DURHAM

While walking along Garrafrax street on Tuesday, Mr. Geo. Watt met two hounds jogging along leisurely. Just as they were passing, they grabbed him, tore his trousers, and left quite a gash in the flesh, which required dressing. The animals appeared harmless, and their treachery was wholly unexpected.—Chronicle.

We are sorry to miss the familiar figure of Mr. Wm. Smith, Sr., of Glenelg, from church and town life. He has recently gone to reside with his daughter Annie, Mrs. Hamilton, Winterburn. For a long time now Mr. Smith has been one of the most progressive farmers. We hope in his retirement from active duties, he will find life congenial in his new sphere and find time occasionally to visit the old home and old friends.

Grinding. Becom Monday last, at the Cement Works grinding began on the pile of clinkers left from last year and before many days burning will begin also. The mill has been put in a thorough state of repair during the winter, the last touches being on the smoke stacks this week. Operations are a few days earlier this year and there is a prospect of a good season ahead.—Review.

SHELBURNE

It is understood that the 36th Regiment will go into camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake on Monday, June 16th. It should prove better than last year when they went on Monday, June 3rd, and struck some mighty cool weather.

As a result of injuries received by falling between two cars on a C.P.R. way-freight near Carley Junction, on the C.P.R. Toronto-Sudbury line, Joshua F. Reid, formerly of Shelburne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. Reid, lot 28, con. 5, Amaranth, who boarded at 49 Hook Avenue, West Toronto, was so badly injured Thursday forenoon of last week that he died on a train that was taking him to Toronto.

Airedale Dogs.—Shelburne seems to have a corner in Airedale terriers. John Mowat, on his return from Scotland, imported a high-class prize winning dog, which is considered to be a fine specimen of the breed. Before leaving for Scotland Mr. Mowat shipped a dog to St. John's, New Foundland, and has received other orders from the same place.

Last week Mr. Mowat sold a well bred Airedale to E. G. Bingham, of Orangeville, for $60. About the same time Samuel Lindsay sold his Airedale and three pups to Mr. Hudson, of Toronto, for $50.

Walter M. Borwick, who is considered an authority on Airedales, has orders in for about 20 male and female Airedales. He sold two in Shelburne recently, one to Dr. N. G. Bailey and another to Dr. C. L. Morgan.—Free Press.

Wednesday night the gentlemen's furnishings store of Mr. Thos. McAuley was burglarized and goods taken to the amount of about two hundred dollars. There is no definite clue as to who might have done the deed, but the police are of the belief that the men who they suspect of having been the perpetrators.

The formation of the canary and cage bird society a fortnight ago has given an impetus to the appreciation of the "caged songsters," and more than ever are good birds being sought after by the local fanciers. A few days ago Mr. Charles West, 1142 Fourth Ave. East, received two German Rollers, both imported birds and expensive.

Other fanciers are getting in imported and native bred birds for the purpose of having their exhibits well in shape for the annual exhibition that will be held in the course of the next nine months or so.

On Monday, the boom in the derricks which is used for fitting the blocks of cut stone used in the erection of the new public library building fell across the wall. The boom was broken and some of the stone blocks were knocked out of place but fortunately no one was injured. The stone and brickwork in the new building is nearing completion and the parapet wall will soon be finished.

Mark Toi, the Chinese laundryman, complains to his landlord that the boys molest him in his shop. Someone has been throwing stones at the building. Fire destroyed a dwelling in the western suburbs of the village a little before the noon hour, Wednesday, the property of R. Wade and occupied by Ed. Vanalstine. The fire originated in the roof, near the chimney, and was too far advanced to check the flames when noticed by a neighbor. Mr. Vanalstine was sleeping inside the room when alarmed by the neighbor. The fire brigade went out from the village, but could do nothing. The contents were mostly saved. We understand there was no insurance.

On Tuesday evening of last week Joe Sewell, a Home boy, who has lived several years with Andrew Wiltshire, 14th Concession, Protton, disappeared without leaving any clue as to his intentions. Mr. Wiltshire has been searching the country and on Monday of last week located the lost boy at D. McPhail's at Ceylon. The Home was notified and an official from the Institution took the lad away with him on Tuesday. The boy had a good home at Mr. Wiltshire's and was well liked and given every opportunity to get along, but he evidently took some foolish notion into his head to gain some further experience in life. Boys of this ilk take these notions, but regret it afterwards.—Herald.

The friends of Mr. C. Jourdan, the young man who mysteriously disappeared weeks ago, are loath to believe that all trace of the young man is forever obliterated, and are making strenuous efforts to find the body. On Sunday morning last a professional dynamiter undertook to set off several charges of explosives both in the river near Moore's dam and the harbor front, under the expectation that should the body of the young man be in the water the disturbance would cause it to rise to the surface. Nothing, however, came of his efforts, and the finding of Jourdan either dead or alive appears as far off as ever.—Mirror.

Accuracy Essential at Sales. A case of somewhat general interest, as it should go far in dispelling the popular idea that anything goes at an auction sale, was tried before His Honor Judge Jameson at the regular session of the Drayton Division Court. From the judgment handed out it would seem that there must be absolute accuracy in all statements made at auction sales if the proprietor is to be free from future liabilities. In the case referred to, Mr. George French of Peel Tp. was the plaintiff and George Giles, of Maryborough the defendant. French, it seemed, purchased a cow at an auction sale believing her to be in calf, for which he paid $12. The cow, however, proved not to be the case and he therefore sued Giles, the proprietor of the sale, for $10, the amount which he claimed the cow had depreciated in value as a result. The plaintiff won the case, being awarded the $10, in full. Giles in defending his case showed that he had both in his sale bills and in the newspaper advertising stated clearly that the cows were supposed to be with calf. However, the plaintiff had not seen either the sale bills or the advertising in the paper. He had seen only the card on the cow at the sale, on which her number and the word "May," which he had taken as warranty that she was due in May. The judge agreed with the plaintiff that the number card on which the word supposed did not appear was sufficient warranty to make the defendant liable for damages and he gave his judgment accordingly. Mr. J. M. Keatts, of Arthur, acted for the plaintiff.

$14,000,000 Tunnel. THROUGH KICKING HORSE PASS. It Will Be Sixteen Miles in Length, and Will Take Seven Years to Construct.

The C.P.R. will spend fourteen million dollars on a tunnel through Kicking Horse Pass of the Rocky Mountains.

The tunnel will take seven years in building, being sixteen miles long, four miles longer than Simplon tunnel through the Alps.

Its eastern portal will be in Alberta and the western in British Columbia. The tunnel will reduce the trackage five miles and do away with many miles of dangerous snow sheds.

Improvements under way and proposed will make the Canadian Pacific main line three hundred miles shorter than any other transcontinental line on the continent.

The company are also planning to eliminate the Rockies altogether for rail commerce. They propose to have three, and possibly four main lines to the coast. The first by the present main line; the second, the new cut-off via Souris; the third through Saskatchewan and Edmonton, through one of the northern passes to a northern Pacific coast port.

The Soo line will probably be run to Nelson over the regular Canadian Pacific tracks, and then diverted to Portland.

E. J. O'Callaghan, of Arthur, has been appointed by the Ontario Government police magistrate for that village, to succeed the late George Hudson.

FLESHERTON

(Special to The Standard.)

The bad news was received here last week of the death of Mr. Herbert Strain, who passed away at his late home in Great Falls, Ont., on Thursday, April 10th, in his 49th year. After a very impressive funeral service the remains were laid in a vault in the Highland cemetery, Great Falls. The deceased, who was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Strain, was born at Flesherton on August 27th, 1864. He received his education here and early in life entered upon commercial life. In 1890 he commenced business in Great Falls, where he met with much success. Referring to him, the Great Falls Tribune says: "The passing of Mr. Strain takes from the business activities of Great Falls one of the city's most interesting characters; forcible, ambitious and successful to a remarkable degree, ever active in that which promised the betterment of the city, and an earnest advocate of the principles and policies which he believed would work to the upbuilding and development of the whole North-west country." He was a man of sterling integrity, his generous heart, strong character and sturdy independence made him a very useful member of Society. His death is regretted by his old friends here, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. Mr. Strain was married in 1889 to Miss Sarah Abrams, who survives with four children, Clara, David, William Russell, Arthur and Gertrude. Three brothers and four sisters also survive him.

After the service the ladies served tea in the school room of the church and a very cordial reception was given the new minister and his family. Mr. Alex. Carruthers was elected delegate from the joint congregations to the Pre-Assembly Congress at Toronto in June.

There was a large congregation at the Presbyterian church on Sunday to hear Rev. Mr. McVicar, whose inaugural sermon was based on John 12:31—"Who is this Son of Man?" Mr. McVicar is a pleasing speaker and his thoughtful, earnestly delivered discourse made a very favorable impression.

Chi-Namel Demonstration AT THE CHI-NAMEL STORE WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY APRIL 23 and 24

We have the sales agency for the line of all-purpose varnish, which is so far ahead of any varnish that has ever been sold in this community, that we particularly desire an early opportunity to show its good points to some member of every household in our business district.

What we want you to know about this wonderful varnish is something that cannot be told; but we can show you in a very few minutes that you get more for your money every time by using Chi-Namel Varnish for floors, woodwork, furniture, or anything about the house on which varnish is used.

This varnish is furnished in the natural color and also in a full variety of colors. It can be hammered and boiled without showing any signs of abuse. An amateur can apply it to large surfaces and get just as smooth a finish as a professional finisher—no spaps, no brush marks, no blotches to make a patchy appearance.

You will thank us for this invitation after you have come to know all about it.

Other features we want to show you are the Chi-Namel Ready-to-Use Graining Process, by which you can cover all blemishes in your old floors and make them any color you wish, and also produce the grain of oak or other woods.

Old carpets can be made into rugs and a new hardwood border will take the place of the ugly flooring at a cost of but 2c per square foot.

We will gladly explain all these features at our store if you give us the opportunity.

Nagging Wives.

The Owen Sound Herald treats its readers to a suggestive article on the sad tragedy of the murder, for which Henry Lay is to be hanged by the gallows on May 27. The Herald attributes the sole cause to nagging by his wife.

There is no suggestion of the possibility of the woman's nagging undoubtedly did not, in fact, though there is no exception of the unfortunate man who nagged the foul murder, yet from the point of view of the woman, whom the law must rest the entire blame. It is certainly no pleasant task to write bitter things against an unfortunate criminal condemned to die. We would much rather sympathize him to try and forget his past and prepare for the great near future, but those reflections upon the woman that was done to her, are so unmanly and unfair should not go unchallenged.

The facts brought out at the trial were that his unfortunate woman, with a husband in the prime of life and with a bright physique, had to do duty in other homes to help support their small family, and she had to do her own work as best she could late at night when she should have been resting, and that her husband was at home before she had poisoned the atmosphere she had to breathe with fumes of tobacco. If her work from home was made necessary by her husband's thriftlessness, then her own earnings were paying for the offensive odors forced upon her. Poor creature, why could she not have said "those conditions, full right, so as to make her home tranquil. The soothing influence of tobacco smoke could make the husband forget all his wife's suffering, while it only intensified and aggravated the suffering condition of her whom he had promised to
