Vs. Tommy Burns, the pugilist defeated the Irish champion, but Canadians have no right to shake hands and applaud. Burns has denied Canada the laud of his birth and says he is an American. Well, let the Americans have the "honor" and "glory" of his victory. Canada has plenty of noble sons who have won world wide fame in sports, and have had the manliness to remain loyal to the country which gave them birth, and which is ever ready to honor and applaud real merit. Canada is better without men of the Burns stamp.

Chester Enterprise thinks Hanover is the Banner municipality in Grey for raising statesmen. Markdale is not behind in this respect, this town having had for some time three of her sons holding parliamentary seats in the Dominion, viz: Dr. Sproule, M. P.; I. B. Lucas, M.P.P., and Dr. D. B. Neely, M.P.P., of Humbolt, Sask. The Enterprise's remark was incited by the rumor that R. J. Ball, of Hanover, Warden of Grey County, would be the Conservative candidate in the next Dominion elections against H. H. Miller, M. P., also of Hanover.

Impressive Services.

The union meetings, embracing the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations of this place, under the talented leadership of Miss Hodgkinson, of Rochester, N.Y., are steadily increasing in interest and power. Last week the Presbyterian church was well filled each night. On Sunday Miss Jamieson addressed the house by the Rev. Mr. Cameron, who spoke with much sympathy to the friends and Foundations," and in the Methodist church at night she spoke most impressively from the text, "Lay hold of Eternal Life."

This week the services are being conducted in the Methodist church and the attendance thus far is at the height of the season. Miss Jamieson is possessed of a very winning personality, and her addresses are marked by intense moral earnestness to an unusual degree. From the beginning of her meeting until its close, one is deeply impressed with her conviction that the unsaved are in eminent peril of eternal ruin. There is nothing sensational in her methods; nothing even approaching the humorous ever finds its way into her addresses. She urges continually the danger of procrastination and appeals to the conscience, emphasizing the moral obligation of all to "Get Right With God."

Personal testimony occupies a prominent place in all the services. She also depends much on prayer as the one great essential of success. Christian people in Rochester, Chicago, Pittsburg, and other places, are, at her request, praying for Markdale.

Already there are unmistakable evidences of a spiritual awakening and quickening in the churches, and several have publicly confessed conversion.

The services are scheduled to close on Friday evening, but Miss Jamieson may consent to remain over Sunday and during at least a part of next week if indications seem to justify such a decision, and this at present appears highly probable.
