A number of the people of our burg are doing considerable trapping these days along the different streams hereabout, and some sneak thief or thieves are stealing some of them. Some of the thieves are going to get into trouble unless they return the stolen goods.

Considerable fall plowing has been done in this vicinity, in fact some of the farmers are about finished, for instance Mr. Wm. McClung, ex-mayor of the Junction, will finish this week. He has one of the finest looking crops of fall wheat that we have seen this fall.

Mr. McClung gets up before breakfast.

Mr. Jasper Stuart returned home on Saturday last from the wilds of Parry Sound District, where he with a number of others were in search of the antlered beauties. Jasper was successful in securing the allotted number. We betide the deer that rubs by the business end of the above mighty hunter's rifle when his hand is on the trigger.

The writer's humble opinion regarding the matter is for the Canadian Government to erect two large warship building plants, one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific coast and so far as possible build the necessary war craft for the protection of our own shores by Canadians with our own material and have the ships manned by Canadians.

SHELBURNE

The weather continues open, giving farmers ample time to get their roots up.

When completed we will have 50 lamps 80 candle power and will also have one of the best lighted towns in these parts.

The Literary Committee of the Epworth League gave a very interesting and profitable entertainment in the Methodist church on Monday night. It consisted of several piano duets, readings and a debate by four young men, on a very important question, namely, "Resolved, that Canada should extend the franchise to women." Needless to say the affirmative was victorious.

The local option by-law received its first and second reading at the council Monday night, and now the fight is opened by a big temperance meeting to be held in the town hall this (Tuesday) evening, to be addressed by Rev. Mr. Chantler, of Brampton, and a prominent lawyer of Weston. Both these gentlemen have been through local option fights, the former in Owen Sound, and the latter in Weston. They will be able to give the citizens some practical pointers on this question.

There is a great demand for houses in our town this fall, both to buy or to rent. There were several good houses built this year but if there were 25 or 30 more houses in the town they would not long remain vacant. As it is every place that is fit to live in is filled. We are told that Mr. Ireland purposes building two or three houses next summer to help this matter. A number of our monied men might do well to take hold and build a number of good houses.

Mr. J. Caldwell has purchased a new wagon. He says the cook comes next. If a few more would take this notion the name of this place would soon change.
