The brass band is quite liberal this season, so far, and their evening contributions on the public streets are much appreciated by the citizens. We trust the boys will be remembered in a practical manner when the opportunity presents itself.

Our brass band serenaded Mr. James Bell and family last Tuesday evening at his fine commodious brick residence at Bell's Lake. The boys were hospitably received and enjoyed a pleasant time till the "wee sma' ours" in the morning and the treasury of the band was enriched to the extent of $6 for which Mr. Bell has the warmest thanks of the boys.

The line fence runs along a steep hill side and the stakes on the upper side had become loose, while those on the lower side were firmly imbedded. The rider rail was a heavy stout one and in reaching across the fence it gave way down hill and threw her about fifteen feet, bursting her innards. When found she was dead. Mr. Williams had refused $200 for her more than once.

Zion's picnic on Saturday was a grand success. The day was a beautiful one, the place most suitable, the crowd of two hundred and fifty were good mixers, drawn from all parts of the township, in a score from Egrement and a number from Holland. The program was bright and varied, the tea brewed by Mother Ross extra strong, the edibles up to the standard, and the races were hotly contested. A big game of baseball wound up a most successful day. The booth did a rushing trade. Proceeds were about $46.
