SUNLIGHT SOAP

Do you know the difference between working and having the work done for you?

Sunlight Soap actually makes the dirt drop out—saves you time and money—but ingurs neither hands nor clothes. That is just the difference between Sunlight Soap and ordinary soaps.

Found Its Soul.

After the Lucky Baldwin theater and hotel fire in San Francisco there were nine feet of water in the basement where the instruments of the orchestra were stored. When a little of it had been pumped out, August Hinrichs, leader of the orchestra, hired a man to swim in and get out his famous Amati violin.

It was wrecked—water soaked, warped, twisted and broken up into splits. The hot water had soaked off all the old glue, and every piece had fallen away from its neighbor, besides a good many patches of wood put in when repairs had been done. To all appearance the thing was smashed beyond recall.

Nevertheless Herman Muller, a local violin repairer, who knew and loved the old fiddle, took it in hand. Twice he carefully joined the time darkened pieces of wood. Twice he decided that the Amati would not do.

So once more he soaked the 79 bits of wood apart. Then he carefully modeled out of clay an arch such as he remembered that of the old Amati to have had, and for nine weeks kept the bits of wood bound to it until they had gained the proper shape.

Once more he put the bits of wood together. Then for five weeks more he patiently varnished and polished the more than 200-year-old fiddle until it shone. Then Hinrichs once more drew his bow across the vibrating strings and the violin spoke. It sang, wept, bubbled with life and joy.

The Amati had found its soul.—San Francisco Examiner.

HER DEATH WAS HOURLY EXPECTED

Enterprise, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1908.

"For seven years I suffered with what physicians called a "Water Tumor." I could neither sit, stand, nor lie down. Hypodermics of morphia had to be given me to ease the pain.

MRS. JAMES FENWICK.

My case seemed hopeless, and my friends hourly expected my death. I was so bad that I wanted to die, and it was during one of these very bad spells that a family friend brought a box of "Fruit-a-tives" to the house. After much persuasion I commenced to take them, for I was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I commenced to experience relief. I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes I was cured, and when I appeared on the street my friends said, "The dead has come to life," and this seemed literally true, because I certainly was at death's door."

(Signed) MRS. JAMES FENWICK.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box—6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c, or sent post-paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

GREAT FIELD FOR POULTRY.

There is an immense field for the poultry business. The market cannot be supplied. Strictly reliable new-laid eggs are ever in demand. Good poultry also is eagerly snapped up. When turkeys command prices anywhere up to 25 cents a pound, chickens from 14 to 18 cents a pound, ducks 18 cents, and dressed geese—almost any kind of specimen commands at least $1.50—the poultry business surely does look good.

The fowls on the average farm do not get their just deserts. They often are despised. They are looked upon as being necessary evils. But let anyone give his flock proper care and keep track of expenses and relative profits of different departments of the farm, and the poultry department will soon vindicate itself and poultry will prove to be the most profitable of all stock.

We need more and better flocks, more and better eggs and a far better quality of poultry to satisfy the market that seems to have no limit. Upon the thought and study and attendant practice in this department, depends the ultimate profitableness of poultry to the producer.—Farm and Dairy.

GRIT AND LIME FOR HENS.

There should be an unlimited supply of grit and oyster shell before laying hens at all times. This is very essential. The grit supplies the stones for the gizzard, through which all the grain passes, and is there ground up. As soon as the stones are worn smooth they are expelled and fresh, sharp ones are swallowed by the fowl to take the place of those discarded so that if no grit is supplied, the fowls are in danger of having indigestion, which is sometimes fatal, and will always prevent the hens from laying. The oyster shell is also a necessity to supply lime for the shells of the eggs.

The layers are able to eat different substances containing lime and manufacture it into egg shells. If there is no lime supply, the shells are very thin and are easily broken. If eggs are broken, the hens will invariably eat the eggs chiefly to get the shell and this forms the egg-eating habit, which soon spreads through the flock, and if so, is exceedingly hard to cure until the fowls leave the winter quarters and get out of doors again—Farm and Dairy.

SHELBURNE

We were treated to some very cold weather on Saturday and Sunday last. On Sunday morning the mercury dropped to 18 degrees below zero.

On Friday of last week Mr. J. D. Harrison, of this village, received a very bad kick on the side, breaking several ribs. We trust he will soon recover.

On Tuesday of last week Mr. A. Partridge, while working a portable saw mill on Mr. J. Crombie's farm adjoining the village, let his arm come in contact with a circular saw, which cut his arm below the elbow so badly it was feared his arm would need to be amputated, but at present he is doing as well as could be expected and there is now hope of saving the arm.

Mr. H. A. Watson, of Vancouver, B.C., spent a couple of days visiting his uncles, R. J. and A. W. Watson.

There is some talk of the C.P.R. building a new station here. This is badly needed, as the present one has served its day and is now too small.

Messrs. H. Christian and R. J. Watson are this week attending the Fair Association in Toronto, as delegates of the Dufferin Central Fair.

T. E. Langford, M.A., who has been principal of our school for about seven years, left last week for Ingersoll, where he has secured another situation.

The big steel tank in course of construction on school hill, which will hold 100,000 gallons or more, and is intended to supply our town with water, is progressing slowly, owing to the bad weather.

Cost of Kinrade Case.

The Kinrade case cost the Crown $4,090 for counsel and detectives, according to the public accounts for the Province. The sum is apportioned as follows: Mr. G. T. Blackstock K.C., counsel fee, $1000; Pinkerton Detective Agency, $2659, and Thiel Detective Agency, $431. The cost of enforcing the liquor license act is another interesting portion of the public accounts. It totalled $27,492.44.

THERE IS BUT ONE.

Every farmer should know that the price offered by the dealers for cattle, hogs etc., is a fair one. How can he know this if he does not take a farm business paper? There is but one farmers' business and market paper, that is The Weekly Sun's Start 1910 right by subscribing.

Paying a Minister's Salary in the Country

A writer in the Farmer's Advocate writing on the very irregular manner in which a minister is paid his salary in many parts of the country says:

"From early spring to late fall, money is scarce in a farmer's home no doubt, but too often they never seem to remember that a minister has no farm to depend on, and that the butcher, baker, milkman, grocer and dry goods man must be paid and a minister forced to live on credit must suffer as well as anyone else, and must take what the dealer chooses to give him.

No honest man or woman likes to be forced into debt, and yet there are ministers with families depending on them, who not only have to run store bills, but have to borrow money during the summer. The trouble is, the farmer and his wife have no idea what it means to have to pay for every pint of milk used, for every egg, and every pound of butter and meat used in the house, besides the clothing, books, and other necessary expenses. The dealers do not like, or, very likely cannot afford to wait months for a settlement, any more than the farmer can afford to wait months for payment for his grain, or dairy produce.

I think this condition of affairs is caused not because the members do not want to do everything for their minister's comfort, but because they have never been forced to depend on dealers for the necessaries of life, and so do not realize what it means to be under the necessity of cash on hand at all times.

Make Each Animal Worth 25% Over Its Cost

On ⅓ of a Cent a Day

Nobody ever heard of "stock food" curing the hots or colic, making hens lay in winter, increasing the yield of five pounds per cow per day, or restoring run-down animals to plumpness and vigor.

When you feed "stock food" to your cow, horse, swine or poultry, you are merely feeding them what you are growing on your own farm.

Your animals do need not more feed, but something to help their bodies get all the good out of the feed you give them so they can get fat and stay fat all year round; also to prevent disease, cure disease and keep them up to the best possible condition. No "stock food" can do all these things. ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC can and does. It is

Not a "Stock Food" But a Conditioner"

ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC contains no grain or farm products. It increases yield of milk from three to five pounds per cow per day before the Specific has been used two weeks. It makes the milk richer and adds flesh faster than any other preparation known. Young calves fed with ROYAL PURPLE are as large at six weeks old as they would be at ten weeks fed with ordinary materials at ten weeks.

ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC builds up run-down animals and restores them to plumpness almost magically. Cures bots, colic, worms, stop disease and debility permanently.

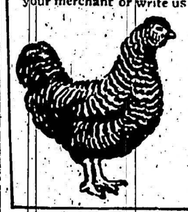
Dan McEwan, the horseman, says: "I have used ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC persistently in the feeding of The Eel, 2.02½, largest winner of any pacer on Grand Circuit in 1908, and Henry Winters, 2.08¾, brother of Allen Winters, winner of $36,000 in trotting stakes in 1908. These horses have never been off their feed since I commenced using Royal Purple Specific almost a year ago, and I will always have it in my stables."

Royal Purple

STOCK AND POULTRY SPECIFICS

One 50c. package of ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC will last one animal seventy days, which is a little over two-thirds of a cent a day. Most stock foods in fifty cent packages last but fifty days and are given three times a day. ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC is given but once a day, and lasts half again as long. A $1.50 pail containing four times the amount of the fifty cent packages will last 280 days. ROYAL PURPLE will increase the value of your stock 25%. It is an astonishingly quick fattener, stimulating the appetite and the relish for food, assisting nature to digest and turn feed into flesh. As a fattener it is a leader. It will save many times its cost in veterinary bills. ROYAL PURPLE POULTRY SPECIFIC is our other Specific for poultry, not for stock. One 50 cent package will last twenty-five hens 70 days, or a pail costing $1.50 will last twenty-five hens 280 days, which is four times more material for only three times the cost. It makes a laying machine" out of your hens summer and winter, prevents fowls losing flesh at moulting time, and cures poultry diseases. Every package of ROYAL PURPLE STOCK SPECIFIC or POULTRY SPECIFIC is guaranteed.

Just use ROYAL PURPLE on one of your animals and any other preparation on another animal in the same condition; after comparing results you will say ROYAL PURPLE has them all beat to death, or else back comes your money. FREE—Ask your merchant or write us for our valuable 32-page book on stock and poultry diseases, containing also cooking receipts and full particulars about ROYAL PURPLE STOCK and POULTRY SPECIFICS.



If you cannot get Royal Purple Specifics from merchants or agents, we will supply you direct, express prepaid, on receipt of $1.50 a pail for either Poultry or Stock Specifics.
