

For Weal or for Woe;

Or, A Dark Temptation

CHAPTER XVIII.
It is a sad and terrible scene that meets the eye. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back.

CHAPTER XIX.
The excitement which prevailed in the train was not without its effect on the passengers. Some were pale as death, some were red as a cardinal, some were white as a sheet, some were black as a raven. The air was thick with the smell of death. The only sound was the creaking of the wheels as the train moved forward. The conductor looked on with a grimace, his hands behind his back. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back.

CHAPTER XX.
The train stopped. The conductor looked at his watch. The passengers were all dead. The bodies were piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air was thick with the smell of death. The only sound was the creaking of the wheels as the train moved forward. The conductor looked on with a grimace, his hands behind his back. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back.

CHAPTER XXI.
The train stopped. The conductor looked at his watch. The passengers were all dead. The bodies were piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air was thick with the smell of death. The only sound was the creaking of the wheels as the train moved forward. The conductor looked on with a grimace, his hands behind his back. The passengers are all dead. The bodies are piled up in the aisle, some with their hands clasped in prayer, some with their eyes staring open, some with their faces pale as death. The air is thick with the smell of death. The only sound is the creaking of the wheels as the train moves forward. The conductor looks on with a grimace, his hands behind his back.

A GOOD HABIT
Tea when you are tired, particularly if it's LIPTON'S TEA. Goes farthest for the money.

HOME
Miscellaneous Recipes.

Rice Pudding with Egg Sauce.—Press hot boiled rice into buttered cups; then slip out on a hot dish and pour the sauce over. Look for the rice to be used; place them in a pan and cover with cold water; cook until tender; chop very fine and press through a coarse sieve. To this pulp add the juice of one-half lemon and sugar if not sufficiently sweet.

Chicken Turnovers.—Make a rich baking powder biscuit dough; roll out one-fourth inch thick; cut into squares; place a spoonful of minced chicken seasoned with herbs and onion; add moisten with cold gravy; fold dough over; brush with milk and bake about fifteen minutes. Serve with left-over gravy, to which add chopped giblets.

Apple Graham Pudding.—Place a layer of Graham crackers in the bottom of a buttered pan; then add layer of pared, cored, and chopped sour apples; continue with more crackers and apples until pan is two-thirds full. Beat one egg with one-fourth teaspoonful salt; add one pint of milk; turn over the apples and crackers and bake in moderate oven until puffy and brown.

Orange Sauce.—Thicken one pint of orange juice with one tablespoonful of cornstarch; cook until transparent and sweeten to suit.

Stuffed Lamb Chops.—Twelve lamb chops, one and one-half cups soft bread crumbs, milk, one tablespoonful onion, one-quarter cup grated cheese, one-half teaspoon celery salt, few grains black pepper. If possible, select chops from the loin and cut bone and roll them. Make a stuffing of the other ingredients, moistening with milk as necessary; pan broil the chops lightly, browning the outside and seasoning them as they cook. Then cover with the stuffing and bake for fifteen minutes in a hot oven, when the stuffing should be brown. Serve on toast with a brown sauce.

IMITATIONS ABOUND
Every one knows the dealer a larger profit, but none possess the flavour of SATADADA.

Black, Mixed and Green. Sealed tea packets only.

Left-Over Coffee.
Never serve warmed-over coffee. It is one of the worst of warmed-over and has little justification. If it must be done pour the coffee from the grounds, strain and set in a tight glass jar in a cold place. When reheating tie a little fresh coffee in a lawn bag and bring to a boil with it. This gives more of the fresh-made flavour.

Home Hints.
For ink stains on the fingers try lemon and salt.
Never sleep where the light from a window shines directly on the eyes.
Never leave a metal spoon in a saucer if you wish the contents to cool quickly, for the spoon is the means of carrying off a great deal of heat.

AIRQUAKES AND CAUSE.
Violent Explosions of Meteorites Louder Than Thunder.
The suggestion that there are air-quakes due to explosion of meteorites and volcanoes, comes from no less an authority than W. D. Downing, the British astronomer.

Co-operative Mexican Baking.
In nearly every Mexican village may be found a rounded structure of dried mud resembling an old-fashioned beehive with a small opening near the ground. It is the oven which is utilized by the village for general culinary purposes.

Do I look like a fool?
"Well, I wouldn't say that. But I will say that you look like a man whose his looks when the wind has blown his hat off and a crowd has gathered to watch him chase it down the street."

IMITATIONS ABOUND
Every one knows the dealer a larger profit, but none possess the flavour of SATADADA.

Black, Mixed and Green. Sealed tea packets only.

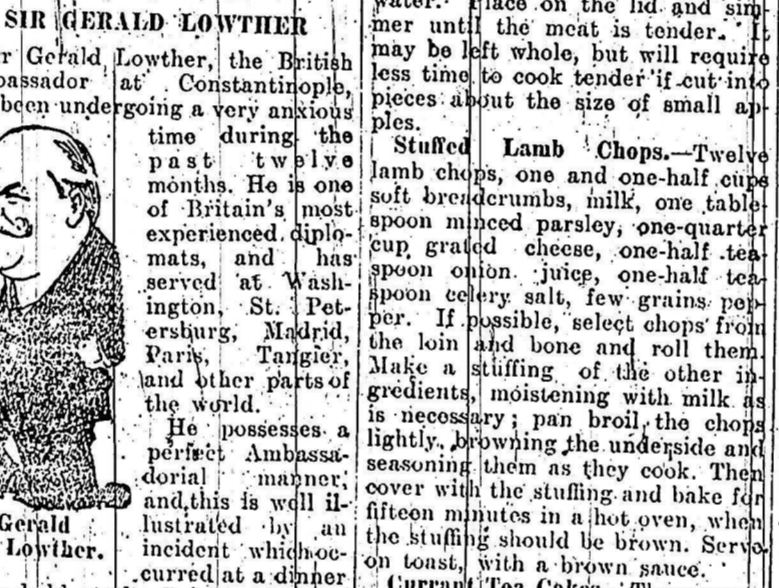

Home Hints.
For ink stains on the fingers try lemon and salt.
Never sleep where the light from a window shines directly on the eyes.
Never leave a metal spoon in a saucer if you wish the contents to cool quickly, for the spoon is the means of carrying off a great deal of heat.

AIRQUAKES AND CAUSE.
Violent Explosions of Meteorites Louder Than Thunder.
The suggestion that there are air-quakes due to explosion of meteorites and volcanoes, comes from no less an authority than W. D. Downing, the British astronomer.

Co-operative Mexican Baking.
In nearly every Mexican village may be found a rounded structure of dried mud resembling an old-fashioned beehive with a small opening near the ground. It is the oven which is utilized by the village for general culinary purposes.

Do I look like a fool?
"Well, I wouldn't say that. But I will say that you look like a man whose his looks when the wind has blown his hat off and a crowd has gathered to watch him chase it down the street."

Canada's finest sugar
at its best
Your level of cleanliness will be gratified by...
Canada's Sugar Refining Company, Limited, Montreal.

SIR GERALD LOWTHER
Sir Gerald Lowther, the British Ambassador at Constantinople, has been undergoing a very anxious time during the past twelve months. He is one of Britain's most experienced diplomats, and has served at Washington, St. Petersburg, Madrid, Tangier, and other parts of the world.

HOW KINGS SLEEP.
The Corriere della Sera of Rome, Italy, prints an interesting article on how famous millionaires sleep in palatial bedchambers, whereas the reigning monarchs of the world are simple folk in the matter of their night's rest.

NADRU-CO LAXATIVES
Are entirely different from others both in their composition and their effect—complete evacuation without purging or discomfort.

Hoome Dyeing
has no rivals for me—It is my delight.
Beware of cheap imitations.
The Hoome Dyeing Co., Montreal, Canada.

Canada's finest sugar
at its best
Your level of cleanliness will be gratified by...
Canada's Sugar Refining Company, Limited, Montreal.

LITTLE VICTIMS OF ST. VITUS DANCE
The most common among children of the school age...
SUFFERED 2 MONTHS WITH HEMORRHOIDS
Began with Itching Sensation...
Entirely Cured in 6 Weeks