Owen Sound are running a special train to Markdale for the hockey match here on Friday night.

The annual meeting of Walters Falls Agricultural Society will be held on Thursday, January 20.

For health, strength and energy use Turner's Blood and Iron Pills, five boxes for one dollar, at Turner's drug store.

Billy Bushfield won a three-mile race at the rink on Tuesday night in a trifle over ten minutes. Next Tuesday night there will be a contest for the ladies.

The Rev. James Slimmon, M.A., missionary from China, and one of the leaders of the famous Chinese revolt, will be in the Presbyterian church January 23.

The farmer in Carrhill recently marketed $75 worth of dried apples. The apples were all prepared by his wife and daughters in their spare time during the last month.

Joseph Cairns, of Ceston, was before Magistrates McNulloff and McGill on Thursday last charged with keeping beer on his premises. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs.

With the New Year, the Holstein Leader begins with a new proprietor: Mr. G. M. Hudson, who has been publisher the past 14 months, having sold out to Mr. Videl Hunt, of Holstein.

The annual meeting of Markdale Agricultural Society will be held in Haskett's Hall on Friday, Jan. 21, at one o'clock p.m., for the election of officers and other important business. A. Jackson, Secretary.

Turner's Condition Powders, are required to be tried to prove their medicinal properties. As a purifier of the blood, when horses and cattle are out of condition, these powders have no equal. A package at Turner's drug store.

Coulter Bros. secured ten horses at their fair here last Friday and each member bought three on Tuesday. There are yet plenty of good horses in the surrounding country and these buyers are after them. They pay good prices, too. Nearly two hundred horses have changed hands in Markdale during the last month.

George Gaugh's team of colts took away from the driver while he was taking them out of the stables on Wednesday afternoon and took a lively run down Main street, which came to an abrupt end at the corner of Sprout and Main streets when they came in contact with a telegraph post. They started with the sleigh while they passed the merchants bank, and the only damage done was to the telegraph and harness, which was broken considerably.

There are 1,500 employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at work in Winnipeg, which city also boasts that the C.P.R. yards are the largest of their kind in the world. The C.P.R. telephone system for the despatch of trains between Winnipeg and Brandon is pronounced by the officials to be an unequalled success. The despatcher's telephone sounds a big gong, not an ordinary bell, and so there is no chance of a message being lost. By this means time is saved. In case of accidents, anyone can get into the nearest depot and telephone the despatcher's office in Winnipeg. In this way urgent communications can be sent in when there is no telegraph operator around, as sometimes happens at small wayside stations. The telephone despatcher's system is expensive to install, but its manifold advantages are so apparent that its extension is merely a matter of time.

PERSONAL

Death of Geo. B. Holmes

The skating rink, which is open nearly every week-night, is always a popular place, and is being well patronized by old and young.

Sure, Said Peter.

Two Irishmen were in a city bank recently, waiting their turn at the cashier's window.

"This reminds me of Finnegan," remarked one.

"What about Finnegan?" enquired the other.

"It's a story that Finnegan died and when he greeted St. Peter he said, 'It's a fine job you've had here for a long time.'

"Well, Finnegan," said St. Peter, "here we count a million years as a minute and a million dollars as a cent."

"Ah!" said Finnegan, "I'm needing cash. Lend me a cent."

"Sure," said Peter, "just wait a minute!"

an Ira Gibson.

— doesn't it? Well, of our friend, Ira, R. W. Ennis' harness, formerly used by him, but for the past four years he has been a resident of Eyebrow, Sask. He is an Alderman for 1910, and his picture front page of the Eye-brow paper recently. He has a harness business of his progressive western town, and is pleased to hear all the news from Ira.

Them Dry.

— vote of a Walkerton man in the balance in action in Chesley and the springs of booze in Monday last. Had a man not turned out stern and broke his six miles of snowdrifts which have defeated local widths of one vote, a fraction of a batch less water from going out ago, and had the man lost his way on storm-stayed or hung up in the woods for next three years.

Never was killed in his Stenfille.
