, after I'd offered that mark upon the little kiddie's arm. Ugh! I feel quite a brute! But see, he proceeded, "some time ago I became acquainted with a Miss Tarter, and got inoculated with the Woman Question."

"And you objected, naturally?"

"No, I went but later I thought it was giving her attention too much, and suggested I would be better if she went alone. Maud flared up and declared I was wrong in a serious matter [illegible] ought to have a vote, and refused to give her mine unless I would vote any way she would satisfy her.

"She rattled off some[illegible] that she wouldn't [illegible] woman in the country [illegible] went out to the club [illegible] of last week, and [illegible] to guess my surprise [illegible] Maud was announced [illegible] speakers.

"And," she questioned [illegible] I called home. They [illegible] next to Miss Tarter, [illegible] leaders—from Lon-

I retorted. "It's [illegible] The pavement be[illegible] crowded with an en[illegible] motley and dirty little [illegible] already making chalk[illegible] name!"

[illegible] and the tears came into [illegible]

"[illegible] I must expect ri[illegible]dickily; 'but I didn't [illegible] the first to give it. [illegible] would be proud!'

"I persisted, 'you [illegible] any experience as a [illegible] and will probably cry [illegible] if you are inter[illegible]ere likely—howl-

[illegible] tears away and faced [illegible]

[illegible] position already?' [illegible] you."

"[illegible] argument was useless, so I [illegible] the club again. The [illegible] waiting, some with [illegible] with something [illegible] expressing itself upon their [illegible] your wife for me, old [illegible] She is the only woman [illegible] who dare speak. [illegible] my better half in[illegible] elected to support her [illegible] the platform, looke[illegible] dresses made speci[illegible] dresses, perforce, [illegible] dressers must pay for!' [illegible] put them all under [illegible] said Jones.

"[illegible] good advertis[illegible] another. 'Howl them

"[illegible] Let the brides have [illegible] said Captain Turner.

"[illegible] questioned.

"[illegible] regret it—they al[illegible]ways [illegible] waited. 'Or'—he stopped [illegible] astonishingly—'come here.'

"We [illegible] round him and waited. [illegible] he appeared deeply in [illegible] could see his eyes were [illegible] suppressed merriment. [illegible] with suppressed merri[illegible]ke, and when he had [illegible] at each other, speech[illegible]ss [illegible] presently. 'But [illegible] never been thought [illegible] Smithson. And, [illegible] chair, he roared with [illegible]

"[illegible] do?' queried the cap[illegible] a round half-dozen [illegible] course we will!'

"[illegible] of the meeting arrived. [illegible] ready when I arrived home, [illegible] with excitement, looked [illegible] better than ever.

"'Are you going to be there?' she [illegible]

"'Certainly,' I replied.

"'And you won't interrupt me?'

"'I won't speak a word aloud,' I promised.

"'And if anyone threatens me?'

"'Be it man, woman or child, dear,' I answered, 'they will never want a vote again—on this earth, at any rate!'

She disappeared, well pleased with my passive resistance, I suppose, and for the moment I half regretted the course I was taking. But the arrival of the rest of the conspirators put an end to that.

"When we reached the hall it appeared packed to excess, but as we had reserved front-seat tickets, the struggling crowd didn't trouble us. We paraded the front and waited.

"Presently a cab rolled up to the side entrance, and Jones announced 'No. 1.' Others followed in rapid succession until six cabs stood in line, and six jehus stood grinning on the pavement.

"Then it was that we sent the captain to reconnoitre.

"'You're right in the front row,' he reported, a moment later, 'the hall-keeper is ours. Enter by the side entrance.'

"Hastily discarding our overcoats, we obeyed instructions. As we were all in evening-dress, our entrance created something like a sensation, and made the ladies on the platform glance at each other uneasily. Individually, I suppose, they didn't fear us, but collectively we seemed to startle them.

"Ten minutes passed, and the chairwoman ended her remarks. A half-hearted cheer announced the appearance of the great London leader. She stepped forward with grim determination, opened her mouth, and then—stopped.

"Captain Turner was standing at the side entrance with an expression of sublime innocence upon his face, and beside him two nurse-maids, each carrying a young child. After a momentary hesitation, they attempted to ascend the platform, but the hall-keeper prevented them. I recognized Kiddie's nurse, and nerved myself for the ordeal. The captain blandly pointing us out to the nervous, giggling girls, and a moment later they were crossing the hall. Though acting upon instructions, their nervousness made the incident appear magnificently real, and the audience roared when Jones and I, each with a despairing look towards the stage, took the children, and sat down.

"Miss Tarter looked first bewildered and then indignant. As the laughter died away she commenced to speak, but no for long. Two more nursemaids appeared; the same attempt to reach their respective mistresses was made, and two more despairing fathers stood by to receive their children.

"By this time the crowd had seen through the joke, and fairly shrieked with laughter; and although Miss Tarter still held forth indignantly, it was impossible to understand what she said.

"A moment later the last two maids appeared, and six unhappy fathers, presumably acknowledging the supremacy of woman, were struggling manfully with six startled little kiddies.

"The uproar was deafening, and the ladies on the platform looked like fainting. They glanced at us with pathetically appealing eyes, but we wouldn't relent, and held the children in the awkward, idiotic manner fellows do when unaccustomed to the task.

"For at least ten minutes we were subjected to a torrent of sarcastic suggestions for the management of children, and I began to tire of it. The peals of laughter, rising and falling at each witticism, got wearying, and, worse still, Kiddie had hopelessly disfigured the spotless whiteness of my shirt-front, and I didn't like it. The other fellows were doing no better, and the perspiration was rolling down their faces. Jones's youngster was scrambling somewhere round his neck, and treating his father's confused efforts to dislodge him as a good joke. To make matters worse, the ladies on the platform—our wives—began to laugh.

"With one accord we looked towards the door, and prepared for immediate flight; but the captain saved the situation. Strolling nonchalantly across the hall, he passed before us.

"'Pinch the beggars!' he whispered.

"For a moment we hesitated. Pinch Kiddie! I shuddered; but it had to be done.

"Instantly six little mites stopped struggling, and gazed at their unhappy fathers with regretful, wondering eyes. Another second, and little mouths contracted, and little lungs gave vent to a yell of agony, heard even above the ironical laughter. I saw Maud's face flush with indignation, and pinched again—I really had to. Simultaneously Kiddie recognized her, and a pathetic wail for 'Mummie!' ensued. A battle royal waged on the platform; the wailing series of terrified infants and the maternal instincts of mothers struggled against the desire for votes—and won!

"Maud, ever the leader, gave way first. She rushed down the steps and fairly smothered Kiddie with kisses, and the rest following, the meeting ended in a fiasco.

"I left the hall hurriedly and sneaked away to the club. Later, I went home, to find a note from Maud, saying she had gone away until I apologized. Yesterday, however, she returned, and, contrary to my expectations, kissed me affectionately, and then actually laughed.

"And that, doctor, is the reason why I called with Kiddie. Maud has noticed those bruises, and, although she suspects the cause, it would simplify matters if you were to tell her that nervous excitement sometimes causes an involuntary contraction of the digital extremities; or if you would put it in Latin would be better. You will? Thanks. Good-night!"—London Answers.

BEGGARS ON VESUVIUS.

Rich Harvests Reaped From Tourists as Result of Last Year's Eruption.

Since the last eruption of Mount Vesuvius the volcano has been extremely profitable to the beggars that infest Naples and its vicinity. They are fleecing the visitors to Boscotrecase and Ottajano, the two places laid waste by the lava flow last year.

Huddled in groups which might have been posed by a skilful stage manager, the population of Boscotrecase awaits the arrival of the strangers. Men, women and children, shrieking and howling, begin to depict the terrors of the catastrophe of 1906.

Emotional women are moved and immediately contribute. Those who do not give freely are so beset by the weeping and complaining natives that they are finally convinced that it would be heartless not to help those who have suffered so deeply. Every day the beggars make a highly profitable haul in spite of the fact that not one of them ever lived or was at Boscotrecase until after the eruption.

At Ottajano the same appeal is made to the sympathies of the visitors and often by the same impostors. Here the beggars have made a sort of gypsy camp where they cook beans in the hot lava and lead sentimental visitors to talk with an old man.

Seated on a block of lava with the wind blowing through his long white locks and beard, he stares in front of him.

"This old man was very rich," says the chief of the beggars. "His house, his fields, his fortune are under this lava. Worst of all his sufferings was to see his wife swept alive under the flowing lava."

At these words all the beggars begin to howl and weep. Many of the visitors contribute liberally to the fund that soon accumulates in the old man's open palm. Some return to Naples profoundly touched by the sight.

They would be consoled by the fact, did they but know it, that not a person was killed at the explosion last year either in Boscotrecase or in Ottajano. The beggars are nevertheless earning a fortune out of the sympathetic travellers who journey there to see the lava fields.

Disease takes no summer vacation.

If you need flesh and strength use

Scott's Emulsion

summer as in winter.

Send for free sample.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto, Ontario.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

THE WONDERS OF FARMING BY IRRIGATION.

While Wall Street has been busy watering stocks and breaking its clients, the West has been busy watering land and making farmers rich. Water is a mighty bad thing in stocks, and a mighty good thing in irrigation ditches, ready to turn on and off at will.

The average man who has never studied the subject thinks that the need of irrigation is a misfortune. The fact is, that the country where irrigation is possible is fortunate. Wherever irrigation is possible it is profitable. The Eastern farmer "fertilizes" his land. The Western farmer "irrigates" his. If the Eastern farmer could irrigate he would need to fertilize much less. But irrigation is possible only in a comparatively few favored localities. There are large irrigated tracts in California, Utah, Washington, Colorado and some other States. In Canada irrigation is successfully practised in the fertile valleys of British Columbia, and over a large area in Southern Alberta, where we have the greatest irrigation proposition of modern times.

The peculiar feature of our Canadian irrigation operations is that the sun furnishes the water. The supply is drawn from the main range of the Rocky Mountains. As the season advances, the snow melts higher and higher up the mountains, and thus a constant, unfailing supply of water is furnished to the rivers which fill the irrigation ditches during the spring and summer seasons, at the very time moisture is needed for the crops. Owing to the inexhaustible supply of water coming from the mountains it is unnecessary to build storage drains or reservoirs. The farmer on irrigated land is thus assured that in the very driest season he will have all the water he cares to use, and as the ground is rich and the climate favorable he has no anxiety about his crops.

Irrigation is most favorable to intensive farming operations—getting the maximum of crops from the minimum of acreage. Although large irrigated farms, from a quarter section upwards, are now the order of the day, the tendency will doubtless be towards more limited holdings. As land becomes more valuable farmers will sell off part of their holdings at good profits and confine their efforts on a more intensified scale to smaller acreage. Such, at any rate, has been the history of irrigated farming in the United States, where there have sprung up closely settled and prosperous dairying, fruit-growing and mixed farming communities. These have become the natural centres for cheese, butter and condensed milk factories, beet sugar factories and other kindred industries, which naturally locate where the population is densest and the productive capacity of the land the greatest.

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL

FINAL PLANS FOR THE GREAT WATERWAY FOR SHIPS.

A 21 Foot Canal From the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence — the Cost $105,000,000.

Many thousands of years ago the Great Lakes are supposed to have discharged their waters through the French River, Lake Nipissing and the Mattawa, Ottawa and St. Lawrence rivers into the Atlantic. This is the very route that Champlain followed when he reached the inland seas and gazed over their vast expanse.

Over this route for centuries passed all the traffic between the Canada of the early days and the western outposts of the Hudson's Bay Company, and this is to be the route of the Georgian Bay Canal, which Canada now proposes to build and which will be by far the shortest waterway between the lakes and the ocean.

The project has been in the air for years, but not till now has it taken definite shape. Many questions have been involved and among them the form the canal should take. Should it be a fourteen foot canal for canalboats of large size, or a twenty foot ship canal or a thirty foot ocean steamer proposition, so that great ocean freighters might load at Lake ports and unload in Europe?

All the questions have now been answered. For two years the Georgian Bay Canal Commission of Canada has been studying every phase of the enterprise and it is now preparing the plans for the building of the canal.

IT IS TO BE A SHIP CANAL,

providing a continuous and easily navigable waterway, with a minimum depth of twenty-one feet, from Georgian Bay to Edewater. The cost is estimated at about $105,000,000.

The fact is, there is very little canal to build. Some long stretches in the rivers must be canalized at large expense and about thirty miles of rocky barrier and a few mud and sawdust banks must be removed.

This will be the nearest approach to an air line water route between the Lakes and the Atlantic for which nature has provided facilities. It will make a water channel between the Soo Canal and Montreal 350 miles shorter than by way of the Welland Canal, the line of least resistance between the Lakes and the ocean.

Not a dollar will have to be spent on the route from the Soo Canal, the great gateway into Lake Superior, to the mouth of the French River, on the shore of Georgian Bay. The route will hug the Canadian coast, passing through the North Channel, landlocked because the long island of Great Manitoulin is a bulwark against the waves of Lake Huron. Thus a deep and protected channel from one to fifteen miles wide is provided from the Soo to the French River, a distance of 160 miles.

This river drains the waters of Lake Nipissing to Georgian Bay, the lake forming the summit level seventy feet above the bay. At low water the French River carries some 10,000 cubic feet of water a second out of Lake Nipissing, and there will be forty-six miles of canalization on this river, with three short rock cuts

THROUGH THE RAPIDS.

East of the lake is the divide, which is only about two miles wide and a few feet above Nipissing. Then the descent begins through two small lakes and the Mattawa River, which drops 150 feet into the broad bosom of the stately Ottawa. This river, obstructed by some stretches of rapids and banks of sawdust, is otherwise broad and deep and will carry the Lake fleet to the St. Lawrence a little above Montreal.

Producers and shippers in States of the Union bordering the Lakes have taken a great interest in this project because it promises to give them the shortest and cheapest water route to the Atlantic. Not a few Western railroad men are also in hearty sympathy with the enterprise.

J. J. Hill of the Great Northern Railroad said a while ago that the Georgian Bay Canal would be the most popular enterprise that the Canadian Government would have to carry out in many years. When it is completed, he said, we shall see the grain business from north of St. Louis and as far west as grain grows in the Platte Valley taking this route to the sea. Only thirty-two miles of actual canal would have to be dug, and for the remainder of the distance existing water channels could be used, with considerable dredging here and there. He said that the distance from Chicago or Duluth to Montreal by this route would be a little shorter than the Lake routes now in use between these ports and Buffalo.

When the Georgian Bay Canal is completed, he predicted that grain would be carried between Chicago or Duluth and deep water at Montreal and refrigerator ships drawing nineteen or twenty feet of water could load direct from the packing houses at Chicago and sail to any port in the world during the season of open water of about 200 days. The St. Lawrence is open when the Lakes are open.

FOR 2½ CENTS A BUSHEL,

It is thought that the plans proposed by the Canadian commission will enable powerful whaleback steamers, 280 to 300 feet long, to carry in their holds and in towed barges about 12,000 tons of cargo at an average speed of about twelve miles an hour and that the time between Chicago and Montreal will be about 103 hours. The time between Chicago and New York by the Lakes and improved Erie Canal route is estimated at 193 hours. The distance between Montreal and London is 2,920 miles and between New York and London 3,130 miles.

It is expected that the new canal will have a wonderful influence upon the development of the Ottawa River. It is estimated that with the completion of the canal the water power available along the river will be almost as great as that of Niagara, and for electrical purposes it will be far superior to Niagara, because the power at those falls is confined to a radius of about fifty miles, while the Ottawa River affords water power along 400 miles at convenient distances. With so much cheap power available and with its great resources of iron ore and timber the Ottawa Valley is expected to develop into one of the great manufacturing centres of the continent.

Teething Babies

are saved suffering—and mothers given rest—when one uses

Nurses' and Mothers' Treasure

Quickly relieves—regulates the bowels — prevents convulsions. Used 50 years. Absolutely safe.

At drug-stores, 25c. 6 bottles, $1.25. National Drug & Chemical Co., Limited, Sole Proprietors, Montreal. 41

SUMMER AILMENTS.

Can Best be Banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

In summer your blood gets thin and watery. You feel simply wretched—tired, worn out, dull, your nerves are irritable, your whole system is out of gear. There is just one medicine can banish this summer feeling. Just one medicine that will give you strength and vim to endure the fag of even the hottest days—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have helped thousands. Perhaps your neighbors have already told you they have helped them. They're the medicine that makes that pure, rich, red blood that everyone needs for good health—they never fail to do that. Mrs. L. A. Carriere, the popular stewardess of the Jacques Cartier Club, Montreal, Que., says: "For two years I was a constant sufferer from general debility. The least work fatigued me and sometimes I could not work at all. I could not raise my hand above my head without feeling pains in all my muscles. I was very weak and sometimes became so dizzy that I would fall unless I could lean against something for support. While in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and by the time I had taken ten boxes I was in perfect health and am now able to look after all my duties without the least fatigue. When I began taking the Pills I was a great sufferer—to-day I feel as if I never was ill—thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

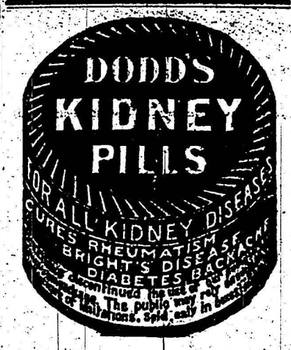
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike right at the root of anaemia, debility, rheumatism, indigestion, the secret ills of women and growing girls, etc., when they make new blood—they do just that one thing, but they do it well—good blood always brings good health. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Success is nothing but the ability to get to a certain place before the other fellow does.

If your children are troubled with worms, give them Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; safe, sure and effectual. Try it, and mark the improvement in your child.

When a man succeeds at anything his wife is pretty certain to take the credit for it.

Twenty-four tons of steam-driven vessels are built for each ton of sail-driven craft.



Celluloid Starch

Easier ironing gives better finish on things starched with Celluloid Starch, the only no-boil cold-water starch that can't stick. You will like it best, once you try it. Buy it by name. Any good dealer.

Saves Labor—Time—Linen, Too 20

SENTENCE SERMONS.

A growing faith will shatter many forms.

Dishonest thinking does not lead to holy living.

It takes a strong man to stop doing weak things.

The religion that produces no sunshine is moonshine.

Half of success is in seeing the significance of small things.

You must master your own moods before you can master men.

To set a child's face toward gladness is to incline him to God.

A greedy hand never gathered enough to feed its needy heart.

Faith is not built by failing to take fair account of all the facts.

Salvation often means making man over according to one's pattern.

Red letter days are not made by looking on the blue side of things.

Many a preacher says he is seeking souls when he is chasing statistics.

The possession of the vocabulary of virtue often is mistaken for its practice. You cannot weld folks to the good by a frosty smile at the church door.

Convert preachers to absolute sincerity and you can convert people from their sins.

It's easy to build ideal castles if you'll let the contract for the roads to them to others.

A lot of Sunday religion would put up a better front if it was backed up by weekday reality.

When your face is an advertisement of failures it's no use talking of the glory of your faith.

Start in with a splurge, end with a dirge.

There is little to admire in the man who despises the good.

The important thing about a sermon is not the impression it makes on you but the expression you give to it.

You cannot have good society with bad men, but you can have bad society with good men if they fail in their social obligations.

The man who has robbed his brother of a dollar imagines that the angels hold their breath in admiration when he gives the church a dime.

EXPERT SEWING-MACHINE REPAIRS

Also sewing machine oil of absolute purity, and the best needles and parts for all machines at Singer stores. Look for the Red S. Singer Sewing Machine Co. Write us at Manning Chambers, Toronto, for set of Bird Cards free. ...

Did you ever know a man to practice half the things he preaches to his boy?

Even during the driest season of the year enough water pours over the Victoria Falls to give 500,000-horse power.

In filling boots and shoes cause corns. Holloway's Corn Cure is the article to use. Get a bottle at once and cure your corns.

As a matrimonial prize a homely girl makes good more often than a pretty one.

ITCH, Mange, Prairie Scratches and every form of contagious Itch in human or animals cured in 30 minutes by Wolfford's Sanitary Lotion. It never fails. Sold by all druggists.

Washington, the capital of the United States, has the widest streets of any city in the world.

A promoter is a man who makes a strenuous effort to boost his own interests.

Useful at all Times.—In winter or in summer Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will cope with and overcome any irregularities of the digestive organs which change of diet, change of residence, or variation of temperature may bring about. They should be always kept at hand, and once their beneficial action becomes known, no one will be without them. There is nothing nauseating in their structure, and the most delicate can use them confidently.

The Jews were banished from England in 1290, and not recalled until the time of Oliver Cromwell.

Scratching is foolish; it only makes a bad matter worse. Weaver's Cerate allays the pain, cleans the skin of eruptions and other sores; why not buy a bottle to-day?

It's useless to try to establish universal peace as long as people will get married.

When a man is compelled to eat his words he finds it difficult to swallow his indignation.

Biliousness Burdens Life.—The bilious man is never a companionable man because his ailment renders him morose and gloomy. The complaint is not so dangerous as it is disagreeable. Yet no one need suffer from it who can procure Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the liver and obviating the effects of bile in the stomach they restore men to cheerfulness and full vigor of action.

GERMANY'S RULERS.

Germany is ruled by one emperor, four kings, six grand dukes, seven princes and one simple count. These sovereigns occupy very different degrees of importance, even in the eyes of their own immediate subjects, but in one degree or another they all enjoy the dignities and privileges of kingship, and all have to face some of the responsibilities of state. Every one of them has a capital and a court of his own. Some of the capitals are not very big cities, but they are all very proud. Among them are places with populations of 11,000, 9,000, 6,000, and 5,000. Aroisen, the capital of the principality of Waldeck-Prymont, has only 2,620 inhabitants. The entire population of the principality of Lichtenstein, the smallest of them all, is about 9,500 souls. The capital is Vaduz, with 1,139 inhabitants.

ISSUE NO. 30—07.

FOX IN CHILD'S CRADLE.

Hounds Followed Animal Into An English Cottage.

There was an extraordinary termination to a run with the Duke of Beaufort's hounds recently. The run had been a long one, and they knew that the fox was almost spent. Suddenly the scent turned abruptly from the open, leading straight into the garden of a cottage in the little village of Castle Coombe, Gloucestershire. Those who were following wondered what had happened and were more astonished still to see the entire pack without check or for an instant, dash through the open door into the little room. A shrill scream was heard, and when the whippers-in threw himself from his horse and gained the threshold he saw a sight which probably no foxhunter has ever met before or since. A white-faced woman stood clasping a child in her arms, and right there in the cradle from which the infant had just been snatched a couple of fierce hounds were struggling to devour their fox.

'Tis Well to Know a Good Thing, said Mrs. Surface to Mrs. Knowwell when they met in the street. "Why, where have you been for a week back?" "Oh, just down to the store for a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil," and Mrs. Surface, who hates puns, walked off. But she remembered, and when she contracted a weak back there was another customer for Eclectric Oil.

"Why is it called pin-money?" "Because it goes where pins go." "Where is that?" "Nobody knows."

Weak and Pale Women foolishly weep the way when by the use of "Ferrovim," the tonic, they could very quickly recover their health and strength. Try it.

"I suppose you expect a tip, waiter?" "Yes, sir." "Well, it's always the unexpected that happens. Good-evening."

About being carried away with enthusiasm, the worst feature is that we nearly always have to walk back.

Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victim before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. Facts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

Never judge a man by the patches on his clothes. Perhaps he had to buy spring outfits for a wife and seven daughters.

WILSON'S
FLY PADS

Every packet will kill more flies than 300 sheets of sticky paper

— SOLD BY —
DRUGGISTS, GROCERS AND GENERAL STORES
10c. per packet, or 3 packets for 25c.
will last a whole season.

Underwear made-to-order, for you couldn't possibly excel in fit nor equal in value

PEN-ANGLE Guaranteed Underwear

Can't shrink nor stretch nor bind nor bulge; outlasts other kinds; and is sold with a guarantee that insures you against any possible fault.

Trade-marked like this in red as sure sign of value. Made in many fabrics and styles, at various prices, in form-fitting sizes for women, men and children.

Pen-Angle Trade Mark UNSHRINKABLE

CARPET DYEING and Cleaning. This is a specialty with the BRITISH AMERICAN DYEING CO. Send particulars by post and we are sure to satisfy. Address Box 158, Montreal.

CREAM OF THE WEST FLOUR

A pure, hard Manitoba flour for bakers and others demanding strength, color and uniformity.

STRONG & WHITE

AT YOUR GROCERS

DEALERS EVERYWHERE SUPPLIED WITH "FLOUR AND FEED." WRITE US.

WE ALSO MAKE "QUEEN CITY," A BLENDED FLOUR THAT HAS GAINED GREAT FAVOR AS A GENERAL HOUSEHOLD "ALL PURPOSES" FLOUR.

THE CAMPBELL MILLING CO. TORONTO JUNCTION ONT.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP COMPANY LIMITED.

River and Gulf of St. Lawrence

Summer Cruises in Cool Latitudes

Twin Screw Iron SS. "Campana," with electric lights, electric bells and all modern comforts.

SAILS FROM MONTREAL ON MONDAYS at p.m., 3rd and 17th June, 1st, 15th and 29th July, 12th and 26th August, 9th and 23rd September, and fortnightly thereafter for Pictou, N.S., calling at Quebec, Gaspe, Mal Bay, Perce, Cape Cove, Grand River, Summerside, P.E.I., and Charlottetown, P.E.I.

BERMUDA

Summer Excursions, 885, by the new Twin Screw SS. "Bermudian," 5,500 tons. Sailing 5th and 16th June, 3rd, 14th and 31st July, 4th and 25th August, 4th, 14th and 27th September, 9th, 11th and 20th October. 6th, 10th and 25th November. Temperature cooled by sea breezes seldom exceeds 80 degrees.

The finest trips of the season for health and comfort.

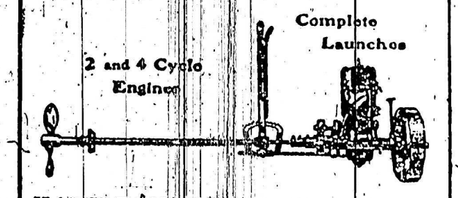
ARTHUR AHERN, Secretary, Quebec, A. E. OUTERBRIDGE & CO., Agents, 9 Broadway, New York.

Mother "Mercy, child, how did you get your hands so dirty? You never saw mine as dirty as that!" Child: No; but I guess grandma did!

MADE IN CANADA

Complete Launches

2 and 4 Cycle Engines



HAMILTON MOTOR WORKS, Ltd.
HAMILTON, ONT.

SALE OF IRRIGATED LANDS IN ONTARIO, MANITOBA AND THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

The Land Department of the Union Trust Company, Limited, has been appointed exclusive agent in Ontario, Manitoba, and the Maritime Provinces for the sale of the C.P.R. irrigated lands in the West.

Are You Satisfied Where You Are?

If not, and you think of changing your location, you will make a mistake if you do not investigate the opportunity for money-making offered in farming on irrigated land.

SOME PEOPLE who have not gone into the merits and advantages of irrigation imagine that the farmer on an irrigated farm deserves sympathy. He doesn't. His irrigated land, in a country where conditions for plant growth are otherwise ideal, ensures him good crops EVERY YEAR. Owing to climatic conditions he never suffers the drawback of a wet season, and irrigation prevents the possibility of a dry season. Modern irrigation transforms farming from an uncertainty into a certainty.

The average price of irrigated land in the United States is about three times the price of non-irrigated lands. In Southern Alberta the difference is at present very slight, but as settlement proceeds these irrigation lands will increase very rapidly in value.

A careful study of its advantages will convince any practical agriculturist that farming by means of irrigation is the most attractive proposition ever put upon the Canadian market.

Full information, prices and terms (which are very favorable) sent free to any address on application to

The Land Department,
Union Trust Co., Limited,
Temple Building,
174 Bay St., Toronto