

TRAVERTON

The sap buckets are in readiness. Mrs. Ed. Embury, of Toronto, was an active guest of the Cook home three days of last week.

Four of our most active, clever and popular young men left Durham last Thursday morning for the west. Allan Davis goes to join his brother, Earnest Cook, Albert McNally and W. G. McNally go to Bassano, Alta. In Winnipeg they will be joined by Roy McNally, who has spent the winter in the lumber woods. Old Ontario can ill afford to lose these bright youths.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell leave on Tuesday for Zealandia. Their car of horses and household effects will be in charge of J. Allan of Dornoch. Peter has become a general favorite among the folk here.

Parents with big families of unmarried daughters are trying to secure farms in this neighborhood. The matrimonial fever is still raging.

After a year's suffering from declining health, Mrs. J. McDonald passed away on Thursday evening of last week. She lost her husband in Michigan over a year ago, and in her patient and constant attention on him, became stricken with a severe cough, which settled on the lungs. The past few months she has been in the home with her brother Rinald and her aged mother. She leaves three children to mourn a fond mother's love and care. Mrs. John McVickers and Mrs. D. McCormick are sisters and have been most attentive. The funeral took place to St. John's on Saturday morning, Rev. Father Ferguson officiating. A large number attended to show their sympathy and respect.

'Tis a common saying in the country that the attendance at a neighbor's sale and the prices realized are a good test of his popularity. Such being the case, there was ample proof of the widespread esteem and goodwill in which Mr. George E. Arrowsmith and family are held. At their sale, which took place on Wednesday afternoon of last week, Glenelgers turned out en masse, and scores were present from Artemesia, Egremont, Normansby, Bentinck and elsewhere and prices ruled at high tide mark all the way through. Auctioneer D. McPhail, certainly made things hum and got through a big afternoon's work in good time. Proceeds of sale, with that of a team sold before hand, realized over $1970.

"Rose Lawn Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook, was for the second time in a fortnight the scene of a very happy wedding on Tuesday evening, March 8, when their eldest daughter, Olive A., was wedded to W. J. McFadden, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William McFadden, of Wilder's Lake, Egremont, in the presence of over one hundred neighbors, friends and relatives. Promptly at 5 o'clock, to the music of a wedding march, played by Miss Millie Cook, of Ceylon, the groom took his place under an evergreen arch pendant with bridal bells. A minute's breathlessness and the sweet, young maiden, clad in a lovely dress of cream silk voile, trimmed with Irish lace, and leaning on her father's arm, took her place beside him, and the Rev. R. W. Wright, B.A., of Durham, most gracefully made them one. 'Tis a union that will long be remembered—the youthful couple, her Sunday School class of boys that almost idolize her, and the beaming faces of the big crowd making a good memory picture. After heartiest best wishes and congratulations a splendid feast followed in the sunny and spacious dining room, which was most beautifully decorated. It might be called a "earnation" wedding, for the bridal bouquet was a generous one of the peerless flowers and the tables were decked with the same. A night of games, music and program followed, in which glowing tributes were paid the bonnie bride, who has taken so prominent a part in Zion's Sunday School, Epworth League and church work for six years. Among the big array of beautiful presents was a silver tea service, beautifully engraved, from the various organizations above mentioned; a fine lamp from the boys of her Sunday School class, and a handsome gold chair from her proud lover. Guests were present from Markdale, Ceylon, Proton, Egremont, Bentinck, Durham, and Toronto. They left on Wednesday evening for their home in Egremont, and Zionites are wondering how they will get along without their "Olive." May the sunshine of life's path be theirs.

A REMARKABLE TRADE MARK PROPOSITION.

The big "NA-DRU-CO" advertisement, which appears on another page of this issue, announces probably the most extensive trade-marked line which has yet been brought out in Canada.

The proposition, as outlined in the advertisement, is a truly "National" one; and one which is of the greatest practical importance to every Canadian.

Scores of Canadian manufacturers have already proved the business-building value of a well-known trade mark, but none have ever carried the idea so far as has the firm behind the NA-DRU-CO Trade Mark.

To put out 125 different preparations under the one name and trade mark, and advertise as they are doing, is business genius—though it would be business suicide were they not absolutely certain of the quality of each and every article trade marked.

A careful reading of the advertisement, however, leaves little doubt of NA-DRU-CO quality, and impresses one with the business acumen and judicious daring of the firm which has planned such a project and announced it with such an advertisement, appearing to-day we understand, throughout the Dominion.
