That the cost of living has greatly increased seems undeniable, but the increase in wages appears to have fully kept pace. Some wise thinkers claim that more is paid for luxuries than for the necessities of life. There is a class, however, that does much for the good of individual, home, community and the nation, and as a class they are decidedly underpaid, yet there is no one who is willing to champion a movement towards increased compensation. We refer to the clergy.

Maple Glen Creamery Co. will begin operations on Monday, the 9th May. They have the cream from one thousand cows promised and the prospects are favorable for a successful season. THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Christ Church Congregation Celebrate the Event on Sunday—Fine Services Well Attended.

The thirtieth anniversary of Christ Church, Markdale, was fittingly celebrated last Sunday, when Rev. James Ward, the rector thirty years ago, was the preacher of the day.

The event was an important epoch in the history of the Church, and large congregations showed their interest in the event by attending morning and evening.

The first service of the day was held at 8:30 a.m., when Holy Communion was celebrated by the Rector, Rev. J. G. Dymond, assisted by the Rev. James Ward. A large number attended this early morning service.

At the eleven o'clock service the church was well filled. Appropriate psalms were read and the Rev. Mr. Ward delivered a carefully prepared sermon, using as a double text Gen. 28: 17-18, and St. John 1:15. The speaker's opening remarks were reminiscent in character, and he contrasted the present day advantages over those of thirty years ago. Before the present church was erected a log building was used as a place of worship, and although it represented a great deal of self-denial to those by whom it was erected. All honor, said the speaker, to the man who gave from his first clearance of the woods one acre for the purpose of God. Money was scarce at that time, and instances were recalled of where great self-denial was evidenced in order that the parish might be sustained. In those days, the speaker said, there was only service—once every two weeks, and his parish consisted of five townships, Euphrasia, Osprey, Ardenesia, Glenelg, Melancthon, and the Village of Shelburne. Those were strenuous times for the clergymen, and the hardships encountered can scarcely be realized by people of this age of enlightenment and progress. We should be very grateful for the great educational and religious advantages of the present day. Advantages as a descriptive text "Jacob's Ladder," the speaker held the closest attention of his hearers while he delivered an able discourse.

In the evening the church was again comfortably filled, and Rev. Mr. Ward chose his text from the Gospel of St. Luke, "What Shall I do to Inherit Eternal Life?" His address was an effective appeal to the heart and the intellect, and so brimful of hope that none were left uncertain as to right and title to the spiritual inheritance. He also drew many beautiful lessons from the story of "The Good Samaritan."

The choir was in especially fine order throughout the day, and aided greatly in the success of the anniversary. In the morning the anthem, "Hear Us, Jehovah," with solo and duet parts by Mrs. (Dr.) Brown and Mr. John Caesar, was an excellent rendition. In the evening "Depth of Mercy" was rendered as an anthem, Mrs. I. B. Lucas taking the solo part in her usual admirable manner.

The thank offerings of the day were very satisfactory.

Rev. Mr. Ward, whom the committee were fortunate in securing for these anniversary services, is now located at Waterford. Since leaving Markdale about twenty-four years ago, he has been stationed at Millbank, New Hamburg, Norwich and has been rector of the parish at Waterford for the past two years. He is an indefatigable worker, an earnest, devoted servant of his Master, and his ministrations in the pulpit are strong and vigorous. His old parishioners and friends were delighted to see him again, although not many are left of his flock of thirty years ago. On Monday evening a large number attended Evensong, when the Rector spoke informally on the results of the Anniversary and urged a general spiritual revival in worship and work. A large choir was present and rendered efficient service. Immediately after the Evensong service a social gathering of the members of the congregation and others was held in the basement of the church. A fine musical program was rendered in which the following took part: Mrs. I. B. Lucas, Mrs. (Dr.) Brown, Mrs. Dymond, Mr. Caesar, Miss Bertha Matthews and Miss Nina Hill. The accompanists were Mrs. (Dr.) Campbell and Miss Matthews. The room was beautifully decorated with hunting and flowers. Light refreshments were served. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Dymond, and Rev. Mr. Ward gave addresses; the latter on "Reminiscences," and Rev. Mr. Young, Methodist pastor, who was present was invited to speak and gave a pleasing address.

Together the congregation of Christ Church are to be congratulated on the brilliant success of their anniversary.

Following are the Rectors of Christ Church since its erection thirty years ago: Rev. Jas. Ward, Rev. W. A. Graham, Rev. H. E. Bray, Rev. William Hind, Rev. M. J. Goldberg, Rev. J. R. Newell, Rev. J. A. Robinson, Rev. E. G. Dymond.

PRESENTATION TO REV. SHEPHERD

Presbyterian Congregation Honor Pastor and His Family Prior to Their Leaving for Leamington.

On Friday evening the members of Cooke's Church met in their church to spend a social hour with their pastor and his family, prior to their leaving for Leamington. The church was comfortably filled, and general regret at the pastor's departure was sincerely evidenced. A short programme occupied the first part of the evening. Among others Mrs. (Dr.) Brown and Miss Plevas sang pleasing and appropriate numbers, and Miss Boland and Harry Wall contributed humorous readings.

The second part of the program consisted in the presentation of a gold watch and chain to Rev. Mr. Shepherd, a cabinet of silver-ware to Mrs. Shepherd, and a napkin ring each to the boys. All the gifts were suitably inscribed. Mrs. W. M. McFarland read the address, while Mrs. R. L. Stephen and Postmaster Plevas made the presentation. The following is the address: To Rev. Mr. Shepherd, Mrs. Shepherd, and family:—

It is with mingled emotions of joy and sorrow that we assemble here this evening. We are met to part. For five years you have lived your lives with ours in one community and in one church. Many associations have bound us closely together, in the bond of friendship and this mystic tie cannot be easily severed.

As citizens you have been interested in every movement for the advancement of our town, and put your shoulder to the wheel of progress in all seriousness.

As a preacher you have taught us from the pulpit the truths of Equality, Brotherly Love, Charity, Morality and Fundamental Religion. Every department of church work has felt the influence of strong energetic zeal Mrs. Shepherd has put into it and it will be long before we forget to miss her cheerful service. In the social circle, also, we lose much in the absence of your persons.

We cling to the memories of your gentle deeds of sympathy and treasure their souvenirs as sweet remembrances of the past.

"The best portion of a good man's life is his little nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love."

A new field of labor presents itself to you. It offers a greater scope for development and large opportunities. We regret that you will leave us; but are glad that "our loss is your gain."

In pursuance of the new duties enjoined upon you, you are followed with all the tender love and encouragement of generous hearts here.

We wish you to accept of these gifts of remembrance from us. With them go our sincere goodwill and heartfelt regard for you and yours. And now "Good night, good bye, and joy be with you all; May sickness never blight nor poverty;

May slanderous breath your spirits ne'er appall; May no untoward accident befall; But all things prosperous and happy be; May morning suns rise on you fresh and bright.

Dear friends, Good-night, Good-bye. Your Markdale Congregation.

In responding, Mr. Shepherd, though almost overcome with emotion, thanked his people for their kindness and numerous courtesies.

Dr. Campbell, as Chairman, conducted the proceedings of the evening, keeping everyone, himself included, in good humor.

On Sunday Rev. Mr. Shepherd preached his farewell discourses. The church was filled at both services, a number of communicants of sister churches in town showing their appreciation of Mr. Shepherd by being present.

The outstanding feature of the farewell was the sincere regret expressed by the people in losing their pastor.

Rev. Mr. Shepherd has for over five years labored zealously for the cause he represents. He has manifested a public spirit which was commendable, while Mrs. Shepherd proved herself a splendid type of minister's wife, vigorous,

Despatch to the Globe from Dundalk, says:—

Local Option came into force in Dundalk on May 1. To find new boarding houses, so that arrangements had been made, and all were provided for.

On Monday morning Mr. Thos. Powell opened a restaurant in his store on Horton street, where meals are being served regularly. One room in the town hall has been fitted for a sample room. Messrs. Geo. Sharp and Alex. Kennedy opened beer-stables on Monday morning, and citizens have opened their homes or the accommodations of their houses so that little if any inconvenience will be experienced. Their provisions will be made for comfort and conveniences of travelers and other visitors to the town, so that all will be well lodged after when they visit Dundalk again.
