years of hard works this Captain Durly, then laughed softly.
Fans, who is the cleverest man in the "Well?" questioned Von Garde. British Artillery, has perfected an in-vestion which will double the efficiency fare. I must know what it is, and this love affair of yours will greatly assist me in attaining that end."

"I don't see how," said the girl, speak-ing with some dimdence. "I'll explain," resumed Von Garde. Though Captain Dulham carries on his to learn in what part of the house is mones are situated, and the position therein of a certain safe. That's not dimiquit, is it?" he asked, with a smile "Also you must obtain a wax impreswears on a steel than. You can easiy do that during some of the petty feeding avariably indulged in by lov-

"No. no- I can't lo it!" cried the girl, turning away with a crimson face. "You must!" exclaimed Von Garde, striding towards fer threateningly. "Never!" was the ansy ..., given in a low determined voice.

The you think my object in getting introduced to this b inticular family was the furtherance of your sentimental fancies?" her father savagely demanded. Those plans have always been my ultimate aim. Germany will be at the increy of Great Britain if we cannot get possession of this wonderful invention. You've got to do as tell you, my girl. to make up your mind to it, and let as have done with these heroics."

Sundenly the guil turned round to him. There was an appalling look in expression of the beautiful, childish face must have topehed into softness one less hard-hearted than Von Garde. "Once for all, dad I can't do it You promised use that we had done with this louthosome life of spying and thievwe had done with ing: Is my happiness nothing to you, that you ask me to sacrifice it in helping to steat these hateful plans? Is that I have teen too happy in the past?" she asked, with a hard, pitiful laugh. "Oh, dad, let us leave all that horrid life behind. Let us live honestly and to such a way that we shall have nothing to conceal! Why should we degrade ourselves to serve the ends of those dreadful War Ministers?" "You're talking nonsense," was the rough reply. "To serve the Fatherland must ever be our first consideration. "But I leve England better than Ger-"Ah, your mother would never help would be unsafe, You Garde made his my schemes. She was English, escape to the Continent will have been very fittle with the continent with the boundaries of the boundar you must;

you have such an opportunity for the Fatherland than an army or a mavy, but are foolish enough to refuse recause you love an English captain. Say no more; you must help me to get the plans." The girl slided her head resolutely.

"What! You won't?" thundered You Garde, grasping her wrist viciously. "How could I lace him, knowing Malinstolen his life's work and placed nething. it in the hands of his country's enemies? How could I ever face him · again?"

"I don't wish you to steal; I only want "The guilt is the same."

"Suppose I tell him the story of your think you'll be able to face him theh?" sneered Von Garde. The cowardly blow reached the girl's back on the past and face the future theart. Her cheeks and lips went white; full of high resolutions. She knew that but she held her ground. "At least, that would have to be told Durham, and when she found him abwhenever-if ever he spoke to me of sent one morning and his bed unslept be hard-very hard; but it will have to reached a crisis. think he'd still care for 'And, you "Wouldn't he?"

she anxiously asked. Von Garde Linghed harshly, sarcasti-

"You have been introduced to him and this family under false pretences. "They'll despise you, did they Fut know the truth At present your keye affair is going on very well, Help est blue eyes above her. "Do you nie get these vour longue, then Durham need never know you as other than pretty Vera Von "Dick, please tell me what has Garde. If you refuse, then I tell all pened?" and you lose all. No self-respecting "Well," Durham hesitatingly r. Englishman would think of making the cd, "I suppose that will be the real Vera his wife; there's no surer course. veiling your past" rmined not to go, back to the old them. I hope I am wrong—perhaps I am tired and ashamed of it. you can tell me." How utterly degrading it was I never

"My only happiness lies in serving my country," replied Von Garde,
"Punish me if you will," said the girl, her voice unsteadied by a disp "I'll never move a finger to betray the plans of the man I love!"

Conrad von Garde was furious at his fullure to browbedt his daughter into Honor.' You'll let us call for you, ch?" compliance with his wishes; he realized however, that something more po tent than fear had come into her life and destroyed his power over her. Other methods would now have to be again!" she exclaimed, painfully agitatincreasing years. employed, for the stern necessity of ed. "I'm not what you think me but

With little loss of time he evolved new scheme, then paid a visit to the Fast-end to enlist an accomplice for its execution. His calling had made him in his. familiar with the evil elements in most of the European capitals, so that detail was soon dealt with. In less than a veek after his quarrel with Vera, he and his recruit accomplished their ob-

Between twelve and one on the first favorable night they cropt stealthly gan; "but I want you to know the into the front garden of Durham's place truth. I'm going away somewhere— makes us healthy and happy in Bayswater. Von Garde's companion anywhere—back to Germany, I fear it heard some of our friends sing

++++++++++++++++++ promptly set to work on the window with suspicious dexterity. n a few seconds he slid it noiselessly up, closing it again when they had both swung into the room.

"Stop that you young fool!" commanded the German, as the burglar flushed an place. "You're not on an expedition father, who has no consideration for cf your own, you're working for me. Come on. The room we want is on in the service of Germany. Even me the first floor, at the end of the paselectric torch round the was unlocked so provided no bar to A wave of color swept over the girl's their progress Entering the room be- of his an inventor named Blunthell,

"A play game," murmured the other. vestion which will double the efficiency Producing bits and brace he set to said that Blunthell had invented a new after you have tasted of their guns and give the projectiles with a will, working vigorously for kind of armor-plate; and had promised to take all the rest." an appalling power. The secret will what seemed an hour to his compan- to reveal the secret to the Wir Office revolutionize naval and military war ich, but what in reality could not have on the day-I became his wife. I probeen anything like that time Then smoothly, and the safe was open. "Keep your eye on the door commanded the Ggrinan.

The burgla did as requested. stand experiments at the laboratory of the Turning again to the sair, ver depths Woolwich Arsenell, have discovered, threw the light into its secret depths by a little judicious bribery, that he and saw a prip of official-toolling entropy in Rayswater, velopes tied with pink tape. He drew ing before it revolver in hand. New, perhaps, you see? His mother Lout and under it, running his eyes New, perhaps, you see? His mother Lout and unoid it, running his eyes has invited you there and I want you quickly over the various superscriptions. His heart sank as he neared the bottom of the bile, but at last he came enough to inform him that were drawings of pants-mainly blocks-of big guns. He could hardly suppress a cry of exultation as he restored them to their covering and put them into his concket.

Continuing this search. dreamed of favored him. He discovered another envelope, marked + "Rough tile for Shattening Armor-Platel also he appropriated, then once resumed his investigations. The romaining documents, appeared to be chiefly of a personal nafure, so he throw them back safe, closed the door, and inlin his confederate his readiness to adpart. In descending the stairs Von Garde missed one of the steps, and slipped down several before he could regain his locting. "Fool!" hissed the burglar.

"Hallon! Hallog! Who's there? cried man's voice. The next moment there wasush of naked feet. The Gennin is companion raced across the hall. and had barely gained the sheller of the room through which they hall brokon in when the sound of revolver shots startled them.

Quick though they were in their escape, an upstairs window was thrown open as they reached the street, and the man they had heard before shouled: "Police! Police!" All right, Von Garde, ou scoundrell I know you."

Fortunately for the thieves the police vere not at hand, so their flight was unhindered. of Holland. As the train now. I cre him rapidly lowards Berlin, he You, a little helpless girl, can do more admitted to himself that it would be years before he dare set foot in Eng-hand again. Yet this troubled his but little, for the next instant he was thinking of the pride he would experience in his Chief's, congratulations when he hunded him the plans which wo such enormous importance. Again he had served the Fatherland, and beyond that nothing mattered +

Vera von Garde knew little of real happiness till the love of Caplain Dur-ham wove its golden threads into her drab days; its corning lent life ded beauty. It enabled her to turn her her father was sill scheming leve," she brokehly retorted. "It will in she knew that the struggle had

> The circums anch greatly grieved her but before she could decide course of action Durham himself pearéd: "Is your father in?" he asked after the usual greeting. "No," she replied.

"Do you know where he is?" "I don't," she answered, looking any where rather than into the keen to see him about anything-particular?" Then, throwing off all disguise, she said, hap-

"Well," Durham hesitalingly remark, live lost some plans they way of driving him from you than un were stolen last night. You must exguse me for saying so, Vera, but I su-"I shall never become his wife till be spect your tather of bring in collision knows it. But, apart from that. I'm with the thieves, if not actually one of so hungry rather than do without a A metal when extracted from its ore realized fill I fell in love with Captain too well founded," the girl relucantly Durham. Dad, dad," she burst out, piteously, "think of me a little—I want to be happy. And we might be happy asked again.

"You want him arrested?" she interes." "I'm afraid your suspicions are only that unthinkingly! As a fact, I care where he is. It was unkind of me come to. Now let us talk of pleasanter crowd. things. I'm taking my sisters to the Si. James's 'o night to see 'John Glayde's "I think not." she answered, slowly.

"You have come before." "Oh, we must never see each other obtaining Durham's plans still remain- a wretched, miserable girl with shameful past." "And you wouldn't care to comfide in me, Vera?" he asked, stepping quickly in front of her and catching her hands The girl was touched into submis sion by the kindness of his words and actions. She knew few men beside her father, and she had never thought them capable of the deep lenderness which Durham was treating her. "It's all very borrible, Dick," she be really am.

"My mother died when I was a baby. have had no brothers or sisters or other friends to brighten my existence. My whole life has been spent with my troubled myself about his calling, but face, but she made no reply.

This is an accedingly fortunate circumstance," continued her father. "It want you to do much easier of achievement. After several years of hard works this Captain Dur.

The progress, Entering the room beginning the white a man as old as himself. I felt quite indifferent towards our host till ne made leve to me, then I disliked him. His whole manner chilled me, and the wall works this Captain Dur.

They crossed over to it, for a short His whole manner chilled me, and the white cared about were his inventions and locar-hunting and l inventions and boar-hunting. "When I spoke to my father of the distast ful attentions being paid me, ne lested that that could never be; for I he tried the for. The lock shot back did not and could not love him. My unless could obtain the secret by some other means. "Feeling that death was a preferable with some wild idea of killing myself, but I beked the requisite ourage Everyhing was so beautiful, and I was young and wanted to live. bottom of the bile, but at last be came sible. My fother, who did not dire how better start with them au naturel. Just upon a bulky covering bearing the words: "Plans of New Improved Quick-keys, and ope day, when he and our me what it tastes like." With some-Firing Gun. Approved by the Govern- Lest were out hunting, I succeeded in thing of the emotion of an explorer enmy wicked project. Though I was thus fering upon a new country I The envelope was unscaled and he relieved of the obligation of narrying luscious poonful to my mouth, closed, drew out its contents. Unversed as he Biunthel I was almost as mise able as my eyes, and tasted repturously. was in such matters, one glance was before, for I knew he thought such of les would have upon him. 'Strangely enough, however, he met was brought home dying, but te lived to punish me for my crime in a man-better for us to part. "But I knew all this before said Durham. led eyes.

love with you at our first meeting, and wint be readily able to procure when I heard your story I pitied you, too. I made up my mind that you . THIS CHARMING FRUIT. would some day tell me of your past— and that in a year or two longer the knowing that when you did so you coster will be selling it from his barwould love me as I wanted to be loved, rew. and that then I would ask you to be-

"Oh. Dick, fare you quife suit you posths to part here?" lenely path? "It lies in your keeping, dear," she confessed, almost inaudibly. -"And mine in yours," he replied. She raised her head at his words, and saw in her learful eyes a wordering sive-up to fal. a dozen love-light. Taen he bent down and supply probably comes pressed on the soft red line the first passion-kiss they had ever known "Will the theft of your plans mean a very great loss to you?" Vena concernedly asked, after a while. "No. They're no good to anybody, bearing but the thief will have a disagreeable surprise when he puts them in the hands of an expert."

"I'm glad for your sake," she answered. "And perhaps it will be a lesswered. "Let us hope so," he sincerely concluded .- London Tit Bits.

THE SNOB. He is One of the Most Despicable of Beings. Every day we come across some specishow him up here, for if we do not arm ourselves against his airs with a foreastplate of humor and a buckler of crated, leaving the pure metal behind, sumed superiority.

The snob, as Thackeray defined him, is a man who meanly admires mean things otherwise one who thinks nowhat he would term "the thing."

particulars of any remote connection ing terms of the tales his relative heard came. It is to be noted that im most in the mess and will try to make you cases it even reassumes the form in quired, apprehensively in the mess and will try to make you cases it even reassumes the form "No, no!" he cried. "I asked you think the latter was the colone of a which it was first found as an ore. don't cavalry regiment at least.

The remotest association with Boyally lo speak of the matter at all to you. delights the snob. Even to have wil- exidization. The principal sources of Believe me. I'm very sorry for you, and nessed the King in some State proces- expper are oxides and sulphides, and if you find yourself friendless and sion brings grist to his mill, for he will this metal disappears chiefly by oxidaaroue in London don't forget that you vil you how his Majesty bowed to him the or sulphuration. Silver, which we have always me and my mother to in particular, and not to the general and in the form of simple or complex

He will not even express an opinion upon any question until he has ascerained what is the fashionable view to take. He will give alms to a beggar "But why?" he asked, surprisedly, only if he thinks he will be observed. Leave him alone poor The snob. wreich! He may gain wisdom with SEVEN AGES OF MAN. 1. Rock age: The infant. Copper age: The kid. 3. Brass age: The adolescent period 4. Iron age: Sad and flat for the wife. 5. Steel, or Steal, age: The trust director.

7. Golden age: Death always precedes The expert who said that singing makes us healthy and happy hasn's

6. Silver age: Small change.

PASSION FRUIT APPEALS TO ALL HELPLESS VICTIMS OF ENGLISH VISITORS.

Voyage - Very Cheap in Australia.

"Plums?" I asked as the steward handed me a dish heaped up with dark purple globes. "No, sir, passion fruit, sir," replied the stewart. I glanced in quiringly at my vis-a-vis, an Australian tims' Benevolent Association," of which she said. "Then this is one of the great days of your life." "How many caused in the poorer districts of Lonpassion fruit must. I take to make it really great?" I asked. "Well, say half a dozen, and then the steward had better put the plate out of your reach, for

So I helped myself to half a dozen, Mr. Williams has written to us:writes a Sydney correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, and found that the dark purple skin which had father aughed fand said that he should suggested plums at first sight was in high some of them to get out of their reality a hard rind. Then, imitating ciptches. my fair instructress, I cut the top off with a knife as if one were performing alternative, I went out into the woods had in hand a natural cup filled with

A GREENISH YELLOW PULP in which were a number of flattish cir-"In the end I resolved to steal the "Well, there are lots of ways of cating rapers telating to the discovery, if post pussion fruit," she said, "but you had This introduction to passion fruit took his invention, and dreaded the effect its place on a liner on the Australian coast. The question I immediately put to myself was, 'Why have we not this with an accident during the hint and delicious fruit in England?" I made inquiries and I was informed that it

ner I little expected. He sent for me was further told an anecdote to the ifjust before he died and, giving me a feet that Queen Victoria had a great key, said: That is for you, little Frau desire to teste all the truits of her em-Plan of Improved High-Power Ploject lein. It will open the safe containing pire, and that her wish had been gratil This the great secret of the armor-plate. I fed in regard to all but the passion more give it to you. "My father placed all the defails of sible to convey home in good condition." the invention in the hands of his chiefs I am not at all prepared to vouch for and we came to England. I determined the correctness of this assertion; on the tren never again to take any part in contrary, I am much inclined to questis sehences, and I have not. Think lion it. And in any case, it seems that's all. Now you know are for what likely that the street boy of to-day may likely that the street boy of to-day may I am, Dick, you'll see that it will be re able to enjoy a luxury that, according to the story, was denied to his sovcreign, for in the Ordiava has been sent to England a consignment of pas-The girl looked up at him with start- sion, fruit, with a view to testing the possibilities of trade. And if the veninglish ture proves satisfactory I will take up alle in twelve monthly instalments of sceret scruice agent, who knows you on myself to prophesy that in the course 30s and your father quite woll. I felt in a year or two the London public roople in this ransaction is that, while

In Australia passion fruit is very come my vife. You must know dear, cheep. I have myself bought them at signal moneylender. The usual rate of that I love you very much. Will you twive a penny, though these were ra-interest is one penny pen shilling per ther poor in qualify. Nevertheless six penny is a common price, and at four wint me? she asked, with quivering penny one can buy first class passion has. "Wouldn't it be better for our fruit in most of the towns of Austraha Now this is a trade which has Trial's for you to decide, sweetheart, been very little worked up. If there said Duriam, drawing the girl it to his were a large export demand it can hardthat passion fruit could > be grown exceedingly cheaply. Queensland or Fiji.

or England. On a sultry day nothing jets parents to keep a sharper eye on could be more refreshing than some their children.

passion fruit. It has usually a slightly it should not like to say that the acid taste, so that most people prefer truant is as extinct as the dodo," said said Durham, with a smile. "I was ad- to eat it with powdered sugar. Epi- an officer of the divisional office, but vised by the man who fold me your cures say that it is best with a little there has been of recent years a great projectiles; but they were in envelopes way of consuming it. Half a dozen playgrounds. Nething was more condish for a gourmet.

> METALS RETURN TO THEIR ORES. Industrial Implements of To-day May Furnish Raw Material for To-morrow. An interesting study of metals has teen published by a German physicist. J. Ditter, and therein the writer proprunts a very difficult and isteresting query as to what becomes of the metals As is well known, the majority of pure ractals are in a very unstable condition. men of the genus snob; and it is well By the expenditure of energy other chemical elements which were originally amalgamated with the ones were libcontempt, we plain, common-sense folk but these released chemical agencies may at times, feel humbled by his as are constantly awaiting the opportunily to re-enter the combination. The question then arises, what becomes of the rest? Professor Ditter asserts that the oxthing worth while unless it is reckoned ides are finally transformed again into cres and ultimately collect in the earth The snob would let his old mother to be dug up again at some future time. fushionable suit of clothes, and he is is always subjected to the action of fond of dragging into his conversation a large number of alternative forces under which influence its weight dimhe or his family may have had with inishes little by little, until the metal some celebrated person. His unce may disappears altogether. Its life may be have been a private in some line regi- short, or it may be extremely long, but ment, but the snob will speak in glow- it returns at last to the earth whence it fron or tin, which we extract, generally from other oxides, are destroyed on sulphides, is changed back into sulphide with great ease, and lead, whose principal alteration products are the sulwhide and the carbonate, is found chiefly in the form of galena and ceruse. Gold and platinum, which are rarely found other than pure, and which are only slightly alterable under the most diverse influences disappear by triction and mechanical action. Thus the masses of metals prepared industrially disappear little by little and their remains are scattered as dust that mingles with the other elements of the soil. Then they meet with other saline substances and with water, which dissolve and mineralize them, causing Australia 73,700,000 them to enter into the cycle of operaions that is going in the interior of the globe. The water circulates in the Tripoli 4,400,000 cavities of the earth's crust, and ap- Mexico 16,500,000 struction of minerals, which in the course of centuries will form new metal- and Brazil have not yet arrived. The liferous deposits to be exploited by the crop is 288,270,000 bushels less than industries of a distant future. industries of a distant future.

How It is Eaten — Will Not Stand Sea I raque Find Out How Poor People are Done Out of Hard Earned

MONEY-LENDERS.

Some time ago the Rev. Herbert Willims of St. John's Clergy House, Tooley street, S.E., was instrumental in founding "The London, Moneylenders' Vic-"Don't you know passion fruit?" he is hon; sec. This was the outcome don by extorionate moneylenders. Some accounts of the efforts he is making on behalf of these helpless victims has already appeared in "Lloyd's," after you have tasted one you will want and how necessary such efforts are is slown by the following letter which Your notice of our work for the poor victims of Shylocks has brought me > to be done:meneylenders should write and lay their cases before their own Member cl arliament. 2. That all advertisements of monylenders should be sent to us. '3. That all who can should contriute any small sum to our association. so that we may help the helpless, and ring pressure to bear upon the Govrhinent to amend the Act. Living as Mr. Williams does, in a cry poor neighborhood, he is acquainted with many shameful cases of injusice-casts in which people who prowed money and repaid more than he original amount were still saddled with a debt almost equal to it. He can ile almost numberless cases. SWINDLED A WIDOW. A poor widow, living in the East-end prowed £30 on a bill of sale. Resyments to the amount of £32 6s. 3d. have been madel and proceedings are new threaten d to recover the balance," mounting to £20 los. 6d. A man from Ess x was compelled to borrow £46 on his furniture. After paying £53 in Instalments he offered £7 in settle-was refused and his ment, but this dime was sold up. Many Dorrowers are so ignorant ofsiness tratters that they are aston- wants the road back, the sight of home, shed when told that they have signed an agreement to pay 82% per cent. This is a common figure, as it is the custom of many usurers to lend £12 on a promissory note being given for £18, payrepayments diminish the amount of the loan, interest is paid on the whole and more, than the whole arhount. amount, tel the end of the transaction. njusual for a personato barrow a shilling, or even sixuence, from a profesweek or over 400 per cent. per annum.

DECLINE IN TRUANCY.

Due to the Attractiveness of School Life It is Said. Truancy as a schoolboy delight is declining, says a London paper. The reappears to be obtainable all the year ports of the school attendance officer around, though in the winter months show that it some districts it is althey are less plentful and more expen-inest extinct. An enquirer has been n-The winter formed that this state of affairs is due from North to the attractiveness of public elemen-In summer, of lary school life. The 15s, increase in course, the fruit would be most welcome the fine for non-attendance also com-

I should not like to say that the wants to swim does not play truant in cerning order to have a dip in the Surrey Ca-Southwark Park are a great factor in welding the bonds of school life." in the gutter in the Old Kent-road. a far cry to Southwark Park for supplementary in character to what has these little fellows, and they all confessed that they would sooner be back playing about in the streets-a view which doubtless coincided with that . 1 their parents: WORLD'S WHEAT CROP

Estimate Malles It | 288;270,000

Less Than Last Year. The official estimates from Budape of the world's production of wheat 1907 gives the grand total at between 3,100,130,000 jund 3,205,550,000 bushels By countries the amounts in bushels Great Britain France Austria Ilaly 181,500,000 Switzerland ... Belgium 13,380,000 Denmark 4,400,000
 Sweden
 5.870,000

 Nerway
 250,000

 Spain
 110,80,000

 Portugal
 8.800,00
 Sweden Greece 8.070,00. Egypt 14,070,00. Hungary (including Croatia and Slavonia) 130,000,000 Bosnia and Herzegovina ... 2.270,00 Russia and European Asia .. 555,500,000 Rumania 53,170,000 Bulgaria and East Rumelia. 31,170,000 East India 811,960,000 United States Canada 93,500,000 Algers 33,800,000

Japan ... 23,830,000 Reports from South Africa, Paraguay niust be. When I'm gone you may hear stories about my past, and I don't want you to think worse of me than I ANAUSTRALIAN DELICACY SET OF MODERN SHYLOCKS WHAT IS THE GOSPET?

It Calls Men to Enter the Heaven That Awaits Then Now.

"Go ye into all the world and preach the the gospel to every creature."—Nark shift

What is this good news to be declar-less assamed, and indeed to all men What message has remarks he needs so cd to all men. What message has replied he head, so ed to receive with rejoicing? Certifuly help the world seems to be taking the glad might have been. 1). tidings in a culm manner. So far from intellectus of Nazional with the eagerness such a lan receiving i message night be expected to arouse, regulation of man to il seems to he necessary to urge them Gold to man.

to hear it with patience. There must be a good reason for this. Ic You cannot blame the willfulness of hunanity. If the gospel really is good the half is, and that is news they will receive it with joy. Perhaps the reason is that the declaration tires Will you allow me to say has emitted some part of the message and other than a chil that we are anxious for three things which is essential to its attractiveness. It is worth while to ask why to-day the 1. That all who, have suffered from multitude does not manifest the hunger Folial faithless de for the Christian message which they right showed when it was declared by its first | nich

Great Teacher. In some instances the reason is seen in the fact that the gospel of joy has count been declared in an accent of mourning. You cannot persuade people that that philosophy with you have glad tidings when you proclein then with groaning. In other million of evil and case the people have been deceived by ar pyl have promised them the pure unadulterated, and

ONLY EFFICACIOUS COSPEL .: and have delivered to them either childish superstitions or barren philosophies. When a man is prishing for bread te is not likely to receive with any It. special joy the gift of a dookbook. The pulpi has been attempting to feed a hungry world with speculations about the Bread of Life. Processes and the orics of salvation have been preached instead of declaring the simple fact it-when a man is lost he will not thank you for halting his search for the right read, while you explain to him how, on condition of the exercise of his credulity he may be legally, though not the yet actually, found again. He cares lit- rede for his legal standing just then; he nes den Text: Psa. 116. 15.

THE S. S. LESSON

INTERNATIONAL LESSON, SEPT. 22.

on the text of the Revised Ver Contouts of Deutershomy in Outling .-Out lesson passage for last Sunday was part of an inisoductory exhortation covering chapters 5-11 inclusive. This hoptatory introduction is followed in charawhich constitute the main body of the Boughly speaking, these laws wok. may be classified as relating (1) to religinous (12-16); (2) to divit (17-20, and 3) to social (21-25) life. The civil and social laws are of course, based upon the religious. In the first of these sections will be found laws providing for the centralization of worship at one sanctuary and, the abolishment of local. places of worship, the ritualistic distinctions between clean and unclean animals, the communiquents relating to tithes and those providing for generous history to leave my drawings at the arport wine put in the fruit before it is falling off in the number of boys and freutment of the poor and slaves, and serial, and I did so What has been taken with the spoon out of its natural girls who prefer the noisy streets to also the regulations louching the annual stolen were plans of discarded guis and cup This is cerainly a most seductive the safer attractions of the schools and pilgrimages in celebration of the Passover, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast high-sounding inscriptions, passion fruit emptied on a plate and ducive to traincy than the old-fashion of Booths or Tabernacles. Under the They would easily deceive a povice, mixed with sugar and cream make a od doctrine of keeping the child's nose second division are the provisions for to the grindsique all day long. The the administration of justice at one sunew policy of giving free meals and preme central tribunal. The duties of infroducing sports and pastimes into the king are defined, as well as those school hours has worked wonders among of the Levites and members of the prothe children. For instance, a boy who phelic order. Certain specific laws conhomicide, murder, and false witness, and special regulations governnal. He is taken to the public baths ing the usages of war, are included. The and enjoys this swim along with his third section deals with various phases schoolmates. Then the annual sports of domestic and social life. The address of Moses ends with a very impressive peroration, in which Jehovah's blessings As a proof of the attractiveness of any again promised in the event of obethe schools our representative question- dience, while the disaster to follow as ed a group of boys who were playing the penalty of disobedience is elaborated already preceded. In chapter 31 the narin school and in the play ground than of Moses to the people and to his sucdeath of Moses. Verses 1, 2. And Moses went up-In ampliance with the explirit command of my of Jehoval, "Get lince into this mountain St Albarim, unto Mount Note, which is bly a. the land of Moan? (Deut. 32, 49). The planis, or steppes, of Monb-The term used signifies the open plain lying phrasid refers back to the phrasid ac between the mountains of Moab and the unto the pointing out he part Jordan. It is the eastern counterpart of the plain of Jericho which lies opposite on the other side of the river, both being juts north of the northern end of Diving pagment. Argentina 159,500,000 the Dead Sea, and together forming the lower, broadest portion of the Jordan Unto Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah-Probably two designations for the gan—Prohably, two designations for the dow, "harlies" Charlies and spot, of which the one may be ed." "Highbor—"Helped How helped?" taken as fixing the place a little more Char was a ball that broke itprecisely than the other. The name hat there the ball." "Nebo" is preserved in the modern "Nebo," the present name of a mountain this will sati 's not him much to p ne re than Invitation; it was child of the Nice 1 5. ; at Class wan The or Wifelnes distance ever

HIS HEAVENLY and losing the ba: but still he at I the of the Father beglad tidings delire of all 1 di the amere: love and ...

be part of the extend to all tilie genel, the spel cu free and syverne ! Le '

that are the per

THE LESSON WORD STUDIES.

os forth, ke Elisha's spray Moslem trady references with Sha. Conv. du la fire some to the Arabs Z Sarara, Saluated by many that case, lade to regard !!! the Jereign entil ad Sea basin 4 think thererall "Shippese " Zour. Was end of and t times. and which I Apare the ster 178 Shall and co for this profi Smil 12. where J. 's H Ament, Sales cessor Joshua are recorded, the latter receiving his divine commission. This, chapter also contains the preface to the exquisite boem known as the "Song of which continues through the greater part of chapter 32, and which ce lebral es in strong and beautif. langaage the kindness and faithfuln s of Ichovali to his ungrateful and apostate prople. The closing verses of chapter 12 record Jehovah's command to Moses ascend Mourt Nebo, from whence he lepart ou of this life to be gathered unto the fathers of his people as Auron had been shortly before. Another noem, known as "The Blessing of Moses," is contained in chapter 33, the contents of which is in many respects parallel to that of Gen. 19, the various ribes being separately characterized in language which veries from simple description to exalted benediction, the poem concluding with an enthusiastic outburst of joy over Israel's incomparuble God. The last chapter of the book, which consittutes, the text for our present lesson, gives an account of the "Neba," the present name of a mountain nine and one-half miles due west of the nerth-eastern end of the Dead Sea. This mountain may well be the ancient the street line if I thought it over myself at the street line is "in the, to s fol bring this dall have given

Som the part

derred to be k

Zin, where M

the commande

and to branging

Ship, Nam. 20.

gainst Beth-pe

highly of which I-his patural to

had his freshme

ry days As a.

Moses had land.

he special consecut

the is recorded u

pt arisen a prope

is sentence helps ook, at least in its st have been in

of Moses, probab

st results of sele

during the sev

These verses wt

finence of Mose

what precedes, at been added by

Some later time

Witho signs and the wonder in which no later prophet in Israe had

In sight of In the presence of

"Bull his is so sudden.

Ne hoor "Did you break this win-equal of the great leader of the extras-the great terror-Haccute to of alles seem somewh

amped. 🐉

(1). 29).

buried has

Aura

vaiil

dintal

tanes

which

All

findende je Se . i Luce lees to plan and . It is Yaqaidng dhee Mada dheis s er and nete of the city

I ande collet. Heng Kong gards it as a st the "All Red is A destup construction of a verie tamele. Taylor's tree. week. The kepleyers in Valley for Separation moners sires ber situation

> CHIEF MOREYES Germany's

Carrie M 1. 1. Pegent. to the way AT View L At W . H . . 11 . Carecaga, is that March Marie to lection William

A destate H. 15 bridge comin down to the too the causes of the accident with a new fehlure- 12 tion that his structure was nesse, one c there was a H lever arms . there was no la first time any the witnesses sa will go to

General Transatl

· A despatch from is now every assi information received France that the gold e amship company rect time of firsts tween France and next seasen. It e pany has under eto Queleg and cl its largest and da as the Province, the Leraine. The mangurata is

ROPBERS STOPPED THE despatch fr

Rical Northern mermup, was be Thursday morning ever the tender. ti eur gums, es inci then the fram. continual fue ante territy the passent, suchs of a lary mad. Then her tor, which carrie teggale and exp regular through connect and midnig the sale tran and all

MICHENT

d sampatre t.

Caradan Pas 1 of tide the B. Sg.n. and B pepared 1 reamers 5

*RAHAMAA MORK

Government Road Cass for Vialit Temaskaming & N was has been d. a stret the Walt and als Jour Makes a

ti. Willy A desper

ial cig 👝 👝 i

Evidence 17

victims still contin mission will also > examine Throdon engineer.