"Of Interest to Women" is the well-deserved heading of a special page in the Toronto Daily Star. It is one of two and sometimes three pages devoted particularly to women's tastes and is independent of the "Social and Personal" and "Madge Merton's" pages, for years popular features of the Star.

"Of Interest to Women" includes scores of little hints on health and beauty; the newest fashions in dress and house furnishings; talks on ethical matters of particular interest to women; points of etiquette; suggestions for home entertainment; recipes; daily menus; advice and suggestions on all the matters that lie close to a woman's heart. They will help solve household problems, and better still, stimulate and interest the mind.

On the Woman's page, and throughout the paper, current topics are treated in a bright, newsy way that appeals to the wide-awake woman. You'd thoroughly enjoy the

Killed by Falling Tree.

A fatal accident occurred in Wrigley's bush, North Keppel, a few days ago, when John Graham, one of the most highly esteemed residents of that place was instantly killed. In company with John Wrigley and John McDougal he was felling trees and, as frequently occurs, was caught by one of the limbs and his skull crushed, the snow being so deep he could not get out of the way. Deceased was forty-nine years of age and unmarried, was a son of the late Wm. Graham, a pioneer of North Keppel, and was of a quiet, unassuming disposition, especially well liked and a man of whom none could say any ill. He was born in the county of Halton, and was a nephew of John Smail of North Keppel.—O.S. Sun.

Rabid Rhymes.

A Ballad of Mad Dogs

A pup there was who ate cream-puff
And an innocent pup, may do.
But the cream was foamy and sealed his fate,
For he got it all over his silky pate, So they said he was mad, and this mortal state
That pup no longer knew.

And there was a dog that an old maid fed Till it tried to climb a tree,
So immediately all the wise ones said That dog was mad, and it should be dead,
And off to an expert they sent its head
The microbes for to see.

There was also a dog who was getting old And whose nerves were somewhat bad,
When a playful gent on its tail took hold,
It nipped him quick where his coattails fold,
And the rest of the story is easily told,
For, of course, the dog was mad.

Another dog had a yellow skin
And a mixed-up pedigree, Which made the "cop" on the beat decide
That the dog was mad—in appearances lied;
A new six-shooter he therefore tried,
And that dog ceased to be.

There were dogs and dogs, some good, some bad,
Of high degree and low They were sane enough, but the neighbors were mad
And a mighty short shrift those poor canines had,
They were sent with a prompt de-more than sad
To the place where all doggies go.

Now, I'm not a prig, by a long shot, I'll say
If a choice I had to face When dogs and humans on Judgment Day Are pleading their cases as best they may,
I'd rather join the mad dogs' fray
Than the men that led the chase.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth caused Varicose Veins. My limbs worked hard the most of the time and severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. I consulted physician after physician and specialist after specialist, but none could cure me. I was told an operation was necessary in my case. I tried several specialists but soon found out they were only after my money. I determined to look upon all doctors as humbugs and rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work. I told him of my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and found they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got their METHOD Treatment. My progress was somewhat discouraging during the first month's treatment. I was somewhat discouraged. I continued treatment for three months longer and was pronounced by them as cured with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 per week in a machine shop before taking treatment, now I am earning $28 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.
