Items of General Interest. From The Standard Files of April 5, 1888.

Another blacksmith, Mr. Bush of Meaford, is opening in McNally's establishment.
R. B. Currie, our egg dealer, is fitting up an extensive pickling establishment in Markdale.

Jeffrey Artley's windmill factory is being pushed forward with energy by Thos. Watson, contractor.
J. J. Irwin, V. S. and J. H. Carson are opening a new livery and have leased the "Trimble Stable" on Mill Street from J. M. Davis for that purpose.

The following is a continuation from last week of the names taken down by the secretary at a meeting of the "Maid of Markdale," as fit and proper subjects for the serious consideration of this much respected fraternity:
Thos. Moffat, Machinist—Will make a capital husband, very tidy in his person and home, may possibly be promised.
Charlie Lawrence, Salesman—Very popular; in fact, a choice article, "good goods are done up etc." He's a dear-boy, but must be handled carefully.

R. H. Benson, Grocer—Steady and a real gentleman; somewhat shy but has a high respect for the dear ones.
W. L. Young, Bank Cashier—An expert business man, but already spoken for.
Os. Walker, Farmer—In-lustrious and prosperous, good mark, but not in any hurry in this matter.
Jim Ritchie, Wool Manufacturer—A kind hearted, steady, enterprising young man.
John Moffat, Stove Manufacturer—Fine workman, good citizen, desirable partner.
