H. Mercer & Son

Hello, Central!

'Give me Mr. Jones. Hello, Jones, say, I want you to meet me at Thomas & Bassett's. I know you have a Karn Piano; how do you like it? Well, say, there is nothing better, and I will meet you at their store. My wife is going to buy a Sewing Machine, and we know they handle good goods. Yes, I am going to buy a Gasoline Engine from them, too. And say, they handle the Capital Separator, which is a winner, and if you want a Thrashing outfit they handle the goods you should have. 'Allright, Mr. Jones, we will go at once; be sure and meet me there.'

Having entered into a partnership business for Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Cream Separators, Gasoline Engines, Thrashing Outfits, etc., with fair dealing we hope to get a good share of public patronage. Come and see us before buying.

Osler's New Specific.

Of importance to the world at large is Sir William Osler's discovery of a new medical specific. This specific is unique, because it will give rise to no controversy. The famous medical man explains his discovery as follows: 'My method in life is the freshest, oldest, simplest and usefulest. Forget the past, forget the future. Touch a button that will shut off the past and another that will shut off the future, and you will have a vaccine that will insure you against all morbid thoughts. When the load of yesterday many men fall on the way. Some day science may discover a vaccine that may be scratched in to the head of a patient to keep him from brooding and worry. It is badly needed. Worry is a bad disease and all efforts directed towards its prevention or cure have so far been fruitless. No man has yet isolated the germ of worry. Dr. Osler is a distinguished scientist and yet he can offer nothing but the usual advice for this disease. His advice is harder to take than his pills would be.'

What He Came For.

What do you think of a real estate man getting the worst of it? This just proves that he can be made down—but he had to get himself every one else. His name was Roberts. For quite a while he had been between real estate and green goods, but finally he decided to real estate as being easier. So he took an agency for a subdivision in Toronto. These was a tiny building on the property, in which he established his office. Three days did he wait for a customer—but none came. Finally, on a beautiful morning, there hove in sight one whom he felt positive was going to give a most satisfactory field in picking. He immediately got busy to impress the customer. He got the telephone receiver down, and just as the customer entered the door the real estate man started to talk into the phone. 'Well, all right, then. You can have that corner lot for ten thousand and down, and I will let the balance on a three year, seven per cent mortgage. What? All right, at the Bank of Toronto at five o'clock.' He hung up the receiver, and then pretending to see the customer for the first time, said 'Oh, hello! How do you do? What can I do for you this morning?' 'I came over to connect up your telephone.'
