Books are sometimes handed back into the library with marginal comments or sentences scored which the reader may despise, deplore or delight in, according to his education. Occasionally a whole leaf is wrenched out, if not several. This sort of conduct is a dangerous precedent. It is mutilating public property and subjects the person to severe penalty.

The aggravating thing in talking about the weather is the feeling that the weather doesn't care what you say. Abuse a person, and you are reasonably sure that your words will reach that person's ears and hurt that person's self-love.
But the weather is just like it feels like being, and you can like it or not as you choose. The weather can get along without you perfectly well, and you can't get along without the weather. There's the rub.

CRUSHED WHILE COUPLING CARS

Jimmy Wilcox, Formerly of Mark-dale, Meets Tragic Death in Detroit.

Many Markdale citizens will remember the genial Jimmie Wilcox, formerly of the staff of W. J. Mc-Farland's mercantile establishment.
The news of his sudden death Saturday night in Detroit saddened many a heart. "Jimmie," as he was familiarly known, left Mark-dale some seventeen years ago, spent a year in Owen Sound, a few years in Toronto and has been for ten years a resident of Detroit.
Was 35 years old and unmarried.
He was a switchman in the yard of the Michigan Central Railway, and while adjusting a coupling the other portion of the train noiselessly closed upon him, crushing his life out. Messrs. George Stubbs, George Hass and H. M. Burt, who had, with the deceased, been associate members of the Switchmen's Union, together with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J.O.
Drinkall, and Mrs. George Stubbs, accompanied the body on Tuesday to Markdale, and were joined at Toronto by his sister, Miss Ella, and brother, Albert Wilcox, and wife. They were met on arrival of the noon train here by a company of brother Odd Fellows, and interment took place same afternoon at New England cemetery in the family plot, Rev. J. R. Wilkinson officiating. The pall bearers were Mr. Hass, of Detroit, and the following members of Saugeen Lodge:
W. H. King, C. R. King, W. S.
Perkins, R. Johnston and J. W.
Tucker. Deceased was a member of Modern Woodmen of the World, also of the Switchmen's Union of Detroit, and the I.O.O.F. No. 13, and the high respect and esteem of his associates was amply demonstrated by the number who came all the way from Detroit to pay him a last tribute of respect.

Flowers, wreaths, etc., supplied on the shortest notice by W. Turner & Co., agents of the Dale Estates, Brampton.

Use Flyproof to keep the flies off your cows, and they will make condition. Not a poison. Price Dr. Burt, specialist in diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, will be at the Revere House, Mark-dale, Friday, Sept. 3, from 8 to 12 a.m. Eyes tested and glasses supplied.

School will re-open on Wednesday next. It is important that each pupil shall be in his place, as the various classes will be formed and the pupils will be seated on the first morning. Jas. S. Rowe, principal.

Mr. Robert Johnston is preparing to move from town and will offer for sale privately this week and next, a parlor suite, dining suite, bedroom suite, also other articles of furniture. Eliza street, Markdale.

The Meaford baseball team defeated the amateur champions of Toronto on Dominion Day. See them in action against the locals on the King Edward Park here on Thursday of this week. It should be a great game. 2:30 is the hour.

The English Church held their garden party on King Edward Park on Friday evening last, which was well attended. The most interesting feature of the evening was a baseball match between the fat and lean men of Markdale, which resulted in a victory for the fats by 9-5. The Citizens' Band was in attendance and rendered excellent music throughout the evening.

Passed Ent. to Normal.

The following pupils from Rainy River and Thunder Bay District

When the harvesting is over the

Two Successful Years.

For over two years the Orangeville Business College has been recognized as one of the leading Business Schools of the Province.
During the first year of its inception one hundred students were enrolled; in fact it enjoys a larger attendance than most city schools.
It was never considered a new school, as it was a link of Canada's Greatest Chain of High-Grade, Actual Business Schools which had been established during the last twenty-five years. Most lady students earn $600 the first year and scores earn from $900 to $1500 after a few years' experience. Any young lady, even if she has not passed the entrance, can learn Stenography in six months and save enough money from her earnings of the next six months to pay for her course. Every graduate stenographer is guaranteed a good position within ten days of graduation. Those who cannot attend may learn while they earn by means of Mail Courses.
The Orangeville Business College has proved to be such an important centre that in future, it will be conducted by Mr. A. H. Spot-ton, who is a young man of wide office and teaching experience and is a brother of the proprietor and founder. This College re-opens August 30.
