

The Money-Making Possibilities of Western Canada are Stronger and Broader To-Day Than Ever.

TENS OF THOUSANDS of robust men and women are crowding into the last great West and will continue to pour in until its population will be in the many millions. The eyes of the world are centred there! Consequently history will not repeat itself and land values will increase with great rapidity, especially in well-located settlements. For ideal location, no new town surpasses

Davis, Vandeleur, in last week's issue in which he defies any man to say he has wronged willfully of five cents. I am sorry to have to reply to such a statement in print, but I defy him to prove honestly and rightly that he did not wrongfully and willfully beat me out of a sum of money (of which I can account) balance of wages due me on the month of May, 1908, I being told definitely by him he would not pay me another cent. I am
