Insanity Increasing In Bruce.

What's the matter with the insanity in Bruce? asked Bailiff Simpson of Toronto, as he entered the Walkerton jail on Monday last for the purpose of removing another inmate person to the asylum. The officer dwelt on the many of his visits to Bruce and the peculiar mission of removing lunatics to the asylum. The fact that there were no more than three insane prisoners in the cells of the Walkerton jail he spoke of, and all of them waiting transportation to the asylum. He said that the insanity here was not likely to decrease in the immediate future. Instead, he has two more trips of him before the jail supply could be exhausted, and there also a horrible possibility must come in before the lunatic went out. The local officer was certainly under the way Bruce was being the asylums, but just how present for this seeming epidemic of insanity here was, some beyond him. — Walkerton

Carried a Revolver.

James Thomas Vollett, a youth from Leamington, Durham, left that centre of dryness on Sunday morning last and drove into Walkerton armed with a revolver. In route he purchased a bottle of booze from a stranger in Hanover and later bought another flask from a youth in Walkerton. He exhibited the pistol sufficiently often around town to get the Chief of Police onto his trail. Consequently when he went to the Walker House stable to get his horse prior to returning home Sunday night, he was confronted by a man in brass buttons who stepped out of one of the stalls and arrested him in the name of the King. The officer searched the clothes of the prisoner and found the revolver concealed in his hip pocket. Taking him to jail, the Constable subsequently laid an information against him for carrying firearms, and on the case being tried before Magistrate Tolton on Monday afternoon, the prisoner was fined $10.00 and costs, or a total assessment of $15.60 for the offence. But the matter didn't Interesting Lecture On Horticulture.

The hall of the Department of Agriculture was filled to the doors on Wednesday evening of last week when Prof. H. L. Hutt, of the Ontario Agricultural College, delivered an exceedingly interesting lecture to the members of the Markdale Horticultural Society. The lecture was upon Home and Town Improvement and by the use of about sixty lantern slides it was made highly instructive and illustrative. Mr. Hutt is an expert in landscape gardening and consequently had his subject well in hand. Also, having taken a look through the town previous to the lecture he was in close touch with the requirements in both home and street planting. Consequently, the points he emphasized were made strong by local applications and several that should be of interest to all citizens were touched upon. In speaking of the old-fashioned front fences he said that the dilapidated form was much too prevalent in the town; that the modern front lawn was not fenced in at all, but instead was graded and seeded right to the street. Planting in straight lines or the formal method he said had also been practised too much. As a better and more pleasing method he suggested the use of natural curves and a more informal style; the planting of shrubs and trees in such a manner that they seemed a piece of Nature's work only. The use of climbers to cover ugly walls and the use of shrubs to hide an unsightly background was also forcibly shown. Backyards, instead of being made a spot for the ash pile and a receptacle for tin cans, and waste paper, should be turned into a garden, into a spot where many a pleasant evening might be spent; a place that would be a source of enjoyment to the whole family and that they would all take an interest in. He further went on to say that considerable street planting could be worked to much advantage. As far as he could judge, Markdale was very backward in this respect and with several exceedingly good slides he pointed out the best manner in which such improvement might be accomplished. He advocated that the council take hold of this matter and named several of our hardest and best shade trees that could be used for the purpose. This is a bare outline of the lecture and we feel sure that all who heard Mr. Hutt will look forward to hearing him again some time in the near future. Several good musical numbers, rendered throughout the evening, helped to add variety to the programme. Miss Hissett favored the audience with a recitation, while Misses Casser, and Clark rendered an excellent piano duet. Mr. G. A. Clark very ably occupied the chair. With the singing of God Save the King the evening's programme was brought to an end.

'MY STOMACH IS FINE.

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets'
Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why. 'I was greatly troubled with my stomach,' she writes. 'I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food.'
One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they will make you feel like a new person.

A Narrow Escape.

James, the 12 year old son of John Hudson, of Bentinck township, had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon last. He was engaged teaming manure, and fell in front of the wagon, his legs being tangled in the reins. The horses ran away and dragged the boy some little distance until he could extricate himself. The wagon passed over his ankle. His father brought him to a Hanover doctor immediately, who fortunately pronounced that he was not seriously hurt. His ankle was badly strained but not broken. A SPRING DIALOGUE.

Wife.—I say, John, have you paid your subscription for 1912 to that newsy paper, 'The Markdale Standard'?
John.—No, wife, I don't think I have, and I really don't believe I paid for 1911 either.
Wife.—What! You surely didn't keep the editor out of this dollar last year, and now taking this year too on credit? Why, John, what on earth do you mean?
John.—Well, it does seem careless, wife, but I really forgot it.
Wife.—Well, it's a real shame. Now the very first time you go to town, pay up like a man, and then be decent and whack up a year in advance.
John.—Well, I guess I ought to; but you know, Mary, money is scarce.
Wife.—Scarce nothing—give me money for other things. Don't expect the editor to furnish you the paper on credit for two, or three years, and then pay his hands, paper bills, rent, and make a living besides.
John.—Well, Mary, it is too bad to treat the editor that way, and the first time I go to town I'll see he is paid. A dollar a year for such a good paper is cheap, and ought to be cash on the spot.
Wife.—Well, see that you do, or I'll not darn your socks again.

The Orange Hawkweed

Systematic Efforts will be Made to Overcome This Pest in Eastern Townships.
A campaign is to be waged against the Orange Hawkweed by the Dominion Government this summer. This weed, which is easily distinguished by its flaming red flowers during the month of June, was introduced into the Eastern Townships of Quebec several years ago from the State of Vermont. It has spread with such rapidity as to give cause for alarm. In an interview this week, Dr. Gussow, Dominion botanist, stated to a representative of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, that the Orange Hawkweed is likely to give trouble, and unless something is done now there is a danger of its being spread all over Canada. The first step to be taken by the Government in the work of eradication is the preparation of a special bulletin on the weed, which will be sent to the farmers of the Eastern Townships. The bulletin will give a full description of the weed and the best known methods of fighting it. The bulletin will be accompanied by a handsome color reproduction of the weed. It will be mounted on heavy cardboard and the work will be of such a high order that the pictures will be too pretty to throw away. The idea is that the farmer who receives it will hang it up in a prominent place in his kitchen, or in some room where it will be always conspicuous. There is an object in this, for even if the farmer has only a few of these weeds on his farm he will immediately recognize it and destroy it before it has made any headway.

Military Camp Opens May 30.

For five weeks commencing on May 30th, Niagara-on-the-lake, will be turned into a huge military camp of instruction. The city regiments will be the first arrivals and will be followed by rural battalions on June 3rd and June 17, respectively. The period of training for the cavalry has been increased this year to 16 days, commencing June 13th. Some of the regiments will go to Niagara and some to Petawawa. A separate camp will be held at London for the medical units of the first and second divisions. Their period of training will also extend over 16 days, commencing on June 1st. To prevent the strength of rural contingents being augmented by mind this fact that PARISIAN SAGE, now sold all over America, has been issued that all units must draw their men from the districts they represent.
