large number of beautiful wedding presents.

On Friday morning last Mr. S. Hemphill, of Ceylon, received the sad news by telegram of the death on Wednesday evening, the 20th inst., of his sister, Mrs. W. G. Duncan, at her home at Egypt, Washington state, where she has resided the past 24 years.

Mrs. Duncan has been a great sufferer the past two years, but her affliction was borne with beautiful christian resignation. Early in life she united with the Methodist church at Mt. Zion, Armesia, and continued to live an exemplarily christian life to the end. She was an amiable woman, highly esteemed by her neighbors and friends and much beloved in her own home, where she will be now greatly missed. She is survived by her husband, three sons and five daughters, the youngest nine years of age. Three of the family are married. Her aged mother, five brothers—Joseph, James, William II, Robert J. and Sangster—and two sisters—Mrs. John Waring and Miss Fanny C. Hemphill—also survive. The deceased, who was a daughter of the late James Hemphill, was born in Armesia in 1856 and married in 1878. After marriage Mr. and Mrs. Duncan lived two miles east of this village for six years before moving to Washington, where Mr. Duncan successfully farmed and has for a number of years been merchant and postmaster. Mrs. Duncan last visited here six years ago.

MAW'S MESSAGE

Little Johnny Jones was not the cleanest boy in the Public school of his district. The girls of the class objected to sitting beside him, so the teacher sent a note home with his sister Mary, explaining and requesting Mrs. Jones to treat her son and heir to a bath.

Next day, head well up in the air, Mary delivered the following message:

"Maw sez Johnny ain't no violet. Don't smell him—learn him."
