

A HISTORIC REGIMENT

Record of Service.

The last parade of the City of London Militia (the 6th Royal Fusiliers) took place at Bovington Camp, Dorset, a short time ago. They had always been employed on the side of Elizabeth and, indeed, far earlier they are now going to join the Regular Forces and will ever be mindful that they bore a name which would never fade into forgetfulness. The record of the 6th Royal Fusiliers, who have been transferred as a complete unit from the old Militia to the new Special Reserve, dates back to A.D. 1559, when King Alfred the Great was assisted by the troops sent by the City of London in defeating the Danish invaders. The regiment and its various predecessors have gone through stirring scenes, having been employed in the earliest of the wars, the Wars of the Barons, and very insurrection in the south of England since 1300. It was in 1559 that Queen Elizabeth mustered a regular City Militia, and thenceforward the regiment has a continuous record. At that time the Queen ordered the Lord Mayor of London to find and pay for 10,000 men, which he did. Queen Elizabeth constantly called on the City for troops, and it is on record that on one Sunday evening the Lord Mayor received the royal command to parade 1,000 men; this he accomplished by closing the church doors in the City during service and finding the required number of men among the congregations. In 1640 the City Trained Bands, the forerunners of the 6th Royal Fusiliers, fought against the Scots, and at the commencement of the Civil War protected King Charles I. In a few days, however, the same men were used for guarding the members of the House of Commons on their way to and from Whitehall. Thenceforth they fought under Oliver Cromwell and greatly distinguished themselves in every action. In 1662 the Trained Bands were especially exempted from the control of the crown, and came under the orders of a newly-appointed Court Lieutenancy of the City of London, which still exists, makes grants for the upkeep of the regiment, and is the owner of the barracks. In 1795 the City Trained Bands were organized in two regiments, the east and west, and were allowed privileges which are still strictly guarded. One of these is to march through the City with colored flags and bands playing, and banners fixed. In 1850 the two regiments were united in one, called the Royal London Militia, the present title of the 6th Battalion. The strength of the regiment is 656.

PRICEVILLE

The late wind and rain storms have done enormous damage to the crops, especially oats, and the farmer has great difficulty in cutting the majority of fields. In many cases the binder is useless, and the mower or even the scythe has to be used.

Several farmers are complaining about their potatoes rotting, owing to the damp weather.

Archie Cameron and Mrs. Alex. Cameron, of Toronto, came up on the Grey Old Boys' Excursion and visited friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. E. J. Grier, of Dundalk, accompanied by Miss Grier and a little granddaughter visited at the manse one day last week.

The excursion train bound for the north west last week consisted of nine colonist cars heavily laden and pulled into the station two hours late. Among those who went from this station we noticed Herb Watson, Jas. Brodie, Dave McLeod, Hector McKinnon and Donald McLean, also several from Dromore and other points south.

Rev. Walter Nichol, of St. Mary's, visited his parents and other friends recently and conducted one of the services in the Presbyterian church Sunday before last.

G. L. Watson, harness-maker, has renovated his dwelling house from roof to cellar and has fitted it up neat and comfortable.

C. C. James of the Priceville Tannery, has erected a fine barn lately on his farm. The barn is a neat good sized structure with hip roof, the basement storey is built of cement and will contain apartments for horses and other stock, poultry, implements and vehicles and root cellar.

D. T. Hincks has the largest mangel that we have seen this season.

A few days ago a large driving wheel in McLeod's sawmill burst, scattering pieces of iron in all directions, the proprietor and some of the men narrowly escaped being injured.

Miss Emma Robertson is spending her holidays with her mother here.

Mr. Frank Reilly has opened up a blacksmithing business in the old stand on Durham road and Prince st. School opened Monday with Principal Morrison and Miss Ross on the teaching staff.

Congratulations to Miss Louisa Watson and Mr. Hector McKinnon who have been successful at the Normal School Entrance Exam.

CHRONIC DIARRHOEA CURED.

"My father has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Phillippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Phillippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and though sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by R. I. Stephen.

MORE FLESHERTON ITEMS.

Will Wilcox, the 17-year-old son of Mr. Wm. Wilcox, met with a bad accident on Monday by being kicked in the face by one of his horses. The jaw bone was broken in two places and out in the face sustained. Dr. Carter attended to the painful injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Moore were on a holiday last week at Hamilton and on Wednesday attended the marriage of the former's brother, Mr. Chas. Moore, of Inistogie, who was joined in marriage at Smithville, the home of the bride, Miss Woodlan, who taught Inistogie school the past year.

Mrs. Dr. Webster and little daughter Helen, of Toronto, arrived on Monday from summering at Beaverton to visit the former's mother, Mrs. M. K. Richardson. Masters Kendall and Dick Lucas, who were holidaying with their aunt, accompanied her here.
