The ladies had charge of the meeting of the Methodist League last Monday evening and furnished an excellent program. Miss Nellie Armstrong presided. The proceedings opened with a guessing contest. A large number of portraits of famous women was on exhibition and the contest was held to find out who could attach the correct name to the largest number of portraits. Miss Etta Milson was the successful contestant.
Short sketches of the lives of such women as Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Frances Ridley Elavergal, Frances Willard, Clara Barton, Florence Nightingale, Harriet Beecher Stowe and Laura Secord, were then presented. Choice music enlivened the proceedings. The whole affair was a splendid success.DON'T!

NO TRAIN FOR FOUR DAYS.

Not since the long-to-be-remembered winter of 1904 has the railway situation on this line of the C. P. R. been so paralyzed as last week. No train for four days!
Sounds like a tale from the snowbound regions of Alaska. Tuesday evening's train was the last train which passed through Mark-dale station going north until Sunday at 4 o'clock p.m., when the snow plough came in, pushed by three engines, which from Dundalk to Owen Sound scarcely had a stop. The railway's difficulties seemed to be greatest in the vicinity of Laurel.Immediately following the snow plough on Sunday came the passenger train, and since that time trains have been running regularly.
But to return to the storm. The weather from Wednesday of last week until Sunday was severe—for the cold came the violent snow storms. Either weather was enough to endure, but the combination was a hard one to suffer.
In town, the streets were kept partially cleared by the snow plow but most of the township roads were blocked, and we did not see the happy faces of our rural friends for a period that cultivated sights of regret.The mail service was also entirely out of business during that time. On Thursday an attempt was made at Owen Sound to get a mail through, so a sleigh was loaded and started off down the C. P. R. for the other side of the blockade. The load left at 3 p.m.
By the time it had reached Hamilton, it had reached Owen Sound again. The driver had to get help from a nearby farm-house to dig the sleigh out. Discretion, he decided, was the better part of valor, so he went back to Owen Sound.
By the time it had reached Hamilton again, the driver had to dig the sleigh out for Holland Centre, where, owing to difficulties encountered en route, the driver absolutely refused to go farther.
They here managed to hire another horse and struck out for Holland Centre, but had to make a circitous route via Williamsford in order to reach that place. At Holland Centre they put up for the night, and hiring a horse there Saturday morning, left for Mark-dale, arriving here about noon.The weather on Monday and Tuesday has been calm and spring-like, and as the sun is gaining in strength, as the days go round, marking the approach of Spring we will soon be relieved from the severe rigours of the winter thru which we are passing.

A fellow's first impression after stepping out into the open air, was that he had, in a moment of forgetfulness, put on kilts instead of his ordinary attire. There was a thick, white fog which seemed to penetrate to the marrow of one's bones, and altogether the circumstances were such as to make a fellow wish he were able to drop everyday cares and "beat it" for Bermuda or some other place where fogs are more useful than furs.

A Pretty Wedding.

At 4 o'clock on Thursday, the 6th inst., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stontenburg, Kolapore, a pretty wedding took place, when Miss Sadie E. Abbott, of Kimberley, late of N. Dakota and their son, Mr. Edward Arthur Stontenburg, of Kolapore, were united in marriage by Rev. A. Mc-Neil, of Ravenna, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The bride looked charming in her dress of white silk as she entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Stella Stontenburg, sister of the groom. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Mr. Wesley Abbott of Kimberley. The bridesmaid, Miss Vera Stontenburg, sister of the groom, was also dressed in a pretty cream dress. The bride and bridesmaid carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations.After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Stontenburg received the congratulations of their friends, and at the conclusion of the wedding breakfast returned to the parlor, where a pleasant evening was spent with music and games. The bride and groom will leave shortly on an extended visit to Owen Sound and Warton until Easter, when they will take up their residence in the pretty town of Orillia, where Mr. Stontenburg is going into business. The bride's going away gown was a navy blue tailor made suit with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold signet extension bracelet, and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch set with pearls, and to the groomsmen a pair of gold cuff links. The friends of the bride and groom showed their high appreciation of them by many valuable and useful gifts.

Tea-Meeting.

The tea-meeting held Tuesday night in the Marsh Hall, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid, was an unqualified success. In spite of the fact that some members on the program were prevented from fulfilling their engagements by pressure of circumstance, the program was very enjoyable. The Rev. Mr. Matheson, of Chatsworth, gave a good address, and the ministers were up to their usual platform. The Revs. Mr. Robinson and Mr. Wilson gave brief and interesting addresses. The speakers congratulated Presbyterians on the proposed extension of their church. Mr.
Dr. Brown and Miss May Plews, the soloists, rendered appropriate selections and were well received. The choir gave a good account of themselves. Needles to say, the tables were well filled and everybody was satisfied and pleased at the good spread. The ten-cent social will be held in the church on Friday night to finish the remnants of the feast. The proceeds of tea-meeting up to the present amounts to $45.00.
