Beautiful Ontario!

There is nothing like the finished state of England or of the pleasant land of France in any portion of Ontario or even in the Annales Valley of Nova Scotia. But during the new world of a sovereign prospect than great prosperity of the central and West inns of this Province in the one goes by train or motor through wide green fields, or small villages, with long avenues of trees, across many miles of rolling country, with patches of beaches and there is no hand to understand why there is such a steady movement of people to the west. We seem to be losing the sense of content and the love of civilization becomes a frightening thought. Nothing satisfies but some new thing. Could not most workmen find happier lives in the smaller industrial towns, rear their children under more health conditions, and build better houses than in the congested and crowded cities? One wonders why thousands still leave the city for the West. Today they are as rich returns from agriculture in this Province, with all the comforts and advantages of a set and orderly civilization. Not even the roads are bad enough to drive so many people out of Ontario. One also hears far more commonly than old, strange dialects and tongues in the towns and villages and even in the structural sections. The old Canada is passing away and a new land comes with a far more complex civilization and far graver social problems than we have known.
Steadily death claims the generations that made our institutions and many new elements and new forces are here to modify the national structure and test the foundations on which it rests.—To Now.

One of the fastest games of baseball ever pulled off on the Kimberley diamond was played on Saturday evening last between our local team and Heathcote. The Heathcote aggregation were three runs in the lead at the end of the second inning. Graham, who relieved Boiler in the third innings, saved the day. The Heathcote bunch couldn't connect with his speedy slants, and man after man batted the ozone. When the smoke of the battle cleared away the score stood 16-8 in favor of the local squad, with an innning to spare.
Mr. Whately, of Thorburn, referred ental home here.

What might have been a serious incident happened on Thursday evening last while Mr. Harold Beaumont and his sisters were going home from the practice for the picnic. While going over the hill behind the church a heavy flash of lightning frightened the team, which bolted over the ditch at the side of the road and onto the bank, upsetting the democrat and its load of children, and started off at a lively pace. Harold, who long to the lines was taken along for a couple of rods on the hard ground when he had to let go his hold. The hind wheel was wrenched from the rim where the incident happened, and other parts were scattered along the road. The team turned the corner on 12 and 13 sidewalk toward their old home where they were found later, one wheel shorn faster and the other standing over him. One of the horses was badly scratched up.
Fortunately the occupants of the carriage off without any injury except a bad scare and the impatience of having to walk nearly two miles home.

It was with feelings of regret that the citizens of this community learned of the demise of Mrs.
Shore, who passed away at her home in Markdale last week. Mrs.
Shore was one of the first pioneers of this vicinity, and ever an active philanthropist. We join in extending our sincerest sympathy to the surviving relatives and friends.

A large number from this vicinity attended the "night of supreme delight" at Beaverdale on Wednesday evening last. A feature of the occasion was a football match between Beaverdale and Riverdale which resulted in a glorious victory for the latter. Mr. G. Thomson, Scotch comic, was the entertaining star of the evening, and captivated the audience on every appearance. Mr. Henry Burns also rendered several delightful vocal selections.

ringing on Stone's Line.

Mr. Frank Cairns and Mr. Jas.
Sargeant returned Saturday from Guelph.

Our smithy looks somewhat depressed the last few days. He no longer wears that tailor-made smile.
But as the Railroad as well as the mail service are of first class character here, we sincerely hope he'll soon revive. Why distance lends enchantment to the view."
