UNIFORM KEENNESS
 NO HONING—NO GRINDING.
 You want comfort and satisfaction of clean smooth shaves every morning.
 The Carbo Magnetic is the only razor UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED to give this. Its secret Electric Tempering positively merges every particle of carbon (the life of steel) into the metal—giving diamond-like hardness throughout the blade—something absolutely impossible with fire tempered steel used in making all other razors.
 But test this razor in your own home—on your own razor—use it on you. Secure one 30 DAYS TRIAL with NO OBLIGATION TO PURCHASE.

Patsy

My acquaintance with Patsy began at the time when I had charge of the distributing bureau of a Helping Hand Aid Society. Patsy appeared at the bureau one cold and stormy midwinter morning. He was so small that only his two shining blue eyes and his freckled nose were visible at the little opening of the room in which I sat. A ragged cap rested lightly on the back of his curly red head. His dirty little fingers clutched a shawl in front of the window, and I knew that Patsy was standing on his tiptoes.

"Affairs had been going wrong all the morning in the bureau and I felt a cross, but no one could long in the light of Patsy's laughing eyes, so I said pleasantly: "Well, what do you want, little fellow?"

"Is there ye give things?" he said.

"Yes, we do have things to give away sometimes. What do you want?"

"Sire, I do be wantin' more than will be givin' away," he replied, with his eyes twinkling. "I want all them Vanderbilts has, but if ye could have me have a pair of breeches the day, sor, maybe I could wait a bit for the rist."

I opened the door and told him to come in. He did so without any sign of embarrassment, and yet his manner was not bold. His need of "breeches" was evident. That he had on were nothing but rags and patches. His stockings had holes in them, and his shoes were on the point of dissolution.

"Where do you live?"

"In Finney's corner," he said.

"I knew the locality. Only the poorest of the poor lived there."

"What is your name?"

"Patsy Noonan."

"Have you a father?"

"Yes, sor."

"Is he at work?"

"He is, sor—on the Island."

"I needed no further information regarding the character or occupation of Patsy's father. On the Island" were the city's reform-gory institutions, and if Mr. Noonan was there, it was not necessary to embarrass Patsy by pressing him for further details, so I said:

"And have you a mother, too?"

"I have, sor."

"What does she do?"

"She's doing 'time on the Island' with her father, now, sor."

"Patsy, you've caught sight of a fine plaster cast of Peter Cooper from the mantel. It was Mr. Cooper's kindness that brought it here."

"He looks 'ot, sor," said Patsy. "It's not the like of him would be doing 'time on the Island', I'm thinkin'."

"I said: "If all men and women were as good as he was the world could be used for better purposes. See that you keep off the Island yourself, my boy."

"Patsy's face," was all he said in reply.

"How do you get along while your father and mother are away?"

"I stay with me gran'mother, that owns the fruit; she 'ornis the bridge between the Island and the post office."

Still In the Market.

Glasgow (Ky.) Times: The editor of the Times attended a Jersey cattle on Tuesday. It was his intention to buy a bull or two, a few cows, and a lot of heifers.

He saw an aged bull sold for $5,000 and a yearling for $1,500. He didn't purchase a bull.

He saw a cow sell for $2,500. He decided not to buy a cow.

He saw one heifer sell for $1,650 and yearlings change hands at $400. He concluded not to invest in heifers.

He is now in the market for a kind, gentle, unpedigreed milk-goat.

GAINED BOTH IN STRENGTH AND WEIGHT

Another Case That Proves The Merit of Ferrozone.

"I was in poor health nearly all last winter," writes Mrs. Cross, of Wakefield, Ont. "My appetite was variable. I was weak and unfit for work. I suffered a good deal from nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. My digestion was generally out of order. By springtime I had lost flesh, color, and had a bad cough. The doctor didn't help me very much, so, I decided to try Ferrozone. It did me ever so much good in one week. I gained strength, looked and felt a lot better. When I had used six bottles of Ferrozone I weighed myself and found a gain of fifteen pounds. Ferrozone rebuilt my constitution, and made me a new woman. I consider Ferrozone worth its weight in gold to every weak woman. It cures quickly and saves big doctors' fees. (Mrs.) R. Cross."

No tonic so certain, so helpful, so safe; try Ferrozone yourself, 50¢ per box at all dealers.

Children At School.

If your child is not doing well at school there is something wrong somewhere; does the fault lie with the home or the school? Teachers cannot perform miracles; parents must do their part by sending the children; children in a fit condition of body and mind to compete with other children; children who do not feel well or comfortable can not work or play well.

Parents blamed the teacher and the teacher blamed the parents for a little girl being the stupid one of the school, when, after many years of cruel fault-finding, it was discovered that she was partially deaf and did not understand what was said to her.

Another child made so many mistakes in reading and in preparing her lessons that her family and teachers decided that she would always be a dunce, when some one observed her sight was defective.

Some children are sent to school not warmly clothed; others are not properly fed; others with ill-fitting shoes and tight clothes. These children will show signs of dullness or irritability and they cannot do their best.

Give your children the best chance possible; encouraging them to get up in time each morning to enjoy a hot breakfast; see that they are comfortably dressed and are healthy in body and mind; many children are christened 'bad' when they really suffer with indigestion.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50¢. Sold by W. Turner & Co., Markdale.

A Word from Flesher-ton

Flesher-ton, June 1, 1908.

Kindly permit me, through your columns, to repute some statements made by your Kimberley correspondent last week with regard to the C. O. F. picnic.

In the first place your correspondent stated that the Flesher-ton Citizens' Band did not give satisfaction. It was on account of the bandmaster's playing baseball that the band could not play, he being captain of the team. The committee told him to play baseball, that there would be lots of time after the match for music. However, the umpire selected by the committee for the baseball match was no good and so I listened to the "chewing" of the Redwing team and spectators; thus the game was protracted unnecessarily, keeping the band from playing. Before the match some had gone home, your scribe among them, no doubt, while the rest went to supper where the band played, and after supper they gave a rather lengthy program. Your correspondent appears to be very antagonistic to Flesher-ton, for he says the baseball match was a tie. This is false as the score was 9-12 in Flesher-ton's favor, and they received the first prize ($5.00). Then again, he says, Kimberley football team was awarded first against our team, which was incorrect, as the purse was divided equally. The reason for Flesher-ton not playing off the tie was that they had no practice and at the end were played out, so the Kimberley boys agreed to take just hill the purse.

I hope that you will kindly publish this to show that the band was not at fault, and thus correct the mis-statements of your correspondent. More than the band boys that those who went home early were thus deprived of the advertised treat, and we trust that such a regrettable state of affairs will not come to pass again.

Yours sincerely,
 A. S. Thurston,
 Sec'y. Band.

AS A WORKING TOOL

for the student and the writer, as an authoritative reference book for schools, teachers, families, business and professional men, there is one book which offers superior advantages in the solid value of its information, and the ease with which it is obtained.

One's admiration for Webster's International Dictionary increases daily as it comes to be better known. It never refuses the information sought and it never overwhelms one with a mass of misinformation illogically arranged.

The St. James Gazette of London, England, says: "For the teacher, the student and the literateur, there is nothing better; it covers everything."

The New and Enlarged Edition recently issued has 25,000 new words, revised Biographical Dictionary and a revised Century of the World, 2,280 pages and 500 illustrations. It has just received

Frown It Down

While the act that joins a man and woman in matrimony is one of the most solemn of life, there is no place at which joy and brightness should be given a larger place than at a marriage ceremony. Nevertheless joy seems to be in danger of being supplanted by nonsense and brightness by vulgarity. With the plainness of our forebears and some of their quaint customs in this connection we must have some patience. What shall we say of the buffoonery that now tricks out a carriage with tin cans and old shoes or the coarseness (that plasters baggage with disgusting hand-bills or suggestive mottos). One has only to visit a railway station during the month of June to realize the discredit his horse-play puts upon an act that means so much to the world as well as the individuals more immediately concerned. Let not any of the joys or even merriment of the occasion be abated, but away with this stupid and vulgar hoodlumism.—Home Journal.

A man seldom realizes what it is to be disappointed in love until after he is led to the altar by the woman of his choice.
