THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
INTERNATIONAL LESSON, MARCH 2.
God's covenant with Abraham, Gen. 15, 17, 18. Golden text, Heb. 10, 13.

Verse 1. After these things—After the warlike expedition of Abram rescuing Lot and the king of Sodom from the four kings of the East, and the subsequent incident in which Melchizedek, king of Salem, plays such an important part as priest-king before Jehovah, God Most High.

Thy shield—A pitched battle had taken place in which Abram, with a small company, had been victorious over a greater army. He is now given the assurance that Jehovah will continue to be his protection.

Returning from the rescue of Lot, with all the booty which the invading kings had taken from the plundered cities of the plain, Abram had steadfastly refused to take so much as "a third or a sixth-latch" of the spoils for himself or his subordinates.

As inflected water is the chief cause of the high mortality in army operations, a successful apparatus of this kind must be an important advance.

Brought him forth abroad—Still in the vision of dream. Number the stars—Count them, tell how many there are. The starry sky was both evidence of the divine power and an example of what practically unnumbered.

Wherby shall I know?—He asks for some more definite pledge of the fulfillment of the oft-repeated promise. Thereupon Jehovah sends him to enter into a solemn covenant with his faithful servant.

Divided them in the midst, and laid each half over against the other—After this had been done the contracting parties passed between the divided victims, thereby symbolizing that in case the terms of the covenant be broken by either the party breaking his word is like man and not as a sacrifice.

Let the birds divide he not in Lev. 11. It is specifically commanded.
