

NEW FALL SUITINGS FOR MEN. We wish to inform the gentlemen of Markdale and vicinity that our Fall and Winter Suitings have arrived and we will be pleased to have you inspect them and we feel confidence at they are the finest selection of Men's Suitings that have ever been shown in Markdale. In an effort to get them so as to sell at a very low price, we imported them direct from the mills in England. We certainly accomplished our object for we can save you from $2 to $4 on a suit. Every suiting is a credit to the manufacturers and ought to make trade for us. Leave your measure early for we will certainly be busy, at the prices we are going to quote.

FLESHERTON HAPPENINGS (By our own Correspondent.) The bi-monthly sitting of the fifth Division Court was held here on Wednesday last week, Judge Hatton presiding. The docket was light and was cleared at noon. Among the cases disposed of were: Cockburn vs. Teeter, an action to recover note signed by Aaron Teeter, sr., and his son Aaron, minor. As against the latter, the case was dismissed. Boyd vs. Rutledge, J. & M. Boyd sued Mrs. Robert Rutledge for an account purchased by them from the assignee of the Richardson assignment and were given judgement for $14.57 and costs. Vessey vs. Watson-James Vessey, of Antrim, who formerly lived near Dirham, sued Herbert Watson, of Priceville, for $28.00, the price to be paid for seven hives of bees and a large quantity of supplies. The defendant's claim was that the supplies were given with the bees which were sold to him to be in good condition and proved diseased, all dying but one without judgement for plaintiff, $10.00 without costs. John Heard vs. Herman Radley, both of this place. This was a replevin suit arising out of the plaintiff's mare having been impounded with the defendant, who at the time had not been legally appointed pound keeper. No damages were allowed the plaintiff and the costs will be paid by the defendant in behalf of the police trustees of the village. The U-Need-A Concert Company consisting of Mr. Bert Johnston (manager), is a clever ventriloquist and magician, and his assistants, Messrs. Cyril and Hewitt, are comedians who can keep the audience in laughter. The company did a thriving business selling their medicine. The pie eating contest Friday evening in which six boys took part, was won by Master Joe Richards. This was an amusing and of course pleasant occasion. The Mansard roof on M.K. Richardson's corner block, apparently from insufficient collar ties to the rafters supporting the heavy roof above, had given away, pushing out the top of the brick wall, which had gone out of plumb over twelve inches. Under the hands of architect Lorne and contractor Wright the roof has been raised to proper position and the top of the wall, which was at first feared might have to be rebuilt, has been successfully sprung back to normal. The whole securely tied. Mr. Richardson's roof was raised to see the alarming conditions so successfully overcome. Mr. Jacob Thompson, east back line, lost about fifteen cords of wood by a fire which spread from a fallow. About twenty rods of fence belonging to Mr. George Clarke was leaning against the barn. Mr. Wilson McMullen's buildings, near Flesherton Station, had a close call from fire started in the stable from a spark from a T. R. engine. The wind was in the direction of the barn and it was with strenuous fight Mr. McMullen and his brother's family, who fortunately saw the danger, kept the running fire from the buildings. Work on the Flesher mill dam, washed away last winter, was completed last week and is a substantial looking job. Some repairs have yet to be made to the tail race and mill, but work will be long till the new Blakeley factory will be in operation again. Sunday last was Missionary Day in the Methodist church, the pastor taking advantage of the presence of Rev. D. D. Gaudin, of Cross Lake, Kewatin. Mr. Gaudin, who has spent the past seventeen years in the far north, spoke morning and evening on the missionary work among the Indians and his discourse was very interesting. The speaker and his little daughter each sang a hymn in the Cree language, with which they are familiar. Mr. Gaudin, wife and two children are visiting his sister Mrs. W. H. Thurston on their return from Quebec to their missionary home, to which they will be accompanied by Mr. Gaudin's mother. A very heavy thunder storm passed over here on Monday evening. The eye of the clock when daylight was almost obliterated and rain fell in torrents. During the storm Mr. John Martin's barn, near Eugenia, was struck by lightning and burnt together with the season's crop, most of his implements and some pigs. The loss is estimated at nearly $2,000, with some insurance. The loss is very great to Mr. Martin as this is the second time he has suffered by fire. Mr. Martin and son were both stunned by the lightning, the former being rendered unconscious for some time, but is reported recovering from the shock. Labor Day was observed as a holiday by the public school and Standard bank and post office, but other places of business were open as usual.
