

OIL FOR DOMESTIC WHEELS

Little Hints Which Will Help Save Wear and Tear in Households of the Land.

Potatoes may be warmed up in sour cream better than sweet cream.

Clean wringer rollers with kerosene and keep the wringer well oiled.

Clean mica in heating stoves by washing with hot vinegar and salt.

Add a little cream to icing for cake to prevent its cracking when cut.

To clean glass bottles or vases, put vinegar in soap suds and wash thoroughly.

Chloride of lime sprinkled around places that rats frequent, will drive them away.

Turpentine restores the color of yellowed knife-handles when rubbed with pure, wholesome milk for the consumer.

Hot water and soda will usually remove stains from wood, such as the door, table, etc.

In lining a jacket; put plait in middle of the back so allow for strain across the back.

Gilt frames can be cleaned with a small sponge dipped very lightly in oil of turpentine.

A good filling for sofa cushions is made from strips of old clothes, torn as for rag carpets.

When seeding raisins, pour boiling water over them and let them stand a few minutes.

Heat the milk to be used in custards, pies or puddings, and they may be baked much quicker.

To wash woodwork, wring a cloth out of soft warm water, dip it in soda, and rub on the wood-work.

A button hook hung to the door with about three yards of tape can be used in any part of the room.

When washing white stockings either of silk or thread, add a few drops of oxalic acid to the water.

To save enamel, have a wire frame on board to set in sink for pails, while heavy work is being done.

Put a clean napkin under the cover when boiling potatoes, and you will find them much nicer when done.

Time and trouble may often be saved if the writing desk is kept supplied with good pens, paper and ink.

A simple method of cleaning lamp chimneys—hold in the steam of a kettle and polish with a news-paper.

When washing glassware do not put it in hot water bottom first, as it will be liable to crack from sudden expansion.

To give a fine flavor and good color to a meat roast add to the water for the basting one tablespoonful of sugar.

Broiled meats should be eaten immediately after being cooked, in order that the best results may be obtained.

An old refrigerator which has a lining of tin may be made to look cleaner by applying coats of white enamel.

To renew the stiffness of a veil, wrap it around a pasteboard roll stretched at full width, steam and dry it on the roll.

Patch the torn places of old carpets, then spread on the floor or grass and give two good coats of paint, a dark green or maroon.

To remove the cover from a jar of fruit, place a hot flat iron on top of jar-cover and in five minutes cover may be removed.

To clean black goods sponge with one pint warm water and one tea-spoonful of ammonia. Press with hot iron on the wrong side.

To sugar doughnuts evenly and thoroughly without waste, shake four or five together in a paper bag containing a cup full of sugar.

Put a few grains of rice in the salt cellar to keep the salt from caking, as the cellar is shaken the rice will keep the salt moving.

Instead of using a knife to rip machine stitching, insert the sharp point of your scissors under every third stitch far enough to cut it.

For a medicine closet take a discarded weight clock. Take out works, put in shelves, and hang in bathroom wall or near the head of your bed.

To prevent fingers on gas stove, cover two pieces of leather from the top of old shoes, with strong cotton, with pockets in which to slip the hand.

To have always a good light, coal oil lamp burners should be boiled in a basin with enough water to cover them with a handful of washing soda added.

A good way to mend an invisible hair net is to take one's own natural hair, catch the torn loops of the net, and tie them securely together wherever torn.

NEW REGULATIONS
FOR DAIRYMEN.

Stringent Rules in Regard to Dairy Produce.

Dr. Sheard and Dr. Hodgetts, chairman and secretary respectively of the Provincial Board of Health, have prepared a code of rules that will cause consternation in more than one dairy and dairy farm throughout the Province when they are put into effect, as they will be, most likely, when submitted to the Provincial board.

The regulation will affect all dairies, big and small, in Ontario, where milk is drawn from cows for private or public consumption. Considerable time and study have been given by the two doctors to make the code of regulations strict enough to prevent the spread of disease, and result in the supply of pure, wholesome milk for the consumer.

These are some of the rules regarding the cows' quarters and milk utensils:

The building where cows are kept shall be 100 feet apart from residences or chicken coops.

All manure shall be removed at least 50 feet from the stables.

The cow stables shall be properly ventilated, so there can be no odor from the same.

No strong smelling substance of any kind shall be kept in or near the stable.

No milk vessel shall be used that is rusty or otherwise unfit.

No person shall drink from the utensils in which the milk is delivered to consumers.

All such utensils shall be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized every time after using.

No vessel used for the delivery of milk shall be used for any other purpose.

All empty bottles shall be thoroughly cleaned, and care shall be taken to keep milk tickets free from dirt.

No milk shall be taken from cows that are in any way diseased with tuberculosis or other complaints.

No milk shall be taken from cows within 40 days before and five days after calving.

No moldy or wet foods or brewers' stuff or anything else that will affect the taste of milk shall be fed to the cows.

All dairy farms and dairies, with the cattle and appurtenances, shall be thoroughly inspected by the inspector at least twice a year.

The milker's hands must be thoroly clean and dry when milking, and shall not come in contact with the milk.

The udders of the cows should be brushed and wiped with a cloth before being milked.

No person recently affected with any contagious disease shall be permitted to milk the cows.

MEAIRD

Meaford clergymen have united in a request against Sunday funerals.

Mr. F. Kent, of the Seaman-Kent Co., has been very ill the past week.

Fire destroyed the barn of Noble Arthur on the old Allan Bond farm on Friday, Nov. 8.

Meaford is to have a new town bell, and steps may also be taken to erect a town hall upon which to erect it.

Mrs. Thomas Chapman, a resident of the town for nearly half a century, died the 3rd November, aged 80 years.

Meaford's people need a new town hall capable of seating 1000 persons.

Owing to a recent fire the site of the former town hall is vacant.

The funeral of the late Arthur L. Alcock was one of the largest ever held in this section. The service was in charge of the Oddfellows and Ancient Order of Foresters.

A detective was in town a few days last week in connection with the Neely robbery case, but no clue has yet been found. Mr. Neely's memory is still a blank regarding the day leading up to the robbery.

The Public Property committee is considering the advisability of installing incandescent light in the lock-up, so that offenders in confinement may not have to spend the long solitary hours in the dark.

Some parties in Meaford have been writing anonymous letters to the Post Office Department at Ottawa, complaining of the management of the office here in general. As Dr. Hammill, our postmaster, is an obliging and painstaking official whom all respect, general regret is felt that he is the object of these slanderous statements.
