For Man With Gun.

A license for everyone who carries a gun is what some local hunters would like to see become law. That an effort to have the game laws amended for this purpose will be made before long seems assured. Farmers and protectors of song birds are behind the movement, which has many supporters in Ontario. The cause for greatest complaint is the damage done by minors and amateur hunters, who go into the woods and shoot everything they see, just for the pleasure of killing. These would-be hunters kill hundreds of song birds every year and scores of insectivorous birds that live on the very bugs and insects that are a prey to the country crops. If every one of these amateurs were compelled to take out a license it would mean a prevention of this wild shooting. One other important feature for the license is that it would eliminate some of the work of the "man who didn't know it was loaded."

National Defence.

A writer in "The Morning Post," of London, comments regretfully upon the lack of interest in Canada in the subject of national defence, and attributes that, to him, deplorable circumstance to the prevalent feeling that Canada can depend for defence upon both the United Kingdom and the United States, and that therefore there is no need of local preparations for defence. It is a matter of course that Great Britain would defend with all her available resources her most important colony. As for the United States, it certainly does not expect ever to menace the Dominion, and it would probably regard any alien attack upon that country as unfavorably as it did the French attack upon Mexico, and to about the same effect, and it might, logically, should there be occasion, afford to British sovereignty there the same guarantee of protection which for many years it effectively gave to Spanish sovereignty in Cuba. Canada is safe enough without much self-defence, though we should think that she might be inclined to develop it on the grounds of self-pride and independence, and also of a filial desire to be a source of strength rather than a care and a weakness to the Mother Country.—New York Tribune.

Local Option Campaign.

As far as can be ascertained at present, sixty-five places, involving 222 licenses, are moving towards a test of the temperance measure. The District Temperance meeting was held at Vandeleur on Friday afternoon of last week. About 50 delegates were present. The meeting was interesting throughout. A dainty lunch was served by the Vandeleur members, when all did ample justice. In the evening a good program was given by the different Divisions. Proceeds of evening meeting were $7.00. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presenting of the prize Banner to the Division doing the best work during the quarter, and which the Vandeleur Division was successful in winning. This is the second time for this division to hold the banner.

TRAVERSTON

Councillor McNally purchased two thoroughbred Ayrshire cows last week. They are beauties.
Mrs. James Wilson is away on a visit to her father in Dumfries, who is gradually sinking with creeping paralysis.
John O'Neil did some fast threshing on the 14th con. lately.
Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Walkerton, occupied Zion's pulpit on Sunday afternoon and his discourse was most masterly and helpful.
Mrs. Joseph Edge, of Owen Sound, is spending a few days with relatives hereabouts, arriving at our cottage on Monday evening.
Tom Cook had the misfortune to lose his fine spring colt three days after getting it home. Indigestion followed by inflammation caused a very speedy death. It was Tom's first big investment and is a heavy loss to a young fellow.
The Bee-ring wound up the season's work on Friday evening and was the most successful and satisfactory of any since its introduction here eight years ago. Reeve Hunt was re-elected president, T. Turnbull will continue as butcher, and all the shares were signed in a few minutes. At the close of the meeting a most hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. James Hastie for the use of his hall.

Gifted with a winning personality and a voice of sweetness, Miss Pritchard, of Vandeleur, is the guest of Miss Myrtle McClocklin at present.
Mrs. E. W. Hunt had a party on Friday afternoon for her Sunday School class of boys and girls. It being the primary class, it is not lacking in numbers and the wee tots had a high old time.
Mrs. John Greenwood received word from Molesworth on Saturday of the death of beloved nephew, who a year ago or more had a leg amputated and never recovered his former strength. He gradually faded away, suffering intense pain at times.
Mr. Ronald Martin and his sister, Mary, had a big house-warming on Thursday night last, at which over 150 were invited guests. The fine new home, though not yet completed, was ample for the crowd, and Miss Mary has always had the reputation of being an adept in the providing of delicious edibles. She added to her laurels on this occasion, and many are the complimentary remarks heard on all sides of the royal manner in which they were entertained.

Miss Mabel Fadden, of Beaverdale was the guest of Miss Annie Boales last week.

TEMPERANCE.
The figures for the drink traffic in Canada for '09 are not yet available but for the fiscal year ending March, 1908, the total cost of liquors consumed was $76,867,649, the quantity being 47,337,661 gallons. A careful and conservative estimate gives us the actual value of liquor lost through the liquor habit, $60,315,977. The loss by deaths due to drink was equivalent to $23,500,000 in money. The grain destroyed in production of beer and spirits was worth $2,958,600. Administration of justice, asylums, hospitals and charities, cost $4,705,261. Against the total cost of the traffic, amounting to $175,272,487, the receipts of the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal revenues of $16,940,261 leave a net loss for one year in Canada of $158,332,226. How much longer will the Christian churches allow this to go on?

The Mission of the Liquor Traffic.
"To-night it enters a humble home to strike the roses from a woman's cheek, and to-morrow it challenges this republic in the halls of congress.
"To-day it strikes a crust from the lips of a starving child, and to-morrow it levies tribute from the government itself.
"There is no cottage humble enough to escape it, no place strong enough to shut it out.
"It defies the law when it cannot coerce suffrage. It is flexible to cajole; but merciless in victory. It is the mortal enemy of peace and order, the despoiler of men and terror of women, the cloud that shadows the faces of children, the demon that has more graves and sent more souls unshipped to judgment than have wasted life since God sent plagues to Egypt, and all the wars since Joshua stood before Jericho.
"It comes to ruin, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and mine.
"It comes to mislead human souls and to crush human hearts under its crumbling wheels. It comes to bring gray-haired mothers down in shame and sorrow to their graves.
"It comes to change the wife's love into despair and her pride into shame.
"It comes to still the laughter on the lips of little children.
"It comes to stifle all the music of the home and fill it with silence, and desolation.
"It comes to ruin your body and mind, to wreck your home, and it knows it must purchase its prosperity by the swiftness and certainty with which it wrecks the world."
—From Henry Grady's Famous Warehouse Speech at Atlanta, Georgia, 1888.
