C.P.R. TRAINS IN COLLISION

Trains from Teeswater and Toronto Come Together at Melville Junction.

The fact that the engineers before they jumped, applied the emergency brakes alone prevented a head-on collision between passenger trains at Melville Junction last Wednesday night from being a terrible wreck attended with the loss of many lives.

As it was, with brakes on, the down passenger train from Teeswater and the up passenger train from Toronto crashed together about seven o'clock, three hundred yards north of the station, and a few people received minor injuries and the majority of the passengers suffered from shock.

NONE BADLY INJURED.

Some of the injured are badly hurt. Robert J. Allan, representing W. E. Saunders, druggist, London, collapsed when he was brought to the hotel and was carried to his room. Douglas Campbell, of Orangeville, had his fingers cut. Mrs. Richard Thomas of Alton received a cut over one eye. Fred Osborne, of West Toronto, was thrown out of his seat and his face was gashed. Conductor Lappin had his leg sprained and his hand was cut. Miss Rhoda Frazee, of No. 25 College street, Toronto, had her left elbow joint badly wrenched, and was shocked.

AFTER HUSBAND'S FUNERAL.

Mrs. Mary Scott, of Thessalon, who was on her way home with her six months' old baby, and who was returning after attending the funeral of her husband, suffered from shock and bruises. Editor Hull, of Erin, who was among the down passengers, said the impact threw many people from their seats.

THOUGHT THE WAY CLEAR.

When the Bruce train arrived at the junction, the crew believing that the other train had passed and they had a clear right of way, went on, with the result that this train collided with the other. Fortunately the Toronto train had not got up much speed, and both engines saw the impending danger in time to each shut off the steam and apply the emergency brakes. This of course took a good deal of way off both trains. The crews then jumped, as they saw the locomotives must crash together. With the momentum of each train decreased, the impact was just enough to throw the passengers from their seats, and none of the cars were derailed. The engine of the south bound was jammed into the tender, and the rear tender wheels left the tracks. Had the collision taken place on a curve a little further on, the result might have been much more disastrous.

SCOTT SAW THE COLLISION.

Harry Scott, of Melville, who was hitching his horse to drive to Orangeville, was three hundred yards from the track when he saw the engines approach one another on the same track. He had just extinguished his lantern, or he might have possibly avoided the crash by signalling. He knew his mother and sister were on the down train returning from the Grand Valley Fair, and he ran to the scene, not knowing how bad the collision would be.

C. P. R. INVESTIGATES.

Superintendent Osborne of the C. P. R. states that an investigation is being held to determine who is responsible for the accident. According to his information the up train had stopped at Melville Junction, and the conductor looked at the register there, but apparently did not notice that the east-bound train had not arrived. The trains had been brought almost to a stop before the collision, said Mr. Osborne.

Conductor Wilson of the west-bound train assumes all the blame for the accident.

"He is a self-made man, I am told."

CEMENT INTERESTS MAY MERGE

Big Scheme on Foot That May End in Owen Sound Having Merger of Its Own.

A dispatch from Owen Sound says:—A big scheme is on foot to combine the three local cement mills in a merger, and the officials of the three companies, the Sun Portland Cement Co., Grey and Bruce Cement Co., and Imperial Cement Co., are holding frequent meetings with this end in view: The plan is to combine the three companies under one management, and consolidate the three plants into one mill, which would have a capacity of 4,000 to 5,000 barrels a day. It is proposed to sell the sites and buildings of two of the companies and enlarge the third, and fit it up for the manufacture of rock cement, for which excellent material in ample supply can be had close to town. The three plants in Owen Sound have been closed down nearly all year owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the market and their inability to compete at the low prices. The three mills represent an investment of nearly a million dollars, and as the stock is held chiefly by Owen Sound shareholders, there is considerable interest in having the deal put through.

DO YOU LACK SELF-CONTROL?

If you are constantly keyed up, nervous, perhaps depressed—look to your over-worked nerves for the cause. They are starving for the nourishment that Ferrozone so quickly supplies. Besides its tonic action on the nervous system, Ferrozone has marvellous blood-forming properties. It thus supplies strengthening materials to every nook and corner of the body and brings the system to a condition of perfect health. To be strong, to eat well, and work long without fatigue, use Ferrozone; it is the best nerve system tonic known. At all dealers in 50c. boxes.

amount of that work to be done yet.

Charlie McClocklin lost a very fine two-year-old heifer on Friday last by choking on a large hard apple.

A big crowd of town sports were out through the country on Thanksgiving Day and kept banging away at every conceivable moving object. The farmers are in no pleasant mood over their intrusion. By the way, it would be wise for town-folk who have more money than wit to think twice before investing in automobiles. They are the source of much annoyance, trouble and loss to country folk and the latter are thinking seriously of boycotting the owners thereof.

A Scoop (?)

The Clarksburg Review feels that it has scored the event of its life by having "scooped" the Rocklyn prize list a week ahead of the other local papers. The scoop was evidently a serious draw on the resources of the composing-room, or else punctuation and capitalization is a lost art in the Review office. The following is a sample of the prize list:

"netting miss m. E. walker miss a walker, tray cloth Mrs. horsley miss miss bonnel; photo frame Mrs. horsley O. walker pillow Shams miss bonnel miss mealan."

We feel sure our good friends in Rocklyn and vicinity wouldn't mind waiting an extra week in order to get a prize list that was intelligible.

Wages of Consumption

ALL HER RELATIVES HAD DIED OF CONSUMPTION

In the year 1890, 18 years ago, Mrs. G. S. Gener, of Belle Isle, N.S., was in a sad condition. All her relatives had died of consumption, and there was every indication that she was going the same way.

At this point her husband suggested dory Haychine. The doctor who attended said Haychine was worthless; but it effected a wonderful cure. Eighteen years after in a letter bearing date August 14, 1908, Mrs. Gener says, "I am better than I have been for years. My lungs have not troubled me since I took your treatment. My physician told me I could not take a better tonic than HAYCHINE, and I recommend it to all who are suffering from Lung Trouble and General Debility."
